Best Brookline Eleven In Years Downs Newton 20-6 In Annual Classic

Accurate Passing Brings Scores At End of Two Long Marches—Flagg To Beatty Pass
Saves Newton From Shutout

The strongest football eleven that has worn the colors of Brookline High School in years trounced Newton High 20-6 in the annual classic yesterday morning at Brookline field. A gallant, ever-battling Newton team yielded slowly to the overpowering offense of the Red and Blue.

The outcome of the Turkey Day contest between the two rivals was definitely settled in the opening period. The Wealthy Towners kicked off and regained possession of the ball on a Newton kick when the orange and black failed to gain against the Brookline frontier. Brookline was 70 yards from the last white stripe when it began its march. A series of four first downs pushed Newton back to its own 20-yard marker. The outstanding gain of this march was the only forward pass attempted, a 12 yard advance on a Frank Kelly to Bill Kirahe. At the 20-yard stripe Newton held for three downs, yielding but six yards. Taking to the air again the first of three Brookline Kellies spun a perfect toss into the arms of George Melville, speeding away from the Newton secondary right at the goal line. Ed Nixon, a consistent place-kick booter, converted the point.

Newton could get no farther than its own 45-yard line following the next kickoff and again punted into Brookline territory. Starting from its own 15 yard mark consistent plugging by Vin Leahy and co-captain Bob Carroll brought the ball to the 40-yard mark. Then Frank Kelly got away on a sensational round through his own left tackle, cutting into the Newton left secondary to dodge his way to the Newton 20-yard line where he was downed on the final play of the period.

When play was resumed Newton had again found itself defensively held and the Downes-tutored outfit. A few plays later Leahy recovered a Newton fumble to give his mates another shot from the 30 yard mark. Advancing to the 25 Newton again

School Committee Against Using Old Franklin School

The Newton School Committee on Monday night voted against the proposed use of the 68-year-old Franklin School on River st., West Newton, as quarters for the vocational department of the Newton Trade School. This department is now located at the Hamilton School on Grove st., Lower Falls, and residents of that section have been demanding that the classes of the vocational school be located elsewhere. The suggestion was made that the old school on River st. be used for the vocational department pupils, and Mayor Childs approved of the idea. He stated that he would be willing to make a recommendation for an appropriation to make repairs on the old school so that it might be used. The River st. building was condemned several years ago by the School as unfit for continued school use, and it has been supplanted by a new school on Derby st. near Cherry street.

The School Committee was informed by Buildings Commissioner Campbell that it would cost $6200 to repair the old school building. Supt. of Schools Warren stated that it would cost $1800 to move machinery from the Hamilton to the old Franklin School, and $1741 additionally annually for maintenance of the old school. A special committee will be appointed to consider the objections made by certain Lower Falls residents to the presence of the vocational school pupils in the Hamilton School. This committee will include Supt. of Schools Warren, Committee Member Knowlton of Ward 4, teachers at the Vocational Department, and members of the Lower Falls Improvement Association.

Hoffman Inquiries About WPA Cost To City of Newton

Alderman Carroll Hoffman of Ward 6, who is one of the most insistent advocates of economy in the Board of Aldermen, moved at the meeting of the Board on Monday night that a special committee of three be appointed to confer with Harold Young, sponsor's agent for the city on WPA projects, relative to a study of this city's expenditures on such projects. Hoffman's motion was the result of a recommendation on the docket from Mayor Childs that $2000 be appropriated for WPA administrative expenses. Hoffman asserted that the Aldermen have not been obtaining adequate information relative to these administrative expenses. Hoffman said that the money may have been spent wisely and properly, but the Aldermen have not been given adequate information. He commented that the Board goes over appropriations asked for city departments with a fine-tooth comb, but has not been giving sufficient attention to the appropriations asked for WPA administrative expenses. He said that the total amount appropriated this year by the city (including the $2000 asked for) would be $32,000, a large increase over that of 1937.

Alderman Fahey agreed with Hoffman. He said that he had been a member of the Board for 3 years and had not been able to get much information about WPA expenditures. Alderman Colby also concurred with Hoffman. Alderman McKay, chairman of the Finance Committee, explained that part of the increase was caused by rental of a factory at West Newton to make curbing for sidewalks, part by expansion of "white-collar" projects and part by the investigations which required the registering of all persons on WPA lists. McKay informed the Board that he had talked on the telephone with Mr. Young, WPA sponsor's agent, who was unable to be at the meeting because of illness, and that $500 would be sufficient to care for the expenses of the WPA administration here until the first meeting in December. The Board voted to appropriate the $500, with Hoffman dissenting.

Chest Campaign Funds Climb Toward Goal

More Than 92% Reported On Wednesday Night

Subscriptions to the Newton Community Chest Campaign were climbing slowly but surely this week. Total contributions on Wednesday were $184,479 or 92.4 per cent of the $199,605 goal. Campaign officials are confident that the goal will be achieved during the next ten days.

Wm. V. M. Fawcett, Campaign Chairman, asked solicitors to complete the coverage of all prospect cards within the next week. "We know," he said, "from a careful check of the outstanding cards that our goal can be won if those who have not yet given will do their share. Campaign solicitors still have a clean-up job to do. I hope that all those who have not yet given to the campaign will respond quickly and generously."

The standing of the villages this week was as follows: Auburndale, 91.3; Chestnut Hill, 92.4; Newton, 89.5; Newton Centre, 94.6; Newton Highlands, 97.8; Newton Lower Falls, 122.6; Newton Upper Falls, 90.2; Newtonville, 91.1; Nonantum, 132.6; Oak Hill, 101; Waban, 98.9; Waban Hill, 83.2; West Newton, 91.9.

Following its practice of past years the Social Service Index of the Newton Community Council is operating a Holiday Clearing House for Thanksgiving baskets again this year. Churches, social-service agencies and other civic organizations check the names of all who are to receive these baskets through the index. In this way duplication is avoided and it is made much more certain that needy families receive baskets. It is expected that 150 baskets will be distributed this week.

Refuse Pool Room Permit Next To Branch Library

The petition of Orazio Pannagio for a transfer of his poolroom license from 413 Watertown st., Nonantum, to 134 Adams st., was refused by the Board of Aldermen on last Monday night after Alderman Fahey, chairman of the Licenses Committee had stated that the assistant librarian in charge of the Nonantum branch library, had objected to the transfer because it would cause the poolroom to be next door to the library, and there might be objectionable noise.

The Street Traffic Committee caused two new traffic regulations to be passed. One extends the one-hour parking limit on Washington st., Newtonville, east to Central ave. Persons commuting to Boston have been using this part of the Newtonville business section for all-day garaging of their cars. A "Stop" sign was authorized at the dangerous entrance of Derby st. onto Cherry st., West Newton. Several collisions have occurred at this spot.

Bailey Executive Secretary of Tax Payers In Newton

Charles B. Jones, president of the Newton Taxpayers' Association, announces the appointment of Charles E. Bailey for the Executive Secretaryship of the Association. Mr. Bailey has been a resident and taxpayer in Newton for many years and comes to the responsible duties of his office with a valuable background of experience. A Navy man during the war; later was called upon to assist in relief and reconstruction work in the Near East where he spent nearly two years as officer in charge of transportation and quartermaster

The hearings which have been held before Alexander Lincoln, who was appointed by the Supreme Court to sit as a master and obtain testimony on the case of Bart Cullen, who is endeavoring to be re-instated as Sergeant-Mechanic in the Newton police department, were concluded this week. The hearings started over a month ago and many members of the Newton Board of Aldermen were called to testify at the hearings which were held in the court house at East Cambridge. Cullen, through his attorney, Francis X. Hurley, seeks to show that the Aldermen did not act in good faith when they abolished his position on July 1 by their action in refusing to appropriate money for the continuance of the office after that date. The Aldermen contended that the office was unnecessary, and abolished it in the interest of economy.

The first member of the Board called was Henderson Inches, chairman of the special committee appointed to investigate the official duties of the sergeant-mechanic. This committee reported that Cullen's services in the office were not needed, and recommended that the office be discontinued. Inches testified that Mayor Childs and the committee conferred on Jan. 31 of this year, and the Mayor was told that as a result of an investigation by the City Solicitor, charges should be preferred against Cullen. Inches testified that the Mayor replied that the committee was wrong, and

Reception To Newton Centre Pastor Tonight

Dr. and Mrs. Chas. N. Arbuckle
Honored For Twenty Years Service

To mark the twentieth anniversary of the beginning of his ministry in Newton Centre, members of the First Baptist Church in Newton have sent out invitations to a reception in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Charles N. Arbuckle. Hundreds of members of the church and other friends are expected to be present at the reception, which will be held tonight in the Chapel of the church at eight.

For the occasion, the Chapel has been attractively decorated with flowers and a delightful musical program has been arranged. Mr. F. Nelson Lane will sing and young ladies from the New England Conservatory of Music will provide orchestral music. The committee of parishioners who have planned the occasion, also have arranged for the serving of refreshments.

As leaders of one of the oldest and largest Baptist churches in New England for a score of years, Dr. and Mrs. Arbuckle have endeared themselves to their parishioners, and served their denomination and community most generously. For several years Dr. Arbuckle has been a member of the Board of Fellows of Brown University, from which he received the honorary degree of D.D. He is also a member of the faculty of the Andover-Newton Theological School, and one of the Board of Managers of the American Baptist Publication Society. Outstanding among his many interests has been his devotion to work among young people. He has been invited often to occupy New England college pulpits.

Mrs. Arbuckle has contributed much to community affairs in Newton Centre and has served on the Boston Student Y. W. C. A. Board.

At the reception tonight President Everett C. Herrick of the Andover-Newton Theological School will say a few words in appreciation of Dr. and Mrs. Arbuckle. Dr. Edward E. Sullivan, rector of Trinity Church of Newton Centre, will speak in behalf of the churches of the community.

Those serving on the committees that are planning the occasion are: Mr. and Mrs. Gardner C. Walworth, Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Whittinghill, Dr. and Mrs. Kirtley F. Mather, Professor and Mrs. Russell C. ## Bad Check Passer Again Arrested

Lawrence R. Joyce, formerly of 725 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre, was arrested by Boston police last Saturday on charges of larceny by worthless checks. Joyce was found guilty in the Newton court on Sept. 9 on a similar charge and sentenced to 30 days in jail. He will again be taken in custody by Newton police on charges of passing worthless checks at two Newton liquor stores.

Powers' Paragraphs

In the Boston newspapers last Friday Governor Saltonstall was quoted as commenting on the disclosures of the alleged ownership of the Dighton dog racing track by the murdered Edward O'Hare, former associate of Al Capone. Governor Saltonstall said: "In view of the recent development in Chicago, I hope and trust that the (State racing) commission will not grant any racing permits without ascertaining that ownership is limited to citizens of Massachusetts, and citizens whose reputations are above reproach." How naive is this comment of the Governor's.

We have had some Massachusetts citizens connected with dog racing contracts who have been quite prominent in the Commonwealth, but whose reputations, according to their political enemies in past years, have not been above reproach. It would be somewhat difficult to conceive of an idealist owning a dog racing track. We shall again risk the condemnation of some of our readers by advocating that the gambling urge of the people of Massachusetts be satisfied to some degree by a State lottery. Instead of the State being generally associated in a few years, with profits of horse and dog racing tracks. If this were done, the overburdened real estate owners of Massachusetts would be afforded relief from excessive taxes, and the profits derived from legalized gambling would benefit the people as a whole, instead of a small number of politicians, and racketeers. We would not have anyone cleaning up $450,000 as his share of a dog night at 8 when their car could be another reputable man in public life garnering $157,500 in one year.

Have you ever observed what a small percentage of Christmas greeting cards in recent years picture Christ or make any reference to Him, or even have any picture or reference of a religious nature? If you believe in the real significance of Christmas Day, why not purchase Christmas cards, which are appropriate. If you can't find such cards in stores you patronize, you can in other stores or shops.

On Monday night over 400 citizens of Needham attended a special meeting called by Needham Selectmen at the town hall and by a vote of 306 to 114 evidenced their sentiments against a petition received from the Boston & Worcester Street Railway for a license to run buses from Needham square to Park square, Boston. The large majority opposing the petition contended that the competition from the buses might force the New Haven Railroad to curtail its railroad service between Needham and Boston. And it was only a few months ago that an attorney for the Boston & Worcester Street Railway appeared before the Newton Board of Aldermen and strongly objected to a petition from Peter Pichler for a permit to operate through Newton a bus line between Springfield and Boston because it might possibly compete with the B. & W. buses. How consistent and unselfish is the B. & W.

During the past week two persons were hit and fatally injured by automobiles in this city. One was a young man, 24 years of age, who was not a resident of the city. The auto which hit him was driven by a non-resident. The other victim, 69 years of age, was an old resident of Newton. The car that hit him was driven by a resident of Newton. We mention this because safety drives in any city affect largely only residents of that city. There have been seven deaths caused by automobiles in Newton so far this year, in addition to the death of an aged man who was hit by the side of a car as he alighted, and died several weeks later of pneumonia. Of the eight victims, seven were pedestrians. There has been a large increase in the number of automobile fatalities in Massachusetts the past few weeks, and Registrar Goodwin is pleading for safer driving. At the same time, as we commented two weeks ago, Registrar Goodwin is, in our opinion, encouraging reckless driving by specifying 45 miles as the speed limit at night and during wet weather. If Mr. Goodwin drove himself at night, which he does not, he would specify 35 miles as the limit for night driving, and not over 30 miles in settled communities. Judges are fining persons for speeding who drive over 40 miles in daylight hours, and Mr. Goodwin continues to designate 50 miles as the speed limit days, and 45 miles at night.

The deaths of two men in this city the past week as a result of having been hit by automobiles, brought the total to seven of pedestrians killed in Newton so far this year by motor vehicles. This calls attention to the attempt made some months ago by Alderman Max Gaddis, chairman of the Street Traffic Committee of the Aldermen, to have a speed limit of 30 miles an hour set in Newton, Providence, Worcester and Springfield. In addition to many cities all over the country have established speed limits of 30 miles, and even 25 miles with great reductions resulting in a number of persons killed and injured by automobiles within their confines. Although this city has no legal right to establish a speed limit, Registrar Goodwin assured Alderman Gaddis that if Newton sets a 30 mile limit, he will co-operate as he has in the cases of Springfield and Worcester by suspending licenses of motorists who are reported by the police as having exceeded that speed.

Speed limits are strictly enforced not only in Providence but in all cities and towns in Rhode Island and no hardships have been worked on motorists in the State. Neither would any hardships be imposed on motorists in Newton or other parts of Massachusetts if a 30 mile limit were enforced in thickly settled communities. The saving of human lives, the prevention of economic hardships and grief to those related to victims of automobiles is of much more import than catering to the male and female show-offs who deem it necessary to drive with reckless abandon.

The Right Honorable Alfred Duff Cooper who has been touring this country to mold public opinion in favor of Great Britain, spoke at Symphony Hall, Boston on Tuesday night. His Lordship and his wife, the former Lady Diana Manners, were greeted by the ultra-conservative order calling for the muzzling and restraining for 30 days of two dogs owned by Mrs. Mary Johnson of Grove st., Auburndale; said dogs being reported to have been bitten by a mad dog. Alderman Childs said he did not believe in muzzling dogs unless they had been actually bitten, for nothing makes a man or dog so mad as to be muzzled. If there was any danger, however, he would not oppose the petition.

The hearing on the petition of the Salvation Army for a permit to build barracks opposite S. F. Cate's stables on Washington st., West Newton, brought a number of remonstrances before the Aldermen on Monday night. W. H. Rand said that when the army first came they applied for Good Templars' Hall and it was leased to them, but the audience at the first meeting held in that hall left it in such a disgusting state, that they were refused longer use of it and went to Allen's Hall, where they have since been a great nuisance to the neighbors, and to everyone passing along the street in the evening, because of the crowd of hoodlums that surround that hall and sidewalk, and the noise made by the army. The parades are also a nuisance to the societies that meet in West Newton, the Odd Fellows having had their devotion exercises broken up by the noise made by the paraders, and the churches had to suspend services until the motley crowd following the army had passed. He said the army had outlived its usefulness in West Newton, and that their marchings on streets should be forbidden.

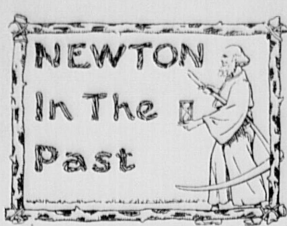

To the Editor of the Graphic: I hear that Mr. C. C. Barton, the chairman of the School Committee, has been renominated for the School Board. If reports are correct, he has so little confidence in the results of his management of the High School, that he sends his sons to a private school. Would it not be better to have for chairman a man, who in this manner does not cast a reflection upon our high school?

"Inquirer."

Following are the resolutions passed by the Citizens Convention—"Whereas: At a meeting of citizens of Newton, irrespective of party, in convention assembled, be it Resolved: That we favor an economical city government, carefully administered in the interest of no political party, but for the best interests of all citizens of Newton; that while we believe in economy as far as is consistent with good public service, we view with surprise and alarm the recent efforts to again increase the pay of salaried officials, bearing in mind the fact that the city of Newton will soon be called upon to appropriate hundreds of thousands of dollars for a system of sewerage, and for high pressure water service. Resolved: That we are opposed to the increasing valuation of real estate for the purpose of lowering the rate of taxation. That we demand the city remove all offal and night soil by its own public service."

Newton was visited by professional housebreakers at an early hour on Monday morning. Seven houses were entered, but the thieves were not successful in capturing a large amount of booty. Entrance was generally effected by the use of clippers.

55 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, Nov. 22, 1884
Winter is beginning early.

The tunnel under the B. & A. tracks opposite Channing st., Newton, will be built before many months, as the Aldermen passed an order this week for the contract.

The oldest inhabitant can't remember a city election where there was so little preliminary talk. There are scarcely any slates fixed, and there will be a clear field for work at the caucuses on Saturday night.

The Registrars of Voters have just added two names to the voting lists; one man and one woman. About 75 women are registered, and any woman who has paid her taxes may appear tomorrow afternoon or evening before the Registrars at City Hall and register to vote for the School Committee.

Newton Democrats of both the straight and mugwump varieties laid themselves out on Thursday night celebrating the victory in the recent Presidential election. The night was a perfect one for the illumination, being clear and still, while the new fallen snow enhanced the beauty of the fireworks and illuminations. Two cannon from Battery A were stationed one on Waban Hill, and the other on West Newton Hill, and a salute of 100 guns was fired. Large bonfires blazed on Mount Ida, Nonantum Hill, Institution Hill, and West Newton Hill, and at Newtonville square. Fireworks were set off profusely and there was a Fourth of July flavor. The most elaborate display of fireworks was at John S. Farlow's estate on Waverley ave.

Processions of young men marched over the streets at Newton and Lower Falls carrying brooms and torches.

The citizens committee will issue a call for a mass caucus of all who believe in non-partisan government in Newton. It will be held at City Hall on Friday evening to nominate candidates for Mayor, Aldermen, Common Council and School Committee.

Cate's stables on Washington st., West Newton, brought a number of remonstrances before the Aldermen on Monday night. W. H. Rand said that when the army first came they applied for Good Templars' Hall and it was leased to them, but the audience at the first meeting held in that hall left it in such a disgusting state, that they were refused longer use of it and went to Allen's Hall, where they have since been a great nuisance to the neighbors, and to everyone passing along the street in the evening, because of the crowd of hoodlums that surround that hall and sidewalk, and the noise made by the army. The parades are also a nuisance to the societies that meet in West Newton, the Odd Fellows having had their devotion exercises broken up by the noise made by the paraders, and the churches had to suspend services until the motley crowd following the army had passed. He said the army had outlived its usefulness in West Newton, and that their marchings on streets should be forbidden.

To the Editor of the Graphic: I hear that Mr. C. C. Barton, the chairman of the School Committee, has been renominated for the School Board. If reports are correct, he has so little confidence in the results of his management of the High School, that he sends his sons to a private school. Would it not be better to have for chairman a man, who in this manner does not cast a reflection upon our high school?

Resolved: That we are opposed to the increasing valuation of real estate for the purpose of lowering the rate of taxation. That we demand the city remove all offal and night soil by its own public service."

College News

By GEORGE W. HUTCHINGS, N.H.S. 39

Greetings, readers! Another recent graduate of Newton High has achieved prominence in the field of public speaking. William Irving Stark, Jr., of 51 Caroline Park, Waban, was awarded first prize in the annual Prize Speaking Contest held at Bowdoin College before an audience of nearly one hundred persons. Bill rendered "The Unknown Soldier" by Harry Emerson Fosdick with such finesse that his selection over the other eight contestants was unanimous. The contest was open to any member of the three lower classes at Bowdoin. DeAlva S. Alexander, Bowdoin '70, established the Prize Fund in 1905, and it is indeed an occasion when a freshman is adjudged the winner. In his first two years at Newton, High, Bill won the Prize Speaking Contests, so that his current fame is merely the continuance of a prominent beginning.

Dramatics were also an important part of his high school life, as his membership and activities in the Drama Club attested. Elected president of this illustrious organization, he responded with starring performances in "A Midsummer Night's Dream" and "Tovarich." Numerous school functions were honored by Bill's presence as a singer; his splendid deep voice doing full justice to such songs as "The Road to Mandalay." His other activities consisted of participation in the Camera Club, Junior Forum, and Legislature. At Bowdoin, Bill is a member of Theta Delta Chi fraternity, and is looked upon as a member of the freshman class likely to carve out an enviable record on both the speaking and dramatic stages.

From another of the Maine colleges, Colby, we learn that Ruth K. Gould, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy B. Gould of 26 Oxford rd., Newton Centre, has been chosen to the Women's Staff of the "Echo," the Colby College newspaper. Ruth's selection as Women's Editor is just one more honor in her busy career, since she has been amazingly active in college clubs, both curricular and otherwise. At Newton High it was much the same story—many things attempted; many things accomplished. She was elected into the National Honor Society in her senior year in recognition of three years on the Scholarship Roll. Ruth also participated in the Drama Club, Girl's Gym Meet, Alpha Beta Club, and English Club, serving as vice-president of the latter. One might think her a typical committee woman because of her membership to the Prize-Speaking, Senior Play Costume, Ticket, Picture, and Senior Banquet Decorating Committees. Even with these diversified interests, Ruth found time to work on the "Newtonite" and "Newtonian," and it seems that this interest for the journalistic has grown rather than dwindled. It will be interesting to note in June whether Ruth's record at Colby has surpassed that which she assembled at Newton High.

Barbara Levine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Levine of 60 Centre st., Newton Centre, appeared as Elizabeth Wright in "The Dance Macabre," one of six plays presented by sophomore students of the Drama at Emerson College. Barbara was a member of the Drama Club for three years at Newton High. About forty students made up the casts for the six plays were directed by Professor Gertrude Binley Kay, head of the Drama department. The ultimate aim of Barbara's study is an A.B. degree, but the acting experience being compounded will be of valuable assistance in the years ahead. Last year she appeared in several pantomime productions which the Emerson students gave.

Eleven Brown University freshmen were awarded entrance premiums as winners of special examinations held this fall. Professor Lawton P. G. Peckham, chairman of the university's committee on prizes and premiums, reported recently. The awards were in recognition of outstanding secondary school work. The Second Hartshorn Premium in Mathematics was awarded to Allen H. Schoop, son of Mr. Lucile H. Schoop of 6 Vaughn ave., Newton Highlands. Allen attended Brookline High School where he received the Holtzer award in electricity, was president and treasurer of the Science Club, and was on the yearbook staff.

"The Simmons News," weekly newspaper of Simmons College, recently chose its staff for the current year.

Weighing in Public

It pleases me that there are so many opportunities to ascertain one's weight. The fact that these scales are set up almost everywhere we go—railroad stations, subway, drug stores and numerous other places—is of no personal benefit to me from a financial point, but I am glad to see them nevertheless. I am not concerned so much with the weight of members of the human race, exclusive of myself, as I am with their behavior in the presence of a weighing machine.

Let a group of men and women approach the scales at the suggestion of some member of the party and one of the women is certain to say, "Oh, I don't want to get weighed." Whether she desires to be urged or is really disinclined I cannot tell. I know that she finally yields with, "Well, I'm sure I'm overweight and I don't see why you make me do this!"

Amid much laughing, weights are finally determined all around. Then come alibis. "Those scales can't be right," says the woman who has found too many pounds to her credit or discredit. "I don't believe they're ever tested, or whatever it is. They don't scale long use of it and went to Allen's Hall, where they have since been a great nuisance to the neighbors, and to everyone passing along the street in the evening, because of the crowd of hoodlums that surround that hall and sidewalk, and the noise made by the army. The parades are also a nuisance to the societies that meet in West Newton, the Odd Fellows having had their devotion exercises broken up by the noise made by the paraders, and the churches had to suspend services until the motley crowd following the army had passed. ding myself. Guess I'll wait and get the views of others before I try it.

Serving Sardines

There is not the slightest objection as far as I am concerned to the eating of sardines as a substitute for turkey or any other dish. It probably doesn't interest anybody but myself but sardines are merely sardines to me and nothing more. If there was preferential voting on the subject they would not be even as near as third choice on my ballot. Be that as it may, I didn't bring the matter up to express my views on sardines beyond the statement they have their rights and are entitled to respect. My reason for starting this is that I saw where the Governor of Maine ate them at a public banquet from the can in which they were originally packed. Is that the way to get the best eating value from a sardine? I always supposed they were to be put on a plate and served with a section of lemon. Only at picnics have I seen sardines eaten from the can and then because there were no dishes to spare. There is nothing to prevent me from learning for myself whether they taste better in the can. I may try, if I can get around to it. The fact is, there are so many more interesting foods in sight, particularly at this season, that I think I'll postpone sardines until I am forced to devour them.

Locating Missing Pets

Concerning household pets to which this column has made reference there is just a word to be added providing the readers' patience holds out. When a pet disappears there is a natural desire to recover it without delay. It is well to ask the aid of the police, agencies like the Animal Rescue League and M. S. P. C. A. and also to consult children. I am informed that by questioning youngsters whose eyes are sharp and memories first class, much is often gleaned about missing dogs and cats. That's a good tip to remember. Furthermore, having aroused the animal societies, the police and others, it is only fair to them, if the pet is recovered, to notify all of them. These officials tell me that frequently people forget to call up and say the animal has returned. It doesn't inspire an official to be informed, when he calls up with, "I think we may have your dog," to be bluntly told, "O, he came back all right."

Getting Best Seats

How many would have the courage of the young woman who figures in this incident? She had purchased tickets for a matinee performance at a large theatre, having obtained them at an agency. They were undesirable, considering the high price she paid. Proceeding to the theatre she went to the man at the box office, just as if she had no tickets, and asked if he could give her seats in the best location. He replied that he could and produced them. "There," said the young lady, "are three very poor ones which you may have in exchange." The box-office man was dumfounded, which is an unusual state for any ticket-seller to be found in, but of fered no protest.

Rubber Caution Sign for Speeders

Last Friday Mechanic Bert Stuart of the Newton Street Department installed a device on Washington st., opposite Bacon st. for the purpose of slowing down motorists who drive around the corner of Hall st. at dangerous speeds. It is a flexible sign made of heavy rubber and on which is painted the word "Slow." It is about 15 inches wide and 6 inches high and is attached to a metal frame which is held to the street by expansion bolts. Some drivers who see the apparent metal obstacle veer sharply to the left to avoid it. Others slow down to minimize the expected jolt, only to find that the obstacle bends backwards. This type of caution signal has been used with success in the West.

stores, including duties which placed him in direct charge of several thousand men engaged in building roads, hospitals, and homes. He has travelled extensively in North and South America, Europe, Africa, and Asia; has been an executive and vice president of one of the leading international tourist companies. Under Gov. Ely, Mr. Bailey was called to assist the office of the State Commissioner of Banks in the reorganization and liquidation of the closed banks, later acting as chief clerk in the legal department having charge of the keeping of the dockets for the many hundreds of cases of the litigation pending at that time.

Mr. Bailey is a member of the Newton Safety Council and past president of the Parent-Teacher Association of the J. W. Weeks Junior High School, which office he held for two years, building the association membership from less than 100 to be the largest Parent-Teacher organization of any single school in Massachusetts.

In an interview with Mr. Bailey regarding future plans, he says, "The city of Newton is made up of eleven communities. Each one, in the past, has been vying with the others for bigger and better schoolhouses, playgrounds, libraries, etc., which is one of the underlying reasons for the present situation which shows a per capita debt higher than any city in Massachusetts, with the exception of Boston. The tremendous increase in the membership of the Taxpayers' Association this fall proves to us that the people are beginning to look at themselves as citizens of the city of Newton—not as members of a village in that city. Now they are taking a united stand and are awake to this fact that unwarranted spending must stop and that the administrative head of the city must insist on 100 per cent efficiency in every department, with increased economy the ultimate goal."

"We are not entirely restricting our activities to Newton affairs for we are affiliated with the State Federation, which is working day and night on matters of statewide importance. This is an important factor, for state

Cullen Case

the "whole business was a conspiracy to get Cullen." Inches testified that Chief Hughes had told him that Cullen was absent a considerable part of the time from the police department garage, that the office was created over Hughes' protests, and that it is the belief of the Aldermen that the office should be abolished in the interest of municipal economy.

Alderman Walker, who took indignant issue with Mayor Childs at the conference in January when the latter accused the Aldermen of trying to frame Cullen, testified that after the special committee had done some investigating regarding the office of "sergeant-mechanic," it came to the conclusion that further investigation should be made by the Mayor and the City Solicitor, and this was the purpose of the conference. The result was that the Mayor ordered an investigation of the entire police department.

Alderman Charles Hughes, son of Chief of Police Hughes, in reply to questions by Cullen's attorney, said it is his belief that it was not the duty of his father to institute action against Cullen, but that it was the duty of the Mayor. He stated that although he believed that the Mayor was partial to Cullen, he would have ordered a hearing, Alderman Barwise testified that he came to the opinion, after hearing the report of the special committee, that Cullen might be an undesirable person to have in the police department, and that he first heard of the move to abolish Cullen's office after the special committee made its report. Barwise testified that in his belief, Chief Hughes has tried to be fair and square in administering the affairs of the police department.

Alderman McCabe, whose attacks on Cullen's conduct of the office preceded the appointment of the special committee by the Board of Aldermen, said he had asked for the investigation after he had received complaints from Newton citizens. He told of having received complaints from policemen about the poor condition of department motor vehicles they had to drive, and of Cullen's act in removing window handles from some of the cars, so that the windows could not be opened. He testified that he believed that Cullen conducted his work in an inefficient manner. He related how Cullen had come to his house in 1936 and had tried to induce him to favor the attempt then being made by Mayor Childs and Cullen to have the latter promoted from the rank of sergeant to that of lieutenant. McCabe was also questioned regarding a heated argument he had had with Mayor Childs.

For Sergeant-Mechanic Cullen testified that the purchase of a patrol wagon several years ago was one of the causes of the friction between Chief Hughes and himself. Cullen claimed that the wagon was purchased as new, whereas its chassis had been used for 60,000 miles. He told of alleged misuse of police cars by policemen, of lack of responsibility in the use of the automobiles, and waste of gasoline and supplies. He told of having been authorized by Mayor Weeks to assume charge of purchasing all supplies for the police department after Weeks had found fault with the police department spending considerably more than the amount appropriated in the annual budget.

Cullen testified that Alderman Floyd had told him that he was 100 per cent in favor of having him advanced from the rank of sergeant to that of lieutenant, but that Cullen should reciprocate by making purchases for the police motor vehicles from certain parties to whom Floyd owed political debts. Cullen also testified that Alderman McCabe had scolded him for making the Newton Motor Sales Company bid on the purchase of police cars, and thus making less profits than they otherwise would have made. The following day, (last Friday) Aldermen Floyd and McCabe took the stand and related Cullen's testimony. Floyd said that McCabe was present at his home in 1936 when the alleged conversation between Cullen and Floyd took place. Floyd denied that he had told Cullen he was 100 per cent in favor of his promotion, and he also denied having told Cullen that he had political debts to pay and would like the latter to make purchases from his political friends. Floyd told Cullen's attorney (Francis X. Hurley) in reply to the latter's questions, that he did not have one political debt to pay.

Alderman McCabe also denied Cullen's testimony regarding their alleged conversation relative to the Newton Motor Sales Company, and he said that when Cullen tried to influence him to aid him in his promotion, he told Cullen that Cullen had stated that everything had been fixed up with the Civil Service Commission regarding the promotion.

The final witness was Chief Hughes who denied the allegation that any one automobile concern had a corner on the police department business. Hughes denied that Cullen had informed him that the patrol wagon referred to had been operated over 60,000 miles.

Christmas Seal Sale

With the delivery of approximately twelve thousand letters containing the 1939 Christmas Health Seals to the various post offices in Newton, the Sale Committee has completed its preparations for the campaign which lasts from Thanksgiving until Christmas.

The money received from the sales of these Health Seals is used to protect Newton homes. To find all active cases to tuberculosis in every community and to see that they are treated, to seek out all persons exposed to tuberculosis and build their resistance, to educate people in the ways of healthful living and to assist in the vocational rehabilitation and social readjustment of those who, after treatment, are able to resume activities—to fulfill these purposes the Christmas Health Seals are internationally sold.

The Sale in Newton is conducted by the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs for the Family Service Bureau of Newton, Inc. The Health Committee of the Bureau decides upon the uses to which the money is applied, and a glance at the names of the members of the committee should be an assurance as to the wisdom with which the funds are dispensed; Dr. Edward Mellis, Dr. Alton S. Pope, Dr. Harold D. Chope, Dr. Henry D. Chadwick, Dr. George F. H. Bowers, Rev. John A. Sheridan, Mr. Guy M. Winslow, Mr. Julius E. Warren, Miss Harriet L. Parsons, Mrs. J. Porter Russell, Mrs. Charles A. Riley, Mrs. Chester W. Tudbury and Mrs. Robert S. Bowen. Mr. Frank L. Richardson acts as treasurer for this committee.

Should anyone have been overlooked who wishes to purchase seals and aid this cause, or should anyone wish more seals than were sent, the local chairman will be very glad to supply them. The committee for the 1939 Sale is as follows: Mrs. Robert S. Bowen, chairman, and Mrs. Ralph W. McKenzie, vice chairman; Mrs. Francis L. Buswell, Newton; Mrs. Frank L. Aurelio, Newtonville; Mrs. Ethel P. Leach, West Newton; Mrs. Susan F. Tuttle, Auburndale; Mrs. Harold Buse, Newton Lower Falls; Mrs. Philip B. Bourne, Waban; Mrs. Frank F. Patterson, Newton Highlands; Mrs. William F. Kestle, Newton Upper Falls; Miss Grace L. Rogers, Newton Centre, and Mrs. Horace E. Jacobs, Chestnut Hill.

This sale is in no way connected with the Red Cross nor is it included in the Community Chest Appeal. All checks should be made payable to Frank L. Richardson, Treasurer, and sent to the local chairman.

the Board voted to have notices sent to civic organizations urging observance of the city ordinance which requires property owners to remove snow from sidewalks in business districts.

The Board refused to vote $637 recommended by the Mayor for the construction of partitions in the contagious ward at the Newton Hospital. Alderman McKay, chairman of the Finance Committee, stated that because there is no definite agreement between the city and the hospital trustees relative to the maintenance of the contagious ward, the committee will recommend no further expenditures by the city for hospital purposes until some contract is made between the city and the hospital.

On recommendation of Chairman Murphy of the Board of Assessors, the Aldermen voted to charge Percy Woodward $1050.96 as 1939 rental for land owned by the city and used as part of the Alhambra golf course. This land was formerly part of the golf course, and was purchased some time ago by the city as the locus of the proposed playground for that part of the city.

Alleged Burglars Caught at N'Ville

Leon Bertrand, 31, of 158 Pearl st., Newton, and Martin Farrell, 26, of 367 Centre st., Newton, were captured on Tuesday night at Newtonville by Patrolman Christopher Bradley after they had allegedly attempted to enter the store of Morgan Brothers at 336 Walnut st. A Newtonville man who resides near the store took his dog out for "exercise" shortly before midnight and happened along just as one of two men who stood in the store doorway, kicked in the pane of glass in the door. The man hastened toward the square, found Patrolman Bradley and told him of the attempted break. In the meantime the would-be burglars fled. Bradley commandeered a taxi-cab, started a search, and on Clinton st., Newton, over a half mile distant, came upon Bertrand and Farrell. They were arraigned in the Newton court on Wednesday and held in $1000 bonds for a hearing on December 1.

Thanksgiving Day Service By Christian Scientists

A Thanksgiving Day service was held by First Church of Christ, Scientist, in the church edifice, 391 Walnut st., Newtonville, at 10:45 o'clock on the morning of Thanksgiving Day. The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, and its branches in the United States hold Thanksgiving Day services each year. The service held by First Church of Christ, Scientist, Newton, was in keeping with this custom.

"Thanksgiving" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon read at this service. The Golden Text was: "Rejoice evermore. Pray without ceasing. In everything give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you" (1 Thessalonians 5:16-18).

After the responsive reading in which the congregation took part, Mrs. Gertrude R. Brayton, the Second Reader, read citations from the Bible and Mr. Raymond Wilson, the First Reader, read the correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. Among the Scriptural verses was included: "Serve the Lord with gladness: come before his presence with singing. . . . Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise: be thankful unto him, and bless his name. For the Lord is good; his mercy is everlasting; and his truth endureth to all generations" (Psalms 100: 2, 4, 5).

There was congregational singing of hymns from the Christian Science Hymnal, and the soloist, Mrs. Virginia Sadtler sang "Praise and Give Thanks," by Hazel Adair. The service was concluded with the benediction.

THE PHYSICIAN'S MICROSCOPE

— and What it Helps to Cure and Prevent

Many diseases are due directly to germs, which can be studied and identified under the microscope.

For instance, diphtheria germs can only be identified under the microscope. Then the patient is given Antitoxin, and life thereby quickly saved.

Tumors removed and studied under the microscope can be identified as harmless tissue or positively ascertained to contain cancer cells. When discovered in time, it is often possible to prevent further spread of this dread disease.

Tests of blood and bodily secretions, under the microscope, tells the trained physician without a doubt, of the presence of typhoid, malaria, tuberculosis, syphilis and many other germ diseases.

Only a few illustrations wherein humanity is indebted to the department of scientific medicine known as pathology and microscopy. Medical research and practice would be greatly handicapped without them.

Salvation Army Asks $5000 From Newton Residents

Campaign Here In Charge of Douglass Francis

Under the chairmanship of State Representative Douglass B. Francis, the annual campaign of The Salvation Army is on in Newton, with a goal of $5,000. The sponsoring committee is made up of well known men and women of the Newtons, with William M. Cahill, treasurer of the Newton Trust Company, of Newton Centre, acting as appeal treasurer.

Mr. Francis seeks a favorable response to the appeal in a letter sent to many Newton citizens.

The letter reads in part: "This money is needed to continue a huge humanitarian work. This means that the Evangeline Booth Home and Hospital will keep on giving modern attention and Christian-like care to unmarried mothers. The hungry will be fed and clothes will be furnished the needy. Friendless men and women will be taken from the streets and led to places where hope is restored. It means a continual search for lonesome youth. Your money could be used to no better purpose. The program includes fresh air activities, day nursery and many types of service by score of units."

The chairman in his letter also warns about the presence of unauthorized collectors—setting forth that the collector will be named soon. He will wear a Salvation Army uniform and have the words "Public Relations Department" on his coat collar. He will also have a credential letter, signed by Mr. Francis.

In addition, Mr. Francis points out that donations may be sent to Mr. Cahill, who will be the official collector are the only authorized persons to receive them.

American Red Cross

The American Red Cross expects the Newton Chapter to have 8000 members this year. Up to the present time 4827 members have joined in Newton. It is earnestly hoped by those in charge that the Thanksgiving spirit may bring a large influx of members by the end of this week. If you have not already done so, lighten the work of the Roll Call committee by sending in your memberships at once.

Newton's quota of 120 dresses for Polish refugees will be ready for shipment on Jan. 1st, as requested by Washington. However, the quota for 200 sweaters is still incomplete. Won't you knit a sweater for us? Just call Chapter Headquarters, 12 Austin st., Newtonville, and come for yarn and directions. Everyone please help to keep the Red Cross ready.

More Than One Way To Kill Goose

The Newton School Department probably remembered the old saying that—"There is more than one way of killing a goose" when its officials were stymied by a ruling of the City Solicitor. The School Department by efficient management has, over a course of years, made an appreciable profit by selling excellent lunches at low prices in various school cafeterias. These profits now total $23,102. The school officials desire to procure a modern cafeteria counter to replace an old counter which has been in use at the F. A. Day School since that structure was built. The cost will be about $2000. The City Solicitor ruled that the School Department cannot use any of the cafeteria profits to buy a new counter. Dull folks might have been balked by the ruling. But not the intelligentsia of the school department. They propose to donate $2000 from the cafeteria profits to the city, and then Mayor Childs can request that the Board of Aldermen appropriate $2000 for the needed counter. What could be fairer?

Fined $25 For Reckless Driving

Fred W. Burton, 29, of 61 Islington rd., Auburndale, was fined $25 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court last Friday for driving a car so as to endanger the safety of the public. On November 2 a car driven by Burton came out of Islington rd. onto Commonwealth ave. without stopping, and hit a car driven by Arthur Trainor of 29 Winona st., Auburndale. Trainor was slightly injured. Burton testified that as a rule he obeyed the "stop" traffic rule applying to automobiles entering Commonwealth ave.

Buy Tagged Christmas Greens, Only

The Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, through its Conservation committee, is urging all citizens to cooperate with the Department of Agriculture in helping to keep our forests plentiful. This year the Massachusetts Department of Agriculture is issuing tags to be attached to Christmas trees and to Christmas green material which have been procured legitimately.

The reasons for tagging are first, to help prevent stealing; second, to protect the taxpayer, and to benefit the land-owner so that he may get additional revenue from his land; third, to conserve the fast-disappearing varieties of Christmas green material; fourth, to encourage the reforestation of our woodland; fifth, to further the planting of holly, laurel, and Christmas trees for the market; and sixth, to be in step with other states that are officially tagging Christmas trees.

The public is asked this coming year to buy only tagged Christmas greens.

Newtonville Junior Club

On Tuesday evening, November 21, Mr. Kenneth Bernard, Registrar of the College of Liberal Arts of Boston University, spoke before the Newtonville Junior Woman's Club on "Understanding Current Events." In his talk he discussed the rise and fall of nations, the repetition of methods of war, use of force, and modern nationalism. He stressed the fact that there has always been more tyranny than democracy in the world. The program was arranged by Miss Barbara Tolman, chairman.

During the business meeting, Miss Dorothy Burns, Philanthropic chairman, gave a report on the Rummage Sale which showed it to be a financial success. ### —Brookline Wins held. Again Kelly took to the air tossing a pass into Bill Kirrairie's arms a step or two from the goal-line. Captain Brooks Heath missed by inches grounding this toss while Gil Dobbie, coming over to aid Heath, clutched Kirrairie by the ankle as the latter fell across the goal line for the second touchdown. Again Nixon converted the point. Newton staged a forty yard march of its own at this point but lost the ball on downs at the Brookline 35. Co-captain Carroll and his backfield mates began another march which had reached the Newton 25-yard line when the half expired.

The second half was a nip and tuck struggle with much of the play concentrated inside the 30-yard line stripes. Newton advanced into Brookline territory early in the third period following an exchange of quick kicks. The second of which caught Brookline by surprise. On the next play centre Ricky Woodruff of Newton intercepted a Brookline toss at the Wealthy Towners' 40-yard line. Beatty and Rezutti almost made it a first down in two rushes following which Newton lost the ball on downs. Vin Leahy, fullback, carried for 9 yards and then came Brookline's third touchdown with surprising rapidity. Carroll carried through the line seemed to be stopped but broke away to outguess the Newton secondary for a 61 yard jaunt to the goal line. Nixon missed this point conversion and the score stood at 20-0.

Newton dominated the remainder of the game as Brookline had victory definitely tucked away. Late in the final period the orange and black saved itself from a whitewashing with Johnny Flag snapping a down-the-alley toss into the arms of hustling Bob Beatty. The Newton end sped around the Brookline safetyman and was away. The valiant efforts of Brookline backs to overtake him were nullified as Beatty weaved from side to side to avoid the threatening tackle. Teschner's try for the point was low and Newton had to be content with its 6 digits.

Former Resident Burned To Death

Miss Helen Littlefield, 86, a former Newton resident, was burned to death on Saturday morning, November 25 at her home in South Chatham, Cape Cod. She was sitting near the fireplace in her cottage when the room caught ablaze. Wilbur Cahoon, who manages a general store across the street attempted unsuccessfully to rescue Miss Littlefield.

Miss Littlefield was the daughter of George and Amanda M. Littlefield and formerly lived on Washington st., Newtonville, leaving this city about twenty-five years ago. She was a graduate of Lasell Seminary. Funeral services were held on Monday at South Chatham.

She was a cousin of the late Wellington Howes, a former well-known Newton market owner and is survived by several cousins including Wellington Howes, Jr., of Newton.

Another Newton Auto Fatality

James P. Lydon, 24, of 34 Paul st., Jamaica Plain, who was hit by an automobile on November 24 at 1:20 a. m. while crossing Commonwealth ave. near Manet rd., Chestnut Hill, died at the Newton Hospital last Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. The car which hit him was driven by Kenneth Holbrook, 25, of Shrewsbury. Lydon received a fractured skull, internal injuries, and fractures of both legs. Dr. L. L. Annis of 2081 Commonwealth ave., Auburndale, who was passing, assisted Holbrook in placing Lydon in Holbrook's car and the injured man was then transferred to the police ambulance. Lydon had almost reached the reservation on the avenue when hit. Holbrook told the police he did not see the man until the car was almost on top of the victim.

John Quinlan of St. Joseph's Church, Somerville; Bartholomew of Framingham; Martin of Troy, New York; James of Newton Highlands, and Paul of Newtonville; five daughters, Mrs. Daniel Reardon of Watertown, Mrs. John Colleran of Allston, Mrs. Michael Kennedy of Newton, Misses Katherine and Esther Quinlan of Newtonville; and two sisters, Mrs. Bridget Costigan of Newton and Mrs. Ellen Collins of Allston. Joseph McDonald officiated. Cremation was at Forest Hills.

BROOKLINE SIDELIGHTS

The Wealthy Towners sprung a new offense from that used throughout the season. It is said that following their game with Belmont three weeks ago tomorrow they abandoned many of their former plays and concentrated on the new attack to vanquish Newton.

Kicking honors were about even with Joe Beatty, Johnny Flag and Bud Hurley matching efforts with Bob Carroll. Captain Heath outsmarted the home team early in the third quarter. Carroll had sent a quick kick bounding over Beatty's head to the Newton 18 yard line. Heath called for the same play as the teams lined up and Beatty's effort put Brookline right back on its 30-yard line.

Tony Rezutti was awake to the fact that Melville was outside the end zone when he completed a pass which many thought was going to be a touchdown early in the second period. This gave Newton the ball on its 20-yard line as it had been fourth down. A disastrous fumble which Vin Leahy recovered gave Brookline another chance from the 30. It was on fourth down that Kelly took to the air again, shifting to Bill Kirrairie at the opposite end from Melville as the receiver and the pass clicked. Heath missed grounding the ball by inches.

Joe Beatty got away for several good gains but could not quite get free.

Captain Heath, Clark Fisher, Phil Teschner, Gil Dobbie, Healey and the Beatty brothers stopped the Brookline backs at various times with jarring tackles.

will be to the school pupils. A delegation of Highland Glee Club members will sing, and a trio from the All-Newton Music School will give instrumental selections. The dedicatory prayer will be given by Rev. Randolph S. Merrill, pastor of Central Congregational Church. E. Donald Robb, architect of the building, will deliver the key to the city. Doors will be open at 7:30 and the building will be open for inspection after the meeting.

The library contains separate facilities for adults and children, and a community room seating 125 persons, which may be used for organization meetings. The shrubs and perennials which have been planted around the building were supplied by the Newtonville Garden Club, under the direction of Mrs. Walter F. Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Connick of 79 Hull st., Newtonville, have presented two stained-glass medallions for windows in the main reading room at the library. They were designed and made by Mr. Connick and are based on quotations from two New England poets, Emily Dickinson and Robert Frost.

Mr. John Cahill is on a tour of duty with the 110th Cavalry at Fort Devens, where he holds the rank of Sergeant in F troop.

Rotary Club

Patrolman Thomas McEnaney of the Newton police department was the speaker at the weekly meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Monday. McEnaney, one of the younger members of the force, and who has taken a course in public speaking, took for his subject "Automobile Accidents in Newton." He stated that there were 36,000 automobile fatalities in the United States last year, but the number in Newton was only 3. So far this year there have been 8 deaths in Newton caused by automobiles. In 1938 there were 666 automobile accidents in the city. There have been 49 persons killed in automobile accidents in Newton since 1934. According to Patrolman McEnaney, the number of automobile accidents in this city has been largely decreased since the Traffic Bureau of the local police department was established this year. He told of plans the Bureau has to instruct school children relative to traffic safety and said that registration of bicycles would promote safety.

Plans for the distribution of Christmas gifts by Newton Rotarians to children at the Peabody Home for Crippled Children were discussed.

"Horse and Buggy" Age Streets Are Costly to Tax-Payers of this City

Built By Private Parties, Go to Pieces Rapidly

A rapidly increasing problem for the Newton Street Department is the disintegration of many streets in newer sections of the city which have been built during the past several years by private contractors under the general law. Many years ago in the "horse and buggy days," the city adopted an ordinance which specified that a street to be accepted in Newton must be built in accordance with Specification 14 of the Massachusetts Department of Public Works. Such streets were built of gravel and a top surface of bituminous fluid, covered with sand. In the horse and buggy days, such streets, with light traffic, lasted for years. But, with the coming of motor vehicles, and large increase in vehicular traffic, such streets disintegrated rapidly, and many complaints came from persons residing on them.

So, in 1931, the Public Works Committee of the Aldermen recommended, and the then Mayor and Aldermen agreed, that in the future, a more substantial and lasting type surface would be put on streets constructed by the Street Department under the Betterment Law. Here it should be explained that under the Betterment Law, when property owners petition for the improvement and acceptance of a street, such work is usually done by the Street Department. The City is supposed to pay half the cost, and abutters the other half. The abutters can extend their payments over a 10 year period. Under the General Law a street can be improved by property owners interested, and if it meets with certain specifications, it is then accepted by the city. The specifications under the General Law were not changed in 1931 when the Aldermen decided to have modern streets constructed under the Betterment Law, and a number of developers of real estate in various parts of the city, have during the past 10 years taken advantage of this fact to have the old type gravel streets built by contractors. Alderman Temperley has consistently opposed this because he argued that such streets would soon disintegrate and then the taxpayers of Newton would have to pay for their reconstruction. On the other hand, property owners in this city who pay for the building of the better type street construction under the Betterment Law, are assessed as much as $4.50 per running feet, and then will have to pay their share to rebuild the streets cheaply constructed under the General Law. His colleagues on successive Boards of Aldermen (with one or two exceptions) have ignored Temperley's protests on this matter, but time has proven that the Upper Falls Alderman was right. City Engineer Harvey and the late Supt. of Streets Charles Mahoney, in 1937, presented to the Aldermen a report on street acceptance which substantiated Alderman Temperley's contentions. This report will be published in next week's GRAPHIC.

Presentation of charter number 826 was made by Mr. Linton who stated, "You are now representative of 100,000 young men of America."

Other speakers included Gordon Speedie, President of the Boston Junior Association of Commerce and also national director; Charles B. Floyd, President of the Newton Board of Aldermen; and James Mackey, President of the Massachusetts Junior Chamber of Commerce and President of the Brookline chapter. Entertainment was provided by versatile Phil Saltman, member of the Boston Junior Chamber of Commerce and jazz pianist extraordinaire of station WEEL, and a novelty act of modern dancing by two youngsters, Bobby Blair and Teresa Gladue of Cohituate.

Payment of Newton Taxes Is Slow

City Tax Collector Francis Newhall reports that the payment of taxes in Newton this year is somewhat slower than it was in 1938. This is attributed to the fact that because of delays by the Legislature in determining the State's financial policies, the Newton assessors were unable this year to declare the tax rate until later than usual, and this delayed the mailing of the tax bills. The tax commitment this year totalled $5,096,914 and the amount of taxes unpaid as of December 1 totalled $1,215,914, or about 23 per cent of the total. Last year at the same time 80 per cent of the taxes had been collected.

Another complication caused by the delay of the Legislature has been the large increase in the number of requests for abatements in Newton made to the Newton Board of Assessors and assessors all over the State. Because of the delay in sending out tax bills, the Legislature authorized the extension of the period in which abatements might be asked for from Oct. 1 to Nov. 15, in addition to provisions for the sending out of bills and the charging of interest. Tax Commissioner Long ordered notice of this act of the Legislature to be enclosed with or affixed to the tax bills. Many taxpayers, when they read the attached slips, became abatement-minded, and requests for abatements in Newton jumped over 50 per cent. A large percentage of these requests will not be granted as those requesting them could offer no real reasons for having the abatements made.

Debate Pacifism At Central Club

On Monday evening a debate on the respective merits of pacifism and collective security was held at the Parish Hall of the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville. Rev. George L. Paine of Boston, one of New England's leading exponents of pacifism, advocated that method of settling disputes between nations. He stated that he knew the number of extreme pacifists is small, but he is so thoroughly convinced that the principle of non-resistance is right, that he said he would not fight even though his own home were invaded by enemies. He cited China as an instance and argued that China on the whole had not seen wars for over 500 years, and so would be better off if it had not resisted Japan the past few years. He said millions of lives would have been saved there by submission to the Japanese.

Rev. David Brewer Eddy advocated collective security. He argued that the solution of the quarrels and difficulties of the world will be found in a World Court which would have power to enforce its decisions by means of economic sanctions. He approved of the refusal of the United States to join the League of Nations, but said this country erred in not helping the League when conditions became crucial. Referring to Dr. Paine's ideal of pacifism, Dr. Eddy stated that ideals sound good but do not stand the test of reality. He admitted that the method he advocates may not be practised for a century or two, but he believes a start toward this method should be made now.

Professor Kirtley Mather served as moderator. He displayed a pacifist tendency by declaring the debate a draw, and then manifested combativeness by (Continued on Page 8)

Old "Harry" Travels In State to Dedham Haven

"Harry," an old white horse, who was foaled in the "horse and buggy" days 40 years ago, and who has lived to become a Methuselah of equines in this automotive age under the kind care of James F. Ellis of 69 Cherry st., West Newton, will spend his final days at an earthly haven for horses, instead of meeting his end at the Brighton abattoir, as originally planned. Instead of being taken from his old home at West Newton to the slaughterhouse at Brighton, there to be shot and converted into soap stock, fertilizer and possibly (in part) into dog-food, "Harry" departed from the Ellis barn on Wednesday morning in regal style. A huge, floral horse-shoe was placed around his neck, press-photographers snapped pictures of him and Mr. Ellis, and under the supervision of an Animal Rescue official, "Harry" was carefully guided into a horse-van provided by the League, and with the big floral piece attached to the front of the van, and escorted by Jack McGrath, Newton motorcycle policeman, "Harry" started on his journey to "Pine Ridge Rest Home" at Dedham, that pleasant haven for old animals conducted by the Animal Rescue League.

"Harry" was in his prime when he was purchased in 1906 by the Waltham Coal Company, and for 14 years was hauled over the road to customers in Waltham and surrounding communities. Nearly 20 years ago he was purchased by James F. Ellis who for 48 years conducted a milk business at West Newton, and until Mr. Ellis retired from business 11 years ago, "Harry" hauled a milk wagon around this vicinity. Since that time Mr. Ellis kept the old horse as a pensioner. Although "Harry" has lived over twice the age of an ordinary horse, and is still in remarkable condition for his years, time has taken its toll on him and because his teeth are gone, the problem of feeding him became serious for his owner to attempt to continue. So, last week Mr. Ellis announced that he intended to give "Harry" a farewell feast and then send him to the abattoir to be killed. The Animal Rescue League officials read about "Harry" in the newspapers, and the league agent, Archibald MacDonald, informed Mr. Ellis that a home would be given the venerable gelding at "Pine Ridge Rest," where special food will be given, which "Harry's" remaining front teeth can masticate.

So, on Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock, Joseph Grinley of Brighton came with his horse van to take "Harry" to his last home. Incidentally, Joe Grinley transports horses for the Animal Rescue League because he has won an award for careful transportation of horses over a 15 year period. Edward J. Hogan, Jr., an agent of the League, was present to supervise "Harry's" departure, and the Fern Florists of Brighton and Brookline brought the huge floral horse-shoe which they donated. ## Newton Churches Win Certificates

For having fulfilled their quotas in the "Million Unit Fellowship Movement," certificates of honor have been awarded to the following Methodist churches in this city: Perrin Memorial, Lower Falls, Rev. E. J. Fairweather; Newtonville, Rev. J. E. Knotts; Upper Falls, Rev. F. H. Gooswey. These churches are among 1500 of the 20,000 congregations in the United States which have already reached their goals. The movement is now in its third year and is based on a communion-wide goal of 500,000 persons who will subscribe $1 per month, as well as undertake spiritual obligations. So far the movement has added $1,370,000 to the church income for missions and benevolences.

Postpone Hearing On Redistricting

Cambridge Representative Protests Because of Vacancy On Commission

The special commission for redistricting the Representative districts in Middlesex County announced a hearing to be held last Monday at the County Commissioners' offices in East Cambridge. Letters were sent to representatives concerned as well as to chairmen of both Republican and Democratic city and town committees.

The commission appointed by Governor Saltonstall included Nathaniel I. Bowditch, County Commissioner; Mrs. Anna C. Tillinghast, Cambridge; Irving H. Chadwick, Lowell (Republicans), and former Rep. Jeremiah J. Healey of Natick and Mrs. Golda R. Walters of Woburn (Democrats). Between the meeting of the commission at which the date of the hearing was decided and the notification sent to interested persons, Mrs. Walters tendered her resignation. Thus when the hearing opened only four members of the commission were present.

Commissioner Bowditch, as chairman, opened the hearing and announced the commission's intention to hear proposed changes in the present 1st Middlesex district, Wards 1, 2 and 3 of the City of Cambridge, Rep. Michael J. Neville, one of the two members of the House from that district, protested the conduct of the hearing with the existing vacancy as prejudicial to the interest of Democratic voters. He was joined in this protest by other persons present. Commissioner Healey then moved that the hearing be postponed until the vacancy on the commission was filled, and after a short conference Mr. Bowditch announced that such postponement would be made.

Under the proposed plans of the commission, the present 4th Middlesex district, comprising Wards 1, 2, 3 and 7 of the city of Newton, was to be enlarged by the addition of Wards 5, 6, and 7, of Waltham, which consists of that portion of the city of Waltham south of the Charles river. The enlarged district would be entitled to three Representatives. According to official figures of registered voters, there are 18,636 voters in the four Newton wards and only 6850 voters in the three Waltham wards, giving Newton the preponderance of voting strength. In the hearing room were Representatives William B. Baker and Warren K. Brimblecom, and Mayor-elect Paul M. Goddard, prepared to record themselves opposed to the inclusion of Waltham in the Newton representative district. Rep. Richard Furbush and Republican and Democratic city committee leaders in Waltham were also opposed to the change.

As the 5th Middlesex district, comprising Wards 4, 5 and 6 of Newton are bounded entirely by Norfolk and Suffolk Counties no changes were proposed.

LUNCHROOM PROFITS

Considerable criticism of the Newton school department has come to our attention since the recent news reports that there is a profit of $23,000 in the receipts from the various lunchrooms in the Newton schools. A little investigation reveals some pertinent facts bearing upon the situation.

Until 1932 the lunchrooms in the high and junior high schools were conducted as a concession. At that time the lunchrooms were consolidated under direction of a manager and an assistant appointed by the school department. A request was further made that all receipts be deposited in the bank to the account of the city with disbursements to be made by the city comptroller with the result that the school department in no way handles any of the money.

The business conducted by the lunchrooms reaches the amazing figure of approximately $100,000 per year. The $23,000 figure referred to as a profit is in reality a cash balance on hand in the lunchroom account as of a certain day. This balance does not represent a surplus as bills rendered tomorrow could well be considerably in excess of the day's receipts. It is estimated that the actual profit of this necessary activity since 1932 is more nearly about $10,000. It is further pointed out that the annual estimated surplus is decreasing annually due to the constant efforts of school officials to maintain quality and quantity and to reduce prices. The 1938 surplus, the lowest on record, was in the vicinity of $200 and it is possible that there will be a deficit for the September to June period of 1939-1940 because of increased food prices.

The current rumor that lunch room receipts were used to provide a sound-proof ceiling in the Weeks Junior high cafeteria a few years ago is refuted. Such a ceiling was installed at a cost of $2000 from city funds, no part of which was charged against lunchroom receipts. In the present situation school officials contend that the installation of a new steam table counter in the F. A. Day Junior high school is as much a part of the necessary equipment as coffee urns, dishes and other accessories. The counter now in use was installed in 1922 and consists of an antiquated wooden table-counter and there is little doubt of the desirability of its replacement with modern equipment. Whether or not a permanent fixture of this nature should be paid for out of luncheon receipts or regular city expenses is perhaps a moot question, certainly one of personal opinion.

The taxpayers of Newton have a dual concern in the matter. The first is that the lunchrooms be maintained upon a self-supporting basis in order that there may be no assessment upon them to make up a possible deficit. The second is that the School department provide a lunchroom service that is adequate, not only from the standpoint of quantity and quality, but at a price which a student can afford. It is not an easy assignment but one which requires constant attention and surveillance.

THREE MONTHS' PROGRESS

Three months ago a new coaching regime was instituted at the Newton high school to prepare a squad of high school boys for a ten-game football schedule. That schedule has now been completed with but one victory and two tie games to show against seven losses. Viewed from the standpoint of victories the season was far from a success, particularly in that the orange and black was defeated by both its closest rivals, Waltham and Brookline. But there is much that goes on behind the scenes that the public does not see. Occasionally it is revealed, sometimes within a short space of time, sometimes only after years of patient waiting.

For nearly twenty years we have been a close follower of high school sports and we have a deep conviction on the value of development of our youth through participation in these sports under adequate supervision. The late Allie Dickinson was both a coach and teacher to us and we mourned with many others his loss to Newton youth. Yet Allie Dickinson had football teams that were far from successful. And it is no reflection upon the ability or personality of Coach Dickinson's successor that the morale of Newton football teams has been at a considerably low ebb during the past decade and more. It was a condition which only time and patience could heal. And we have been close enough to Newton coaches to know how keenly they felt the responsibility that was theirs.

We believe that it is not only a privilege but our duty to give to Newton citizens the picture as we now see it after three months. In this short space of time, despite the continued bitter tastes of successive defeats, Coach Owen MacDowell of the Newton High School has inculcated a definite increase in the morale of the football athletes. We do not hesitate in saying that, in our opinion, he has done every bit that could be expected of him since his appointment in June. Victories are welcome, but morale, sportsmanship and healthy development are of prime importance. And we know that Newton citizens stand solidly behind him as we look to the future when more frequent victories will restore Newton to its rightful place in the schoolboy football world.

Powers' Paragraphs

Abraham C. Webber of Waban Hill rd., Chestnut Hill, was a member of the Public Utilities Commission for the past five years. His term expired on December 1 and he was not reappointed by Governor Saltonstall. Inasmuch as Mr. Webber was appointed by a Democratic Governor (Ely) it probably was to be expected that in accordance with partisan politics he would not be reappointed by a Republican Governor. But, we regret that Governor Saltonstall did not see fit to reappoint Mr. Webber. Because he was the only one of the five members of the five Public Utilities Commissioners who, a few months ago gave prior consideration to hundreds of thousands of residents of Greater Boston instead of to a powerful public utility. We refer to Mr. Webber's action in having been the lone dissenter on the large increase in gas rates to the majority of customers of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company. An increase which was not authorized until after the Legislature had adjourned, although it had been under consideration for many months before. An increase which was refused by the Public Utilities Commission a couple of years ago. An increase which in the opinion of many was not warranted.

In our items—"Newton in the Past" a few weeks ago, was one telling of a decrease in the rate charged by the Newton & Watertown Gas Company 50 years ago. The rate was dropped to $2.50 per thousand cubic feet. In that period, and for many years after, gas was supplied to the residents of the Newtons and Watertown by a company owned and managed by local men. The plant was in Watertown, near the Newton line. Its business was solely the making and selling of gas, except for several years when it entered the business of supplying electricity to Newton and Watertown. Gas companies a half century and less ago, did not derive any appreciable profit from by-products as they have done in modern years. They almost had to give coke away. For a dollar or two one could buy a wagon load of coke. But there were few purchasers. Not that many would have been glad to use it for fuel; but when one bought coke, it was a sign that they were in destitute or near destitute circumstances, so even poor people refrained from having a load of coke brought to their homes to prevent neighborhood gossip. How times have changed.

It is not far from a half century ago when the big struggle between the Boston Gas Company and the Brookline Gas Company started, and older people can remember that bitter feud between rival Boston financiers, a fight which involved big financiers from outside Massachusetts, and caused bitter charges made to the Legislature. Eventually this struggle for the control of the gas business in Boston was settled. Later the Boston Consolidated Gas Company was organized. It absorbed the Newton & Watertown Gas Company, in addition to other gas companies in Greater Boston. The owners of the old, local companies sold their stock because they received good prices for it.

Some years ago there was another change in the controlling ownership of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company. It was acquired by Pittsburgh financial moguls, and it has affiliations that not only spread over wide areas in the Eastern part of the U. S. A., but also control industries quite apart from the manufacture and sale of gas. It is a natural supposition that the Pittsburgh interests who acquired control of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company did so by paying attractive prices for the stock. In his minority report as the dissenting member of the Public Utilities Commission when that august body sanctioned the increase in gas rates, Mr. Webber referred at length to the ramifications of the big corporations with which the Boston Consolidated Gas Company is interwoven. It would take a Philadelphia lawyer to trace the diversified activities of these associations. We shall in a later issue quote some of Mr. Webber's statements, made in his report.

Several years ago, when the Boston Consolidated Gas Company made application for permission to increase its rates, its officials frankly stated that they desired to lower the rate to larger consumers so that gas would be used much more for heating purposes in homes, in addition to being used for cooking purposes, and by increasing the rates to persons using small, or comparatively small amounts, lower rates might be offered to those who would use large quantities of gas.

In the applications made the past couple of years by the gas company for higher rates, it has been contended that customers who use the smaller quantities have been paying less than it costs the company to serve them. With this contention Mr. Webber took exception. Many agree with him. Many believe that the large expenses incurred a few years ago in extending high-pressure gas mains for miles out to thinly settled towns, will not result in sufficient business from those rural sections to warrant the cost of laying the pipes out into the country. But, the gas company has a monopoly, the Public Utilities Commission (except Mr. Webber) yielded to the contention that the company was losing money on a large percentage of its customers, and we find our gas bills larger each month than they formerly were.

The Finns were the only people sufficiently honorable to pay their debt to the U. S. A. So, there is much sympathy for the Finns by citizens of this country, and the leaders of our government are giving Finland moral support. This is about as helpful to the Finns in saving themselves from being engulfed by the Soviets, as a straw would be to a drowning man. In the meantime the U. S. A. continues to supply Japan with war materials for the Japanese conquest of China. Isn't the idealism of democracy inspiring? The Communists of the U. S. A., with very few exceptions (including one former alleged Communist, Granville Hicks) enthuse over Russia's invasion of the small Baltic countries. They hope that Russia will in the near future dominate all of Europe. This should not surprise anyone. Communism is international in its aims.

Lovers of domestic animals appreciate the act of the Animal Rescue League in prolonging the life of "Harry," the 40 year old horse owned by 81 year old James Ellis of Waltham st., West Newton. Both "Harry" and his former owner have attained advanced ages and are well preserved despite the fact that both worked hard during their long lives. "Harry" hauled heavy coal wagons for 15 years before going on to West Newton farm, and Mr. Ellis was in the milk business for 50 years, retiring 11 years ago. And men keeping a dairy farm, in addition to delivering milk during the years that Jim Ellis was engaged in that occupation, did not have a "40 hour week." Mr. Ellis told us that he had as many as 37 cows on his farm at one time, and several horses, and "Harry" was the last relic of his former milk business.

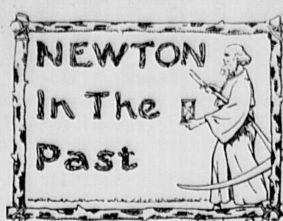

ers have resulted in such drivers attaining the safest driving records. Among causes of automobile accidents he included domestic difficulties, nighttime dissipation, and worry over financial troubles. Although he admitted that Providence has the best safety record because of its speed limit of 25 miles, he does not believe in speed zoning. He also stated that in Worcester where a 25 mile limit has been adopted, fatal accidents have dropped 50 per cent, and in central Massachusetts 29 police chiefs have urged a 25 mile limit. He referred to the great increase in the use of bicycles, mostly by children. It is estimated that 8,000,000 bicycles are now in use in the U. S. A., one for every four automobiles, and this causes additional hazards.

D. C. Graves Gets Award From Nash

D. C. Graves of August Osterlund, Inc., of 724 Beacon st., Newton Centre, Nash agents for Newton, has been awarded one of the prizes won by the 100 Nash salesmen among the 3600 in the U. S. A. who attained the highest ratings in sales units. The prizes are attractive, gold-mounted Schaeffer pen and pencil sets. Mr. Graves, who has been with August Osterlund, Inc., for 14 years, was one of 5 Nash salesmen in Greater Boston to win one of these prizes.

Chestnut Hill Woman Loses Pin, Value $2500

A pocketbook containing a diamond and emerald bangle valued at $2500, and $25 in cash, was stolen on Tuesday from the automobile of Mrs. Katrina Harris of Lawrence rd., Chestnut Hill, while the car was parked on West Cedar st., Boston. Mrs. Harris is the wife of Rev. John U. Harris, assistant rector of Trinity Church, Boston.

Rev. Joshua Gill of Lower Falls will preach at the almshouse next Sunday.

It was H. F. Bothfield's house on Church st. that was illuminated last week in honor of Cleveland's election, and not Mrs. Hill's as stated.

The high wind on Monday night took off the tin roof of a large building at the Nonantum Worsted Mills and did much damage in that vicinity. Many trees and fences in various parts of the city were damaged.

Charles A. Hill paid an election bet he made with Dr. Fred Webber by eating a genuine crow last Saturday. The feat was performed at Young's Hotel, Boston in the presence of a jolly company of about 20. The crow was a fine specimen. It was caught a year ago and kept in domestic life ever since. It proved such a delicate morsel that Mr. Hill actually ate it without realizing that he was devouring a crow. His countenance, when he was informed, would have been a study for an artist.

To the Editor of the GRAPHIC:

Whose business is it to preserve order and decent behavior in the reading room of the free library? It is often impossible to read the magazines and papers there without being disturbed and insulted by young hoodlums who make the room a common loafing place and playground. Why don't the trustees look in there once in a while?

"READER."

Dr. Thompson of Upper Falls has sold his rye crop, and finds the profits of this, his second experiment in farming, to be $10.37 for a 1/4 acre field, or about $41 an acre. He finds this agricultural venture better than that of last year, when the carrots he raised cost him $2.50 per acre.

Again the Woodland station of the B. & A. railroad has been the scene of worthless rascals, who for the sake of small plunder are willing to inflict serious damage on private property. At an early hour yesterday morning the safe there was blown open, and the noise of the explosion being heard in surrounding villages. The burglars took $15 from the safe, and the station agent's revolver was also stolen. The explosion blew out two windows in the ticket office.

Thanksgiving Day this year came in a dreary rainstorm. It was a good day in which to stay at home.

Mr. Henry Fuller of Centre st., Newton, was run into and knocked down by a horse and buggy containing two ladies about 6 o'clock Tuesday evening at the corner of Centre and Hall sts. They did not stop to see the result of their carelessness, but drove off as rapidly as possible. Mr. Fuller was helped up by John Sumner and taken into the latter's store. In spite of severe bruises he escaped serious injuries, but the inhumanity of the occupants of the carriage was commented on by all who saw the accident.

The latest demands for street improvements in Newton comes from Skinner Hill, where Messrs. Powers, Pollett and others are demanding that Arlington st. be resurfaced. Evidently the cry for economy in city affairs is only favored when it affects the streets in some other ward.

The Newton football team played the Newton Centre second eleven last Friday. Though the teams are about equal in weight, Newton won easily by a score of 28 to 0. The features of the game were the rushing of Ellison, Blake and Smith, the tackling of Lord and Ellison, and the refereeing of Walworth.

The prospect of a drill shed at the high school is growing better. The school house committee has recommended the erection of a suitable building, and the boys interested in military drill hope that the City Council will pass the necessary order.

An interesting meeting of the High School Lyceum was held in the high school building on Tuesday evening. The topic for discussion was—"The Necessity of a Federal Appropriation of $2,000,000 for advancing commerce between the United States and South America."

Albert S. Glover has resigned his position as Water Registrar of this city, and others are demanding that Arlington st. be resurfaced. Evidently the cry for economy in city affairs is only favored when it affects the streets in some other ward.

As Mr. and Mrs. Richardson of Upper Falls were driving over the B. & A. crossing at Centre st., Newton last Monday, their horse took fright and bolted, overturning the buggy, and throwing Mr. and Mrs. Richardson out. The buggy was wrecked, but fortunately its occupants escaped serious injuries.

College News

By GEORGE W. HUTCHINGS, N.H.S. '39

Here is your college commentator with the latest events of interest concerning the scholars. Bates College furnishes the setting for this week's feature story. It appears that the four Maine colleges turn out more headliners than any other school of proportionate size. Carolyn Hayden, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Hayden of 20 Eden ave., West Newton, was one of the successful candidates in the recent tryouts for membership in the newly formed Swimming Club at Bates College where she is a senior. While at Newton High, Carolyn was a member of the Band, the orchestra, the Library Club, the English Club, and the Debating Club, serving as secretary of the latter organization. She also served as a reporter and assistant news editor on the staff of the "Newtonite." This fruitful career was halted momentarily by her graduation in 1936, but was again resumed when she elected to continue her education at Bates College in Lewiston, Maine. Here she has served as secretary of her class for two years. She is also a member of the Dance Club and of the Varsity Debating Team. This year she holds the position of Women's Editor of the Student, college weekly newspaper. Carolyn is majoring in history and government, and hopes to pursue the teaching profession upon her graduation in June. Heartened by his sister's success at Bates, Tom Hayden followed her to college after prepping two years at Newton High and one at Huntington. Tom is now a sophomore and is finding it truly difficult to match the enviable record described by Carolyn.

The names of two local boys were among those listed as new members to the twelve fraternities on the campus of Wesleyan University at Middletown, Connecticut, when the fall rushing ended. Robert L. Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Clark, of 8 Mount Ida st., Newton, is now a member of the fraternity of Beta Theta Pi. Mr. Clark, who is employed by the Security Mutual Life Insurance Company, was also a member of a Wesleyan undergraduate in the Class of 1913. Delta Kappa Epsilon listed among its new members Robert R. Clark, son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank R. Clark of 221 Walnut st., Newtonville.

Dr. Clark, a Wesleyan alumnus of the Class of 1910, was also a Deke. Both Bob Clark attended Newton High School before entering Wesleyan this fall. From Simmons College on The Fenway, we learn that June King of 328 Brookline st., Newton Centre, has been chosen as a member to the committee for the reception which will be given by Academy, honor society of Simmons College for its Junior and Senior members, and faculty members. June is a senior in the School of Business and Secretarial Studies, Frances Cushman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Cushman, of 27 Verndale rd., Newton Highlands, was recently elected chairman of the Stationery Committee of the Freshman Class at Simmons. Frankie attended Newton High before her entrance to Simmons.

The Beta Chapter of Delta Phi Fraternity at Brown University has pledged Ernest T. Savignano '42, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Savignano of 15 Hale st., Newton Upper Falls. "Savie" was in the regular Brown backfield this fall as well as being elected to several sophomore honorary societies.

Many Newton girls have been prominent on the Wellesley College campus this year. Five are working on various committees of Barnswallows Dramatic Association. Shirley Greene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Greene, and Marjorie Myerburg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Myerburg, are both serving on the Acting Committee. From this committee all actresses for production are taken. Barbara Swan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl T. Swan, is on the Costume Committee, while Dorothy Perrin is a member of both the Property and Publicity Committees. Continuation of Newton's prominence in Wellesley's activities is virtually assured by the announcement that two other Garden City girls have been elected to membership in Wellesley's semi-academic, semi-social societies. Flora Marlowe is a member of Agora, an organization which deals especially in the study of modern problems. Janet Fisher is a member of Alpha Kappa Chi, the Classical Society, while Dorothea Jameson is on the

ONE THING and ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

No Choice About It

A trusted friend of mine has warned me that we may expect a great deal of snow this winter. More than usual, he says. He explains that there was a shortage of rain this Fall, although you may not have noticed it. Consequently we are sure to get plenty of precipitation in the form of snow. I place a lot of confidence in this man because he is a fairly sound amateur weather prophet and has no interest in the sale of snow shovels or electric plows. As a business man he would prefer clear weather. I am sure. For my part I do not see why we should pay the penalty of snow-bound roads and walks merely because the rain did not choose to fall when it had plenty of opportunity. There was nothing to be gained when anything had to be tried. Maybe you like plenty of snow and long for a white Christmas. Personally, I'd rather have the rain we did not get and let Admiral Byrd and others, who don't mind snow, have a little extra.

Hard to Explain

The man who is without an automobile has his troubles, too. Not that it is a hardship to walk, but there are times when transportation other than train, bus or trolley is required. In short, you find it necessary to call a taxi. Now I agree that taxis are a blessing, but like all benefits we sometimes have to look for them. My experience on more than one occasion has been that I couldn't find the driver and he could not locate me. This has happened when I have telephoned an order, "Pick me up at such and such a place at something o'clock." When that hour arrives the hunt begins. I am there and he is there but we apparently fail to recognize each other. Either that or our vision is obscured. We engage in a little game of tag and frequently it ends unhappily. Called to account, the taxi driver swears he was there and I was not and I thought he wasn't there but I was. Of course there are two sides to every story but my adventures usually find me on the outside and the taxi driver on the inside.

No More "Chestnutting"

The letter in the GRAPHIC last week, asserting that School Committeeman Barton had withdrawn his sons from Newton High School, was labelled by one of his hasty admirers as a falsehood. The fact is, however, that as soon as Mr. Cutler was forced out as principal of the high school (largely because of Mr. Barton's letter), Mr. Barton withdrew his son Clarence from the school and sent him to a private school. Mr. Barton's lack of confidence in the school after Mr. Cutler left, as shown by his own acts, occasioned much adverse criticism at the time. This year, however, his younger son has entered the first class at the high school.

Showing One's Colors

Supposing I had the "pep" and skill for the newest of winter sports, would I have the courage, too? Don't get the idea I'm speaking of physical bravery. What I'm thinking about is an appropriate costume. There seems to be so much wardrobe with everything we do in the way of costumes. Looking backward my sporting apparel on the ice or coasting was decidedly drab. A symphony in navy blue usually—plenty warm and comfortable but sombre. There might have been a splash of red in the scarf or mittens, but if any color was used it was not brilliant or conspicuous. Yet today we find the young people with varicolored mittens, trousers of a vivid hue, sweaters that dazzle and caps that shine like a beacon. Good idea, too, because it keeps up the spirit if you ask me. At any rate I like to see it even if too timid to join. Should I ever limber-up and get underway I am sure I'd look like another flying rainbow.

Tree Treatment

It is good to read that the setting-up of Christmas trees is favored by representatives of trade along with the rest of us. Householders do not need encouragement for nearly everybody who has a reason, or part of one, goes in for them. I, for one, am strongly in favor of making the Yuletide as festive as possible. Decorations cannot be too generous as far as my taste is concerned. Not only for commercial but for nobler purposes should places of business contain more wreaths, festoons and even trees if there is room enough.

What really started me on this is the failure of many to remove trees, garlands, etc., after they have served their usefulness. Dried-up decorations are a pathetic sight. Because of that fact they should come down when their freshness has gone. Withered, green branches, laurel, etc., might never have been put up. Let us have a wealth of Christmas decorations but don't spoil the picture by permitting them to remain too long after New Year's Day. It isn't fair to the trees.

Poet Robert Frost Guest At Opening Of Branch Library

A reading by Robert Frost, who was introduced as "America's greatest living poet," featured the public dedication exercises of the new Newtonville Branch of the Newton Free Library last night.

About 400 people crowded into the upstairs reading room of the library to witness the ceremony and many others heard the proceedings through a public address system donated by a Newton radio concern.

Mrs. Albert S. Hutchinson, president of the Board of Trustees of the Newton Free Library opened the meeting and introduced Mayor Edwin O. Childs who was the master of ceremonies. Julius E. Warren, superintendent of schools, brought the greetings of the schools of Newton and told of the special value of the Newtonville branch of its proximity to the Newton High School. He stated that the libraries of the city were part of the educational system.

Fred C. Alexander, president of the Newtonville Improvement Association, told of the activity of the association in agitating and raising funds for the library. He stated that the association had been working for the betterment of the community for 35 years.

Mayor Childs introduced Robert Frost as the "greatest living American poet," and Mr. Frost read his poem, "The Mending Wall," which is also the subject of the meeting presented by Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Connick for the north window of the main reading room in the library. The poet was so well applauded that he read several of his shorter poems as an encore.

Publisher Speaker
The principal speaker was Frederick G. Melcher, formerly of Newton and now head of Publishers Weekly and Library Journal. He spoke on the community's obligation to support a public library and traced the influence of books in the community. He stated that the value of the library was beyond measure and that the community could not fail to support it.

E. Donald Robb, the architect of the building turned the key over to Julius Lucht, city librarian, who presented it to Miss Dorothy Peters, librarian of the Newtonville Branch. Mr. Lucht commented on the fact that Miss Peters has been librarian of the branch for 14 years, traveling from many temporary quarters until finally she arrived at the new quarters. He also pointed out that the branch would give additional service, remaining open from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M. and on Sunday afternoons for five months in the Fall and Winter.

A delegation of 13 men under the direction of D. Ralph Maclean from the Highlands Glee Club sang three songs, including "Prayer of Thanksgiving." An instrumental trio from the All-Newton Music School played several selections.

Rev. Randolph S. Merrill of the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, closed the meeting with a prayer.

After the exercises the building was open for inspection by the public.

Newtonville Drug Clerk Gets Thief

Samuel Cohen, a clerk at the Walnut Drug Company, Newtonville, chased and captured a snatch thief on Tuesday afternoon. In court on Wednesday his captive, Charles F. Sullivan of 44 Draper st., Medford, was sentenced to serve 90 days in Bellerica prison by Judge Mayberry. Cohen testified that while he was in the back room at the drug store he heard the door of a show case in the front of the store slam. He rushed out and saw Sullivan leaving the store. He pursued Sullivan, searched him and found two wrist watches which the captive had taken from the show case. Cohen then turned Sullivan over to Patrolmen Marshall and Kelly. Sullivan has a police record.

Newton Men Held For Grand Jury

Leon Bertrand, 31, of 158 Pearl st., Newton, and Martin Farrell, 26, of 367 Centre st., Newton, who were captured on the night of November 28 by Patrolman Bradley after they had allegedly attempted to break into the store of Morgan Brothers on Walnut st., Newtonville, were arraigned in the Newton court last Friday. Dr. Allan Barrow of Highland ave., Newtonville testified that he saw two men in the doorway of the store, and one of them kicked the glass in the door, breaking it. They were held in $1000 bonds for the Grand Jury.

Freshman Honor List as a result of her high grades during her freshman year.

A late flash from Wheaton College announces that Jean Hamant of 81 Elliot ave., West Newton, has been elected president of the Freshman Class of that popular institution. Jean is the second member of the Class of '39 to be honored with the presidency of her college class. Tom Burkhard having been elected to that office at Colgate University recently. At Newton High Jean was news editor of the "Newtonite," features editor of the "Newtonian," and a member of the National Honor Society. Other duties which she accepted were Secretary of the Camera Club, Lunch-room Squad, and a member of the English Club, and Newton Junior Forum. It certainly seems advisable to watch for future reports from Wheaton concerning the girl who "did the most for the Senior Class" at Newton High. She cannot miss.

This winds up another college journal until next week.

RECENT DEATHS

Stole Automobile, Gets Probation

Robert Champlain, 18, of 248 Spring st., West Roxbury, who stole an automobile at Newton Corner on the night of Nov. 29, was arraigned in the Newton court last Friday, found guilty and was given a suspended sentence of 3 months by Judge Mayberry. Patrolman Elliot testified that Champlain told him he wanted to take a ride, so he searched about Newton Corner until he found a car with a key in the ignition lock. On Centre ave. he found a car owned by Frank Feola of Richardson st. and drove it to Oxford, Mass., where the gasoline supply became exhausted. He was arrested by police of that town, and Patrolmen Elliot and Powers journeyed from Newton to Oxford to bring Champlain back. A charge of driving with out a license was placed on file. Champlain was placed on probation until March 4.

Cummings Gets 30 Days In Jail

Earl C. Cummings, Jr., 25, of 830 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre, was sentenced by Judge Donnelly at the Superior Court in East Cambridge on Tuesday to serve 30 days in jail. He was found guilty of operating an automobile after his license had been suspended. Cummings' attorney pleaded for leniency, but Judge Donnelly refused to grant it. He called attention to the fact that Cummings had been charged with a similar offense last July, and had been in court for other violations of automobile laws.

Cummings was arrested on November 3 by Patrolman Taffe after the car he was driving had collided at Centre and Willow sts. with a car driven by Mrs. Gertrude Levine of 1085 Centre st. Mrs. Levine complained to Patrolman Taffe that Cummings would not show her his license, and Cummings then admitted that his license had been suspended. In the Newton court on November 4th, Judge Mayberry sentenced Cummings to 30 days in jail and an appeal was taken.

Salvation Army Is Asking $5000 From Newton

The intensive campaigning of the Salvation Army to reach its $5000 goal in Newton started on Monday, with four official collectors contacting the men and women of the section. They are Reuben Bursey, Sergeant-Major Thomas Downie, D. A. Ferguson and A. Robert Veinot. Each man carries a credential letter signed by State Representative Douglas B. Francis and other identifications to prove they are qualified Salvation Army attaches.

"An ad warning of unauthorized solicitors appeared last week in this paper. I ask that you be not fooled with men or women purporting to be gathering funds for some army." The ad also inadvertently said that the appeal was to cover the Newton Corps budget. This of course was in error, as Newton has no Salvation Army Corps, said Mr. Francis.

"Each year the Salvation Army conducts one appeal in Newton to meet a budget which has been agreed on by the men and women who make up the sponsoring committee. It is to see that there is no let-down in the service of the Salvation Army that I as well as the committee of sponsors ask that every person in Newton give to his or her ability to donate—to a cause that we love and like to represent," continued Mr. Francis.

The committee asks that in the event you are not contacted by official collectors, you may hand or send your donation to William M. Cahill, treasurer of the Newton Trust Company, Newton Centre. He is the committee's treasurer.

Order Gorgone House Vacated

The two-family house at 100 Lexington st., West Newton, owned by the Gorgone estate, was ordered vacated by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court last Friday. Because this house is not connected with a sewer, and the cesspool on the premises has been a health menace, the Newton Health Department several months ago ordered the dwelling connected with the sewer. This was not done, so complaints were made against the supposed owners of the property, but when the case came up in the Newton court a few months ago it was ordered continued until all the heirs were summoned. In the meantime the unsanitary condition at the place continued. So complaints were made against six heirs of the estate and the case was again called in the Newton court on Friday. Inspector Robertson of the Health Department testified that the house is a health menace. An attorney for one of the defendants said that the Gorgone heirs don't want to go to the expense of connecting the house with a sewer because the property is soon to be foreclosed by the Home Owners Loan Corporation. The judges then ordered the dwelling vacated before Jan. 2 by the families of Frank Gorgone and Henry Marcell, who have been residing in the house.

Fined $60 For Drunken Driving

Phillip McHugh, 22, of 439 Parker st., Newton Centre, was fined $50 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court last Friday for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. Roger Babson, Wellesley statistician, testified that about 5 p. m. on Nov. 23, as he was driving his car on Washington st., opposite the State Armory, West Newton, another car headed into his car, and hit its right rear wheel. The other car then veered across the street and overturned. He did not see the driver of the other car, and so could not identify McHugh. Sergeant Leehan and Patrolman Dunigan testified that they arrested McHugh and that he was drunk. Patrolman Marden who booked McHugh at headquarters corroborated their testimony.

Unusual Hobby-Lobby Show at Wellesley

The Women's Alliance of the Wellesley Hills Unitarian Church is sponsoring an all-Wellesley Hobby Show which will open to the public at 2 p. m. on the afternoon of Friday, Dec. 8th. There will be exhibits of painting and sculpture by gifted amateurs, as well as collections of choice etchings, glass, china, needlework, dolls, games, stamps, medals, trays, boxes, furniture, and other individual pieces of fine hand-decorated work. Amateur photographers will find an unusually interesting collection of photographs including a group of excellent pictures of the reclamation of the Squamish.

In addition to the exhibits of completed work, there will be an opportunity to see craftsmen and women at their work. Charming ladies in period costume will be weaving on looms of various types and vintage, and dipping candles in the good old-fashioned way. There will be potters shaping their clay, and silversmiths hammering out jewelry and other wares; rug-makers hooking with sundry gadgets, wood carvers working at their blocks, and framers applying gold leaf to their lovely hand-carved frames. Ship builders working on their models and future aircraft designers exhibiting their planes. A printer cutting her blocks and printing her designs.

During the evening a puppeteer will put her little people through their paces and at eight and nine o'clock there will be two short musical programs by the Wellesley Farms bell-ringers. In charge of the exhibit are Mrs. Benjamin Proctor, Jr., and Mrs. Harold Niles assisted by the following committee chairman: Arrangements, Mrs. J. Frank Hayward; Dolls and puppets, Miss Jessie Brang; The Decorative Arts, Mrs. Roland Pendergast; Glass, Mrs. Kirk Metzger; Painting, Mrs. James Janney; Pottery, Mrs. Elmer Mode; Public School Exhibits, Mrs. Arthur Chapin; Rug-making, Mrs. Harold Niles; Silver work, Mrs. Benjamin Proctor; Weaving, Mrs. Alwynne Jealous.

The exhibition will be held in the Unitarian Parish House, in Wellesley Hills, and will be open from 2 p. m. until 10 o'clock, and from 10 a. m. till 3 p. m. on Saturday.

group including grown-ups and little folks were present to bid "Harry" adieu, principal among whom was James Ellis, who bade his old friend a fond "au revoir." Mr. Ellis was born in West Newton 31 years ago and for 50 years was engaged in the milk business. He is descended from old Cape Cod stock. His former farm is now largely cut up into house lots.

Incidentally, "Harry" will not be the oldest member of the happy family at Pine Ridge Rest. Seventeen years ago a Shetland pony came to Pine Ridge Rest from Cohasset, and he was then 32 years of age. Now, at 49, the pony still enjoys life and will make "Harry" feel comparatively young.

disagreeing with both speakers. He said a middle course would be more practical. William Mattson, president of Central Club, presided, and the members and their guests were greeted by Rev. Randolph Merrill, pastor of the Church.

Catch Auto Thief After Long Chase

Frank Kelliher, 18, of Converse st., Brighton, was arrested early Sunday morning by Patrolman Temple of the Watertown police after he had stolen an automobile on Waverley ave., Newton. Frank Rohmer of Mount Vernon ave., Needham, had his car parked in front of the home of Edward Konazian, 32 Waverley ave., where he was visiting, when he observed another car draw up alongside his, a man alight, and both cars drive away. Rohmer stopped a passing car and started in pursuit. At the corner of Park and Church sts. the car thief operating Rohmer's car, lost control of it and it crashed into an iron fence. The thief jumped out, entered the car driven by his accomplice and the other car then speeded down Vernon st. at a terrific speed. Patrolman Dave Dalton, who was on Vernon st., noted the registration numbers on the fleeing car and telephoned police headquarters. Lt. Mahoney broadcast the numbers over the police radio and they were jotted down by Patrolman Temple of the Watertown police. In a few minutes Temple observed the fugitive car on Mount Auburn st., Watertown and he pursued it nearly 3 miles, cornering it opposite the police station in Brighton. Kelliher was then the only occupant of the car, which had been stolen in Brighton on Saturday night.

Kelliher, a parolee from the Lyman Reform School, was placed in the line-up at Boston police headquarters on Monday morning and was identified by a woman as the youth who allegedly snatched her handbag recently while she was walking along the esplanade in Boston. He was arraigned in the Brighton court on Tuesday morning and his case was continued. He was then turned over to the Metropolitan police to be tried on the alleged robbery at the esplanade. He will be arraigned later in the Newton court on the charge of taking the car on Waverley ave.

Automobile Accidents

Isadore Bean of Framingham fell asleep while driving an automobile on Washington st., near the Woodland Golf Club on Saturday morning at 2:10 o'clock and the car hit a tree. Bean received a possible fracture of the right shoulder, and four young men riding in the car received minor injuries. They were taken to the Newton Hospital for treatment.

A car driven by Mrs. Anna Kingham of 17 Elliot ave., West Newton, skidded on Saturday morning about 10:40 opposite 340 Chestnut st., West Newton, hit a hydrant and overturned. Two passengers in the car were injured. Mrs. Susan Sampson of 11 Hollis st., Newton, had four ribs broken, and Mrs. Emma Palmer of 40 Chester st., Allston, received a cut on one knee. They were taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

Ryan Ryan, 7, of 8 Taft ave., West Newton, received a fracture of the right leg and other injuries when he was hit at an intersection of Washington st. and Annopolis rd. by a car driven by Charles Copeland of Lexington. The accident occurred while the child was on her way to school. She was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

Ernesto Barisano, 59, of 317 Nevada st., Newtonville, was hit last Friday night at 7:40 while crossing Washington st., near Nevada st., by a car driven by Patrolman Joseph Kelly of 11 Broadway. He received a broken collarbone and was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

START PRACTICE FOR WINTER SPORT SEASON

Hockey Team Has Six Letter Wearers From 1939 Sextet

The 1939-40 winter sports season is in the offing with candidates for the high school hockey, track and basketball teams reporting this week. The ice season is the first to get underway with first games in the Greater Boston Interscholastic Hockey league being scheduled for a week from tomorrow, Saturday, Dec. 16th.

Coach C. Evan Johnson of the Newton sextet will have six lettermen from his last year's squad available for duty. Captain-elect Walter "Bud" Hurley and "Bunny" Duggan were two-thirds of the Newton coach's first-string line. Other offensive veterans are Cliff Goodband, Al Fessenden, and Johnny Gallagher with Paul "Tony" Hines as the lone experienced defense hand on deck.

Coach Johnson's immediate problem is the building of a defense to cope with the offensive strength of such outfits as Stoneham, Arlington, Modford and Cambridge Latin, to say nothing of the other teams, Melrose, Rindge and Belmont. But the Newton mentor's theory is that the best defense is a good offense. This type of play, continually forcing the attack, often gives opponents an opportunity to score but it provides more thrilling hockey and closer scores than the "waiting-for-the-break" hockey which some teams employ.

SPORT NOTES

—John K. Thomas of 75 Carl st. and Robert E. McCourt of Quinobegun rd. have been awarded freshman football numerals at Northeastern University.

BOB BEATTY ELECTED 1940 NEWTON CAPTAIN

Versatile End Was Leading Scorer For Orange and Black

Robert Beatty, versatile junior end on the season's Newton High football team, has been elected captain of the 1940 eleven. The election was held Wednesday afternoon at a meeting of lettermen of this year's squad. Beatty was the regular Newton right end starting at the wing position in every game and playing all but a few minutes of every contest.

He was also the leading Newton scorer and his consistent and hustling type of play marks him as a potential star wingman. His pass clutching proclivities brought Newton its only scores against Brockton and Brookline. The first was a toss to the end zone into his waiting arms and the second a bullet-pass down the alley for twenty yards followed by a forty yard sprint to the goal line. On this sprint Beatty eluded the threatening tackle of pursuing Brookline tacklers with a shifting, weaving run.

The remainder of Newton's 1939 points were tallied by Joe Beatty, brother of the captain-elect. Captain Brooks Heath, Tony Rezzutti, and Donn Ashley, each with a touchdown, and points after by Phil Teschner and Ashley. Teschner's talented toe accounted for Newton's lone 1939 victory, providing the point margin in the 7-6 score over Fitchburg.

Prospects for 1940 at the present time are brighter than for several years past. Coach Owen MacDowall will have as a nucleus for his second season with the orange and black five regulars from this year's team. In addition to Captain-elect Beatty and his brother Joe, there are also Teschner at the opposite wing, and tackles Bill Kalousdian and Tom Healey. All are juniors with the exception of Healey who is a sophomore and has two more years to go.

Among others who will undoubtedly fit well into the 1940 picture are Art Hugo, guard; Frahe, tackle; Gordon Hobson and French, backs.

Mayor-Elect Goddard to Be Juryman at Murder Drama

The Auburndale Club Players will present "The Night of January 15th" at the Clubhouse, Auburndale, on Friday and Saturday evenings, December 8th and 9th. Curtain promptly at 8 o'clock.

The play, a three-act drama by Ayn Rand, is written in a novel manner; the setting is a court-room during a murder trial, with the audience participating in the action. Jurors selected from the audience, take their places in the jury-box and witness the play throughout as jurors at an actual trial. Near the end of the third act, they withdrew to render a verdict, and the play is concluded according to their decision.

Mayor-elect Paul M. Goddard and Mrs. Goddard will attend the Friday night performance and have consented to serve on the jury. Other prominent Newton citizens will be included in the jury on both nights.

Judge William A. Heath, presiding, is played by Ernest Braithwaite, remembered for many notable roles with the Auburndale Players. Two other old favorites are cast in important parts: Lowell D. MacNutt as the District Attorney; and Clinton Elwell as Stevens, attorney for the defense. The leading role of Karen Andre, the defendant accused of murder, is played by Ridgeley Scammon, a beautiful and talented newcomer to Auburndale audiences.

The production is staged and directed by Florence Krueger, who also contributes one of her best characterizations in the role of Magda Svenson.

Others in the large cast are: Elsa Appelt, Roy Miller, Florence Krueger, Jr., Louise Tardivel, Richard Kenney, Leslie Ford, Charles D. Ansley, Gwyn M. Hughes, Marion Hughes, Emily Kermath, George Peirce, Winthrop Clapp, Shirley Kenney, John Wheelock, Drew Flegal and Priscilla Fortesque.

This production marks the re-appearance of the Auburndale Club Players after a lapse of two seasons.

Rotary Club

At the Rotary Club meeting on Monday at Brae Burn a most enlightening and inspiring talk was given by Mr. William Haddon, Supervisor for the Department of Music of the Works Progress Administration. Mr. Haddon was formerly organist for the Immanuel Baptist Church in Newton. He brought along with him the WPA Rhythm Orchestra composed of seventeen men whose music was greatly enjoyed.

Mr. Haddon brought out some very interesting facts. He went on to say that not the depression but the "talkies," "nickel-in-the-slot" machines and radio-chain broadcasting have in the space of a few years totally changed the employment picture for musicians. Previously three hundred musicians were employed in the City of Boston theatres regularly but today only seven are steadily employed. Twelve hundred and fifty musicians are at present employed in Massachusetts under this Federal Music project.

The project's aim is twofold: to retain the skill of the needy musician and to better equip and aid him for a speedy return to private employment. Flayed members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra are former employees of the project.

LYDIA PARTRIDGE WHITING
CHAPTER

The Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution was entertained at its regular meeting on Nov. 28th, by Mrs. John C. Harvey at her home in Chestnut Hill.

The members had the rare privilege of seeing Mr. Harvey's valuable collection of antique clocks and hearing him tell of the history of time pieces from the sun dial and water clocks to the present day electric clock. A grandfather clock, the oldest in the collection, made about 1756, had neither minute nor second hands. Several banjo clocks made by Simon Willard and a lighthouse clock were of especial interest.

A feature of the afternoon was singing by Nina Mae Forde of songs appropriate to the Thanksgiving season and songs of the clock.

A Lecture on Christian Science

Christian Science: Its Discoverer and Founder

by
PAUL A. HARSCH, C.S.B. of Toledo, Ohio

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church,
The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts

A lecture on Christian Science was given last evening in the Church edifice of First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Newton.

Mrs. Gertrude R. Brayton, Second Reader, introduced the lecturer, and spoke as follows:

Friends: First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Newton welcomes you to this lecture on Christian Science.

We are grateful for the light we shall receive from the lecture this evening, for we know our eyes are to be opened to yet more of the glorious wonders of the revelation of Christian Science. The subject of our lecture tonight is "Christian Science: Its Discoverer and Founder."

Our lecturer is a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

It is a pleasure to present to you Paul A. Harsch, of Toledo, Ohio.

The lecturer spoke substantially as follows:

You have come here tonight to hear about Christian Science. Some of you know a great deal about it already, but want to know more. To others of you it will be a new story which you will want from the beginning. For the benefit of this second group particularly, I am going to give you first a definition of Christian Science in terms of what its Founder, Mary Baker Eddy, declared it to be and its adherents today steadfastly assert it to be.

Then, for the same reason that Christianity itself can be fully appreciated, only if the explanation of it includes the marvelous story of its Founder, Jesus, I am going to tell you something of the woman who, in 1866, rediscovered primitive Christianity and in 1875 gave her discovery to the world in the form of a book which she named "Science and Health."

Christian Science Defined

To begin with the definition, let me read Mrs. Eddy's own words for the book just named to which the words, "with Key to the Scriptures" were afterward added. At page 127 she explains that she employs certain terms interchangeably to define her discovery. These she lists as "Divine Science, Spiritual Science, Christ Science or Christian Science, or Science alone." She then adds, "These synonymous terms stand for everything relating to God, the infinite, supreme, eternal Mind. It may be said, however, 'she continues, 'that the term Christian Science, as applied to humanity, Science alone reveals God, not as the author of sin, sickness, and death, but as divine Principle, Supreme Being, Mind, exempt from all evil. It teaches that matter is the falsity, not the fact, of existence; that nerves, brain, stomach, lungs, and so forth, have—as matter—no intelligence, life, nor sensation."

Because Christian Science has thus revealed God to humanity and exposed the nothingness of matter and all material beliefs, it is unquestionably the gift of God to a world weary with its unanswered prayers and questionings, and its ceaseless struggle for emancipation from a bondage it has heretofore been unable to define or understand. Christian Science is the full and final revelation of divine Principle, God, what He is and how He may be understood.

Christian Science is the answer to the age-old question, "What is man?" It is the only reasonable explanation of the seeming origin and operation of so-called evil, the Adam-and-all-his-works. By this, Christian Scientists mean that Christian Science offers the only possible explanation of mortal existence, that existence which now stands revealed as only a counterfeit of the real; in other words, the material or human experience, in which there seems to be so much of sin, sickness, death, discord, misery, lack, and failure.

Furthermore, Christian Science, as taught by Mrs. Eddy, offers the only real hope there is today for deliverance from the seeming dismal morass of human beliefs in which mortals seem to be struggling; therefore, Christian Science is the present-day Saviour of mankind. This is to say that Christian Science, and Christianity itself scientifically applied to human needs. It is the scientific application of that spiritual understanding which was possessed in such fulness by Jesus and used by him so lovingly and convincingly.

"One lone, brave star"

Christian Science has been likened by Mrs. Eddy in one of her published poems, "Christ and Christmas" (p. 7), to "One lone, brave star" which, she says, "O'er the grim night of chaos shone." As this light of Christian Science penetrates the darkened consciousness of many a wanderer far from the heaven of his hopes and dreams, it seems indeed like such a star. Later, when in his light the struggling one has found his freedom, he rejoices that he has been led by his bright beams, not only to the Bethlehem manger with all its deep significance, but through the experience of the one who was cradled there, into a new and brighter world of peace and hope, a world newly rediscovered for him by Mrs. Eddy—the realm of Christian Science.

The story of the recovering of this light, first brought to the world so long ago by Jesus, is one of the most fascinating stories of modern times.

Moreover, it is a story essential to a full appreciation of what it was which Mrs. Eddy brought back into consciousness in 1866. It is essential to an understanding of what this rediscovered truth is ready and able to do for everyone struggling under the burden of some false material belief.

The fact of course is, that this spiritual light or understanding of the Christ, Truth, has always been present for anyone to see who had "eyes to see." The Christian Science textbook at page 511 puts it this way: "In divine Science, which is the seal of Deity and has the impress of heaven, God is revealed as infinite light. In the eternal Mind, no night is there." Glimpses of this light, the Christ-understanding, were caught by spiritually-minded men long before the time of Jesus, but it remained for the great Master to reveal it in its fullness to the eyes of men. After his resurrection and ascension, for a few short years it continued to be seen, understood, and used in daily life by thousands of human persons. Then, almost incredibly it seemed to be shut off from the world of human consciousness. With the exception of an occasional glimpse, caught from time to time, the light was lost from the world.

Students of religious history, watching the development of the divine idea in human consciousness throughout the ages, offer many different explanations for this phenomenon. None alters the fact that the light was, to all practical purposes, lost to the comprehension of men. Yet, throughout this entire period of darkness, the blind groping of mankind to regain it went on ceaselessly. Its recovery was of incalculable importance, for it is only when the clear light of divine Truth breaks in upon the seeming darkness that the endless groping ends and men see clearly the true path before them. The first great essential, then, for mankind must and ever will be light.

The regaining or rediscovery of this light was to be Mrs. Eddy's high distinction. For years she had vainly sought through many long-tried human avenues for peace, health, and spiritual understanding. The clouds seemed only to settle more deeply. Then, when all seemed utterly lost and her friends believed she was about to pass from their sight, the light of understanding broke. It brought healing on its wings, healing that could only be divine, for it came through no human channel. The beauty, the clarity, and naturalness of divine Truth, the Christ, Truth, breaking in human consciousness often does bring healing in just this way. The next nine years she spent in testing and proving her discovery. Nor was it an easy task to find words and phrases to suitably express her newly discovered understanding to those about her. These years were ones of seeming struggle and trial as she sought to blaze a spiritual trail through the deep tangle of materiality, a trail which others might more easily follow. At last these years bore rich fruit in the form of the Christian Science textbook which, as we have seen, was given to the world in 1875. Thus was Christian Science formally and officially presented to humanity.

Ever-Presence of the Christ-Light

That which took place in the experience of Mrs. Eddy when the light came to her—the incident we spoke of a moment ago as the discovery—was nothing new or unusual. The Bible, on which Christian Science is based, provides many examples of this penetration of light into human consciousness, the process of revelation. On the opening page of that book we find that the first recorded act of creative Mind, God, was the introduction of light—"Let there be light." Where the darkness of chaos seemed to be, there the light of reality, of divine order and perfection, prevailed. Abraham saw and talked with the angels under the great oaks at Mamre, and gained undoubtedly a vision of the true light, the light of divine Truth.

There were others, too, Jacob, for example, perceived the light very dimly, but it sufficed. It came in a dream, so it seemed to him, for then it was that he saw the angels of God ascending and descending from heaven. Moses caught the light at the burning bush when God revealed Himself as "I AM THAT I AM." Elijah perceived it startlingly at Carmel, that ancient, rock-ribbed, storied headland which thrusts itself so boldly into the blue waters of the Mediterranean. It seemed to him then to be a consuming fire. Jesus, on the mount of transfiguration, literally bathed in light.

There is, however, another instance I wish to recall. It is of a different sort, but it serves admirably to illustrate the coming of the light, as well as the mortal resistance to the appearing of that light. Such resistance is one of the aspects of the carnal or mortal mind most difficult to explain until the nature of that mortal mind is understood in Christian Science. This time the light came suddenly and blindingly. It left the one to whom it came stunned as by a physical blow. It came in the broad glare of midday on a heavily traveled highway. It penetrated and dissipated the mental darkness and cruelty of one bent on a destructive errand. A stream of water, played upon a mountainside, disintegrates, reduces, and removes it in somewhat the same fashion. A three-day period of actual physical blindness followed this experience of Saul of Tarsus on the Damascus road. In that interval of introspection and retrospection now carried on in the white light of Spirit, hatred, resentment, self-will, intolerance, human pride of intellect, race and tradition—all faded away. With them went also a false sense of loyalty to old associates still satisfied with the darkness. What a glorious vision the shining, snow-capped summits of the Lebanon Range must have appeared to this one, spiritually reborn and later to be renamed Paul, on the glad morning when, leaving Damascus behind him, he turned his face to the rising sun and the peace and quiet of the Arabian Desert, there to seek for three years the inner meaning of the revelation which had come to him in such a marvelous way but a few days before.

Divine Ideas Supply Human Needs

In each one of these instances of the coming of spiritual light to men there is a lesson of compelling importance. It is this: that God supplies His children unfailingly with ideas, and that these ideas, in turn, furnish mortals with all their human needs. Stated differently, Christian Science teaches that this revealing light of divine intelligence, which illuminated Mrs. Eddy's consciousness as it did that of Paul, comes alike to all whose consciousness is open to perceive it. In this revealing light, the idea or ideas which will meet the human need of the moment must appear.

This point in Christian Science is of deepest importance. "Ideas," Mrs. Eddy says at page 88 of Science and Health, "are emanations from the divine Mind," to which she adds, "Thoughts, proceeding from the brain or from matter, are offshoots of mortal mind; they are mortal material beliefs." Remember this distinction between spiritual ideas and thoughts emanating from the brain as we go on. Ideas can never be lost, destroyed, misplaced, or stolen. Furthermore, they are always productive—productive of good. More thoughts, as all know only too well, are frequently, if not always, as valueless as the thistle-down that floats aimlessly in the autumn haze.

Remember, also, now and always, this vital fact: (1) quote from the Christian Science textbook, page 7, that "It is the all-hearing and all-knowing Mind, to whom each need of man is always known and by whom it will be supplied." When the full significance of this statement breaks in upon a human consciousness groping in the dark, it may for a moment seem like a blinding glare of light; yet it is in exactly such revealing, regenerating light that all true spiritual growth must be made. Without material, physical light no so-called natural growth can take place. So it is with mortals; without the light of Spirit they must ever grope in darkness.

Neither Jesus nor Mrs. Eddy, then, were strangers to the ways of the world. Both, as children, were familiar with a great variety of human affairs. Both felt as children the tragic need of the world for spiritual light. Between her childhood days and the discovery of Christian Science the human experiences of Mrs. Eddy tended to impress upon her this great need. Intense physical suffering, over long periods of many months, turned her thoughts to various healing systems, and acted as a goad to drive her on from one to another until all had failed. Then in her hour of sorest need she came upon the one and only true system—that of divine Mind.

Early Backgrounds

The background of Mrs. Eddy's early life, as well as that of Jesus, is extremely important to an understanding of why they succeeded so signally where many others before them had failed. Our Christian Science textbook explains the remarkable ability of Jesus when it tells us at page 539 that "The divine origin of Jesus gave him more than human power to expound the facts of creation, and demonstrate the one Mind which makes and governs man and the universe." But there were, in the early childhood of both these unusual characters, certain facts of foreshadowing similarity. Both were born in deeply religious homes. Both were surrounded with an atmosphere of love and devotion to the things of Spirit. Mrs. Eddy was reared in a home in which there was abundance. Her father was an educated man, and, according to the economic standards of his day, a well-to-do landed proprietor. His five hundred fertile acres which he had inherited from his father were ample to care for and educate his family of six children. There is nothing to indicate that Jesus was not adequately provided for, both as child and man.

There was another point of similarity in the childhood experience of these two spiritual leaders. The scenes which met the gaze of the boy Jesus as he watched from a commanding hilltop at the edge of Nazareth were unusual. What he saw there rivaled for magnificence and variety anything to be seen in the world of his time. There were imposing mountain and green valleys, to be sure, but the thing which held the rapt attention of the boys of Nazareth was the great highway which swept up from the sea across the plain of Esdraelon, one of the greatest commercial and military roads in the world of Jesus' time. It bore a constant stream of commerce. There were great caravans coming and going from the Far East to the waiting ships at the seashore. There were Roman legions, priests, actors, and laymen in endless variety.

Mrs. Eddy's home faced a vastly different scene but also one of unusual interest. At the foot of the gently sloping hill, on whose crest the homestead was located, and along the winding stream, there passed a roadway. It was then one of the heavily-traveled highways of her state—a highway crowded with the activity of a commonwealth then in its most vigorous stage. Thus her childhood, gan to understand what these words meant.

Yet the full vision was not won, as it was to her at once. As it came to the great Nazarene, it came also to her. Her own recovery from the effects of an injury received in an accident was immediate. Yet the years of patient prayer and search which followed, for a larger understanding of what had really occurred on that day of her deliverance, would indicate that the vision was an unfolding and enlarging one. The early rose-tints in the east foreshadowed the dawn and always precede the glory of the noonday sun. All Bible evidence points to the conclusion that Jesus' understanding of God as infinite Spirit grew naturally and normally in this way. Every recorded act of the Master, beginning with the proof of his divine authority as expressed at Cana of Galilee until the resurrection morn, supports this deduction. Christian Science insists, as we have already seen, upon "Jesus' spiritual origin and understanding," and "the history of Jesus," it points out, "shows him to have been more spiritual than all other earthly personalities" (Science and Health, p. 315). Yet from Cana to Calvary more than one step was required.

Does not the growth in understanding of the Christ, Truth, in human consciousness confirm the normality of this unfolding and enlarging process? To one a bright gleam may appear instantaneously; to another, it may seem like a very tiny glint indeed, coming gradually through some narrow chink; but in every instance it enlarges as consciousness becomes more accustomed to the light and more inclined to welcome its fuller appearing. The glad experience of her own healing, perhaps, quite filled Mrs. Eddy's consciousness at first. But this was not for long. As the true meaning of the light became clearer to her, an understanding of what had actually taken place in her human life began to unfold. Then she realized its import to others. To pass on this light, this revealing Truth which had come to her so naturally and yet in such an amazing way, now became her all-absorbing lifework. Like Paul, her first step was to retire into comparative seclusion for three years to meditate upon the things of Spirit. She wished to study the book that had led her to the light, without the interruption of worldly affairs.

The Beloved Book

This book was the Bible. Always a cherished treasure, the Bible now became her constant companion. Thus, the pages which carried the stories of Paul and Peter and John and the great Master of them all, held her undivided attention, until the clearer light enabled her to grasp the vision of its fuller and deeper meaning. God indeed was Love. He loved her; he loved all His children. He would continue eternally so to do. He could not change this plan, for He is unchangeable good. All this she must have seen as the light grew brighter. These and many other things, which are set forth simply and clearly in the Christian Science textbook, and which are far too numerous to attempt to repeat here, came to her, as her understanding of God as infinite good enlarged. They are part and parcel of the great revelation of Christian Science, and make Christian Science what we have already declared it to be—the present-day Saviour of mankind.

The Goal of Proof

From the very beginning of her discovery, Mrs. Eddy knew intuitively, as Jesus did, that men could be convinced of the truth of the message she felt impelled to bring to them only by demonstration. Would the revealed Truth now do what it had done in the days of the Master? Would it heal? That was the question. Mrs. Eddy recognized that a provable or demonstrable subject must be scientific; it must rest on a solid basis of fact, from which unassailable deductions might be drawn. Reversing the reasoning: if physical healings resulted from her application of the truth about God and man, the truth which she had discerned in the bright light of revelation, then it must follow that that discovery based on fact, old fact must be scientific. Hence, he name Science; and because this Science was to be applied to human needs, it was essentially Christian; in other words, it was an expression of the Christ. This is why she called her discovery Christian Science, and was pointed out in the beginning.

The goal of proof which Mrs. Eddy now set for herself was healing. She proved the correctness, that is, the Science and the Christianity of her revelation, by healing others. She healed those who came to her, and on occasion went voluntarily to those of whose need she learned. Such help was even extended to those who had been given up to die by attending physicians. Thus, from the very beginning, Mrs. Eddy's enlarging understanding of the truth she had discovered was based on a solid foundation of proof. She later wrote in regard to this vital point (Science and Health, p. 147): "The demonstration of the rules of scientific healing will plant you firmly on the spiritual groundwork of Christian Science. This proof lifts you high above the perishing fossils of theories already antiquated, and enables you to grasp the spiritual facts of being hitherto unattained and seemingly dim."

Accumulating proofs during that early period of development of her discovery convinced her beyond question that the method she was employing was the method of the Master Christ. It was divine because it and in it no human mode nor process. Thus she could declare, as she does on page 476 of her textbook, that "Jesus beheld in Science the perfect man, who appeared to him where dining mortal man appears to mortals. In this perfect man the Saviour saw God's own likeness, and this correct view of man healed the sick." She discerned that Jesus' method included a refusal to see the sick or dying mortals humans see. Looking through or beyond the mortal concept of man, Jesus perceived the real man, the man made in the image and likeness of God. This exact and true seeing enabled him to heal the sick. Mrs. Eddy was convinced that her discovery and the method of healing resulting from it were divine, Christian, and scientific, because it coincided so perfectly with this Christ-method of healing.

The Christ-Method of Healing Explained

What is this Christ-method which Mrs. Eddy rediscovered and used to heal the sick in the nineteenth century, as Jesus did in the first half century of the Christian era? This question is no doubt very much in the minds of those among you who are hearing about Christian Science for the first time. You probably also want to know the difference between what Christian Science considers the Christ-method to be and that which Christians generally consider it to be. The difference is this: while all genuine Christians believe implicitly in the healings of Jesus, many, if not most of them, consider these healings to have been miraculous; that is, contrary to or above those so-called laws which seem to govern humans and their activities. They believe these healings to have been part of a dispensation which ended with the presence of the Master and his immediate followers.

Christian Science takes an opposite view. It says that the marvelous ability of Jesus lay in his knowledge of a superior law, the law of God, the Christ-law, his knowledge that there was in reality no other law, his knowledge that the presence of that Christ-law is constant, that it existed from the beginning, and that its presence must inevitably continue for all time to come. Christian Science declares that Jesus' knowledge of the ever-presence of this divine law enabled him to annul on many occasions, the false so-called laws of the human or mortal mind. Thus the Christian Science viewpoint in regard to Jesus' healings, and that held by those who believe such healings to have been miraculous, is entirely different, because based on an altogether different premise.

Christian Science declares that Jesus' understanding of the all-presence and all-power of divine Law was the Christ. This Christ-understanding of divine law as utilized by Jesus and now employed by Christian Science, is the expression or manifestation of omnipotent God Himself. It is this God-power, this Christ-manifestation, which heals disease, discord, and lack. God is Truth and the Christ expresses God as Truth in a form which mortals can and do recognize. When this recognition dawns in human consciousness, healings result, because this very Christ, Truth, this ever-operative, ever-present divine law, dispels those falsities of human belief which seem so constantly to confront us.

Now as for the method itself. When in each recurring year the deep snowdrifts on the high Alps begin to disappear, the mountaineer knows that the winter frosts and cold are over. He sees the rich green of springtime blanketing and beautifying the landscape. Responding to the warmth which first dispels the cold, this glowing transformation takes place. Christian Science teaches that mortals who "come voluntarily, or through necessity, into the sunlight of God's invigorating Truth, experience the same transformation; and Christian Science also teaches that this change may come quite as gently. Jesus stood forever in the warmth of this divine Love. He knew that God was Love, because he was outside the circle where he felt. Besides dwelling always in the warmth of divine Love, Jesus remained perpetually in the light of Truth. Therefore, the shadows and the black foreboding clouds of hate, ignorance, superstition, ritualism, and creed, only delayed, never prevented, the completion of his work. No lie of disease, of hunger, of want or failure, ever crossed the line of his vision unchanged. The white light of the Christ, Truth, the eternal truth of being, so filled his consciousness that naught else could remain there.

That is what Christian Science means by the Christ-method which, it insists, can be and is being used today, quite as effectively as it was used by Jesus on the shores of the Galilean Sea. But there must be kept in thought constantly a clear sense of what this ever-present Christ is. Listen to Mrs. Eddy. In a chapter of her textbook called "Science of Being," she portrays the Christ in words so simple and direct, that once heard and comprehended, the picture they create must remain in thought forever. "The invisible Christ was imperceptible to the so-called personal senses, whereas Jesus appeared as a bodily existence. This dual personality of the unseen and the seen, the spiritual and material, the eternal Christ and the corporeal Jesus manifested in flesh, continued until the Master's ascension, when the human, material concept, or Jesus, disappeared, while the spiritual self, or Christ continues to exist in the eternal order of divine Science, taking away the sins of the world, as the Christ has always done, even before the human Jesus was incarnate to mortal eyes" (Science and Health, p. 334). This Christ is God made manifest to humans, the Christ that saves.

The Prayer of Affirmation

Because the Christ has always operated in human consciousness according to a definite law or Science, and Jesus knew this, his prayers were constant affirmations of the ever-presence and all-power of this Christ-law, rather than petitions to a far-off Father to grant him some special favor. Mrs. Eddy's revelation that Principle was God and underlay all being, enabled her to see the vital truth which formed the basis of the Master's demonstration. She saw that God was Life, All; that disease, decay, death, being no part of divine Life, did not, could not, really exist as fact, that they only appeared to a false human sense to be real.

Seeing this, she quickly realized, and afterward taught, that the most effective prayer consisted of deep, persistent, affirmations of God's allness, His goodness, His loving care of His children. She coupled this prayer with another, also one of affirmation, namely: that evil, sin, disease, and death were unreal, powerless, and incapable of destroying the harmony of being. Of Jesus she once said, that his "humble prayers were deep and conscientious protests of Truth" (Science and Health, p. 12). This was her method and the method she taught consistently. Truth must, because of its very nature, uncover and destroy every falsity which confronts it.

Healing Described

An excellent illustration of Christian Science prayer, based upon this dependable method, is given by Mrs. Eddy in her textbook at page 184. Describing the healing of one suffering from pulmonary tuberculosis at a time when consumption was universally held to be incurable, she tells of sitting by the side of this patient who always breathed with the greatest difficulty when the wind was in the east. Mrs. Eddy remained silently beside the sufferer. Quickly the breathing became normal and soon the patient was healed, not only of the immediate suffering, but of the disease itself, and healed permanently, though as Mrs. Eddy pointed out by calling attention to a near-by weather vane, the wind was still in the east. The treatment had not altered the current of the wind, but had changed the patient's belief about wind and its effect upon her. Truth had destroyed a

Mrs. Eddy gives no further details of this healing except to say (Science and Health, p. 185). "My metaphysical treatment changed the action of her belief on the lungs." In the chapter in Science and Health entitled "Christian Science Practice" she refers again to the treatment of this disease, and at page 425 replies to the question, "What if the belief is consumption?" by saying, "God is more to man than his belief, and the less we acknowledge matter or its laws, the more immortality we possess." To affirm that only good really is, and to believe it, means that we are ready and willing to take from the Father, who is the source of all good and the only source, that which He so richly bestows upon His children. To realize this means that one understands what a Christian Science prayer actually is, and how it may be employed effectively to bring into human experience those things which Jesus declared would be added to all those who sought first the kingdom of God and His righteousness.

Significance of Christian Science Prayer

One more word about prayer is necessary. A Christian Scientist spends much time in prayerful listening for the voice of God. He knows that God, infinite Mind, does answer prayer. He knows that by resolutely shutting out of his consciousness every conflicting, harassing, tormenting evil and unkind thought, he is preparing the way for Truth to enter. He knows that only when he is thus prepared can he hear the voice of God. Therefore, while he does not expect that his human ears will respond to the vibrations of a physical voice, he is not unmindful of the Psalmist's words, "Mine ears hast thou opened." He recalls that Christian Science teaches that "ears," scientifically defined, stand for "spiritual understanding" (Science and Health, p. 585). Thus he entertains an inward conviction, a deep assurance, which satisfies him that God, divine Mind, will direct him. Hence, he waits patiently for divine guidance, though such waiting is never idle waiting. On the contrary, it is most vigorously active waiting, as anyone will testify who has faithfully endeavored to carry out this plan. A Christian Scientist never tells God what he wants and then importunately begs for it. He declares, rather, that his Father has already endowed him with all good, including health, usefulness, and the ability to glorify God. Then he waits confidently for the material manifestation to take place.

Newton Federation Executive Board

The Executive Board of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs met at the Newtonville Library on Monday, November 27th, with Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, president, presiding.

Dr. H. D. Choate reported 46 cases of rickets and that between 800 and 900 children are in need of cod-liver oil. He said the city needed a trained physiotherapist and another milk inspector to meet the demands of the growing population, but that the present budget was not adequate to meet these needs.

The Federation Board then voted a donation of money for cod-liver oil for the Well Baby Clinic.

Attention was called to the "Thrifty Center," the new name for the Clothing Chest, and Mrs. Hay asked all the presidents to help this Center in every way possible. The headquarters are in the First National Bank Building, Newton, and Mrs. Ernest F. Drew, of Auburndale, is chairman.

Mrs. Robert B. McLaughlin reported the need of volunteer drivers to help transport the blind, and also urged each and all to purchase at least one Christmas gift from the Physically-handicapped. Further information concerning this may be secured by calling Centre Newton 2824-J.

The president urged all to be especially careful in obeying traffic rules during this busy season and asked the Club presidents to have "Safety Program" speakers at their meetings during the year.

Mrs. Theron Walker, commissioner of Newton Local Council, Girl Scouts, told of the 43 Girl Scout Troops in Newton, with 17 Brownie Packs, and a waiting list, because of the shortage of leaders; and Mrs. Gordon Heath, Conservation chairman, expressed thanks to the girl scouts for their loyal help in distributing pamphlets concerning buying "Tagged Christmas Greens."

Mrs. Robert S. Bowen, Christmas Seal chairman, urged the citizens of Newton to purchase Christmas Seals to help fight tuberculosis.

Mrs. Hay warned against purchasing tickets of any nature at the door without first calling the Newton Chamber of Commerce to be sure they are legitimate.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

In his talk before the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands Tuesday afternoon, Dr. Boynton Merrill, pastor of The Second Church in Newton, revealed the source of his inspiration for the subject "Chief Workmen on the Upstairs." It was found in a penciled notation on a board in an old church in Bennington, Vermont, which was being renovated. The notation was written in the 1860's, in fact inscribed on the very day that Abraham Lincoln was assassinated, and in its expression of hope that the children of the future would appreciate their land and its freedom it is a striking inscription in the light of what has occurred and what is happening today. This inscription was realized by two carpenters who called themselves "Chief Workmen on the Upstairs."

Laying stress on what can be done in the home to bring out the best in youth, Dr. Merrill stated that if each one does some small task to make things better and easier in our world we can be like the carpenters who wrote the notation on the board in the old church in Bennington, and some may even raise the title of "Chief Workmen on the Upstairs."

During the business session, the matter of purchasing tagged Christmas trees was emphasized by Miss L. Gertrude Sprague.

The Art Corner contained reproductions of famous paintings lent by the Hathaway Book Shop in Wellesley.

Mrs. Thomas Rudkin's third Book Talk will be held on December 12th, at 10 a. m., in the Workshop.

Mrs. Elsie Eaton, a member of the Club, played several selections from Chopin.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Malcolm Green, president, gave her Christmas message to the Club members.

ZONTA CLUB

The Newton Zonta Club met Monday evening, December 4th, at 8 p. m., as guests of Doris Lovell-Campbell at 33 Beaver place, Boston.

A business meeting of short duration was called to order by the chair, Miss Ethel Gammons, president. Matters of importance were disposed of, the business session adjourned, in favor of the evening of gaiety which Mrs. Campbell had so hospitably arranged for the club.

Christian Science Lecture

Do you not see, as this simple method is unfolded, how positively this is the way of salvation? Do you not see how men are thus saved from the ills, the fears, the doubts, the uncertainties of human experience? Do you not see that this must be a true way, because following it has led so many straight into the haven of their dearest hopes? Men are thus saved, not from real failure, real disease, real suffering, real pain, but from the long-held conviction that these conditions are real. They are lifted by the conscious presence of divine Truth out of this labyrinth of unreality into a new world of peace and hope and joy.

Mrs. Eddy as Leader

We have now looked critically at Christian Science as a divine revelation and at Mrs. Eddy as revealer. We have seen, as well, how Mrs. Eddy founded Christian Science as a world religion by demonstration, and thereby demonstrated her right to be known as Founder. We have yet, however, to consider her as Leader. In what way was she Leader as well as Founder, and why does she continue to be, in the most positive sense, the Leader of the Christian Science movement? This question is easily answered by anyone familiar with her life and her writings.

Again and again personally, and through the printed page, Mrs. Eddy enjoined upon her students and members of her church that they follow her only so far as she followed Christ. It was, and continues to be, therefore, an impersonal leadership which she exercised and continues to exercise. Because this leadership is based upon the impersonal and ever-present Christ, Truth, it will continue to be the guiding star of all those who comprehend and love the Christ. Therefore, in examining Mrs. Eddy's leadership, we must constantly look as she did to the Christ, in order to find the motive that actuated each move she made from the moment of her first vision of that healing Christ.

The Christ is universal, confined to no special group, no favored spot, no golden age. Its power can never be shared in the sense of being divided, but may be enjoyed by all alike in equal measure. Its mission is to establish mankind in its rightful place of dominion, that dominion over all the beliefs of a material existence which was promised to man in the beginning. Mrs. Eddy saw all this with the clarity of vision which the Christ itself alone supplies. Obedience to the Christ-vision, implicit and unwavering, was the next outstanding quality which characterized her leadership. Thus impelled by the Christ, she proceeded to share, with all those who would listen, the healing and regenerating message she saw it was her great privilege and duty to pass along to others.

Broadcasting the Healing Message

To carry the message by word of mouth was far too slow a method in a day and age so full of activity and mental virility as the late nineteenth century; so she wrote it down and published it in 1875, as we have seen. The many thousands of copies of that book which have since been sold, attest beyond reasonable question, the universality of its appeal and the inherent power of the word which it contains. The hunger of humanity for more, and still more, of the Christ and its appealing demand found its response again when Mrs. Eddy, obeying her high sense of the challenge of the Christ for a fuller and larger world recognition, established a church. This church, be it understood, was not to glorify persons, herself or others, nor did it provide a vehicle for individual ambition. It was designed as a nucleus, around which those who loved and wished to know more of the universal Christ, Truth, might rally.

Mrs. Eddy declared that "Jesus established his church and maintained his mission on a spiritual foundation of Christ-healing" (Science and Health, p. 136), and her purpose was to re-establish exactly such a church.

This purpose was fulfilled when in September of 1892 The First Church of Christ, Scientist, was organized and named. In the Manual of this church, containing its By-laws and written by Mrs. Eddy, there occurs a brief historical sketch. Here is declared the basis and object of this church. It "is designed to be built on the Rock, Christ; even the understanding and demonstration of divine Truth, Life, and Love, healing and saving the world from sin and death; thus to reflect in some degree the Church Universal and Triumphant" (Manual, p. 19).

Still responding to the summons of divine Love, her oft-used name for Deity, a summons which she understood to be a demand, she provided all the needed equipment to make of this church a spiritual legion "marching as to war," as the poet phrases it. Each such step she saw as an expression of the Christ-mind, the Mind "which was also in Christ Jesus." Because it was a divine idea she knew she could rely upon its divine source, God, to protect it, advance it, establish it in human consciousness. Therefore, she was always content to remain behind the idea, ever willing to subordinate herself, having learned the lesson well that Principle, another of her much-loved names for Deity, could always be relied upon to care for its own.

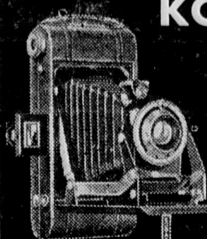

In this fashion there was given to mankind this astonishing organization which we know as the Christian Science movement, with its many churches, its numerous publications, its varied activities for the promulgation and spread of the Christ-message which came to the Leader in that Soul-filled year of 1866. Then does it not seem very clear to us all, that one so dominated by—and the word is used here in the sense of being completely controlled or ruled by—the impersonal Christ could by any possibility have accomplished what Mrs. Eddy did? Because it was ever the Christ, Truth, expressing itself constantly and impersonally through her, Mrs. Eddy became the unquestioned Leader of the Christian Science movement. As an understanding of the Christ grows in human consciousness, resulting from a larger and clearer concept of her teachings, Mrs. Eddy's position of continuing leadership must become ever more secure.

Honor to Whom Honor Is Due

Together we have now mentally climbed hill after hill from which we have gained more distinct views of Christian Science and its Discoverer. We now see that the whole story of Christian Science is one of the coming again of the loving Christ-idea in a form men and women of today can comprehend. We see that the messenger who received this message, bravely carried it, and finally, through great tribulation and infinite joy as well, established it in human consciousness, as entitled to all the credit men can bestow.

But above all is this cheering thought: the presence of the Christ, Truth, in human consciousness, very largely now, is a fact. This wide dissemination is due to the labors of Mrs. Eddy and her loyal and faithful associates and followers. Thus we stand today in the strong light of the revealed Christ, Truth, confidently. We both work and patiently wait for that time to come when all mankind shall measure up to the standard so superbly pictured by Thomas Moore, in words which Mrs. Eddy undoubtedly loved, for she quoted them many years ago:

"When from the lips of Truth one mighty breath
Shall, like a whirlwind, scatter in its breeze
The whole dark pile of human mockeries;
Then shall the reign of Mind commence on earth,
And starting fresh, as from a second birth,
Man in the sunshine of the world's new spring,
Shall walk transparent like some holy thing."

The Immutable Vision

What more remains to be said? We have envisioned together tonight the breaking of the glorious light of Truth. We have seen it grow stronger and brighter in human consciousness. We have realized more than ever before, that mortal man does become, as he opens his eyes more widely to the ever-present Christ, a greater transparency for good. We are convinced that as he becomes more and more such a transparency, he may and does bring into his own experience and that of those with whom he comes in contact, a larger and fuller, a richer sense of health, vigor, joy, harmony, and abundance. This vision is one we cannot lose. It will abide with us forever. Robert Browning voiced his thought of this vision in words I wish to leave with you in parting:

"I am a wanderer: I remember well

One journey, how I feared the track was missed,
So long the city I desired to reach
Lay hid: when suddenly its spires
Afar
Flashed through the circling clouds;
You may conceive
My transport. Soon the vapors
Closed again,
But I had seen the city, and one
Such glance
No darkness could obscure."

Although the compulsory school attendance age limit is 16, minors who have not obtained a certain degree of literacy, must attend day or night school until they reach the age of 21. Delicata told Judge Mayberry that the reason he did not go to night school was because he did not possess proper clothing. He was informed by the judge that he could choose between going to night school or some institution. Delicata chose the former. He was given a suspended fine of $20 and placed on probation.

Wonderly Being Tried For Fraudently Getting Soldiers' Aid From City

His Family Had Over $15,000
Deposits in Several Banks

The trial of Paul E. Wonderly, 44, of Hayden row, Hopkinton, charged with making false representations in order to obtain soldiers' relief from the City of Newton, started in the Superior Court at Cambridge on Wednesday. Wonderly, a former Roxbury resident, resided in Newton about six years, thus obtaining a "settlement" in this city. He then moved to Hayden row, Hopkinton, and was residing there while getting aid from Newton.

Testifying at the trial yesterday, Edmund T. Dungan, Director of the Newton Soldiers' Relief Department, stated that Wonderly's case had been investigated by Harold E. Haffey, another recipient of soldiers' relief, who formerly had served as an investigator in the department. Others had also investigated Wonderly's case. For a time, Wonderly received $15 a week from the city, and in August, 1938, the aid was increased to $20 per week. In November, 1938, for three weeks, while Wonderly was in a government hospital being treated for alleged mental trouble, in November, 1938, the city paid $29 a week to provide for Wonderly's family at Hayden row, including the cost of a housekeeper. Dungan testified that while Wonderly was receiving $1459.95 aid from the city, between April, 1938 and April, 1939, the recipient purchased an automobile. Wonderly also conducted a hat shop at Framingham. In October, 1938, while receiving relief, Wonderly, in addition, received wages from the Newton Street Department, as a temporary employee.

Employees of several banks testified regarding deposits in their institutions in the names of Wonderly and members of his family. Wonderly started one account after he came. (Continued on Page 8)

The most convenient and important arrangement made is the placing of a large sack in lobbies of local post offices in which ONLY City of NEWTON mail is to be deposited.

Recreation Board Plan Community Centre Buildings

The Newton Recreation Commission has appointed a subcommittee consisting of Howard L. Rich and Irving Paul to formulate a 5-year plan for the construction by the city of buildings as community centres. The conduct of community centres has been receiving more attention the past couple of years from the city, and as a result the former Playground Department was evolved into the Recreation Department. For many years a community centre was conducted at the Stearns School, Nonantum, by the Playground Department, and assistance was given by the department in the operation of the Neighborhood House at West Newton. Recently community centres have been established at the Emerson School, Upper Falls, and the Bowen School, Thompsonville. In the newer schools facilities have been provided for community gatherings.

The Recreation Commission has appointed John F. Donahue of West Newton as supervisor of skating to succeed the late Leo Hughes. Mr. Donahue has been associated with playground activities for many years. The commission also announced that the West Newton Common playground will not be flooded this winter for skating purposes as it has been in past winters. This action was taken as an economy measure. The subsoil at this area is of a porous nature and large quantities of water have to be used there before the field becomes flooded. Playground employees have to be paid overtime while flooding the common at night, and attendants have to be stationed there. The children. (Continued on Page 8)

Kenneth S. Dale, Pawtucket, Elected Y.M.C.A. Secretary

Will Succeed Harry Bascom
Who Retires March 1

At a special meeting of the directors of the Newton Y. M. C. A. on Tuesday evening Kenneth S. Dale of Pawtucket, R. I., was selected as General Secretary to succeed Harry W. Bascom whose resignation was announced some weeks ago. Mr. Dale, General Secretary at the Pawtucket Y. M. C. A. for the past eight years, was the unanimous choice of a special committee appointed for the purpose some two months ago. This personnel committee interviewed twenty-four applicants for the position and for several weeks past have been considering the qualification of eight of these.

The special committee reported to the directors on Tuesday night that Mr. Dale had accepted the call they had issued to him to take over the duties of General Secretary on March 1st, 1940. Mr. Bascom, who has served the Newton Y. for thirty-seven years, will continue as general secretary until that time. Following the report of the committee and after some discussion the committee's action in calling Mr. Dale was unanimously ratified by the directors present.

Kenneth S. Dale was born in Gloucester, Mass., on November 13th, 1898, and was graduated from the Gloucester High School. He entered Harvard on a Price Greenleaf Scholarship and at the outbreak of the World War received a special appointment. (Continued on Page 3)

Xmas Safety Tips

Be sure all electrical equipment is safe. Take no chances.

Lighted candles are dangerous. Avoid them.

Beware of accumulations of package wrappings, and keep matches and smoking materials away from them.

Place tree a safe distance from fireplace.

Never leave lighted tree unguarded at any time.

Use metal tinsel, flake asbestos and powdered mica for snow effects instead of paper and cotton.

Be sure there is ample exit space where the public gathers—in stores, churches, schools and elsewhere.

And remove the tree from the house before it becomes dry.

Three-Alarm Fire At Newtonville In Lumber Mill

The Strangman lumber mill at Crafts st., Newtonville, was the scene of another serious fire last night. The Strangman Company manufactures builders finish, and the president of the company, Solon Small of Needham, estimated the loss to the building and stock at about $50,000. The mill, a two story brick structure, sets about 100 feet in from Crafts st. The fire was discovered about 9:17 by William Britton, manager of a nearby gasoline station. An alarm was pulled from Box 242 at 9:22 and a third at 9:36, which brought all Newton apparatus, and engines from Watertown and Waltham, as well as the lighting plant from Waltham. Chief Randlett, who was ill at his home, went to the blaze when the second alarm came in.

Fireproof windows had withstood the flames until the firemen arrived. At that time the blaze was centered near the centre of the building on the Crafts street side, and dense smoke poured from the structure, handicapping the firemen. Windows were smashed to vent the building, and the flames rapidly spread through the mill and worked through the roof. The dense, acrid smoke, and the intense heat. (Continued on Page 8)

In May, 1939, he was elected Vice-President. During the forty years he has been associated with the bank, Mr. Clark has missed very few days on account of disability and he expects to continue his work for many years to come. When Mr. Clark joined the staff of the bank it had occupied the present building for one year, and had two clerks beside the treasurer. Mr. Clark received congratulatory letters and floral tributes from other banks on his anniversary day, and a fine present from the officers and clerks of the bank.

Highlands Dog Shot At Eliot

A dog owned by Dudley Rhodes of Gilmore terrace, Newton Highlands, was found shot on Tuesday. The animal crawled to the entrance of a house on Canterbury rd., Newton Highlands. The left front leg of the dog had been ripped by gunshot. A trail of blood led to the aqueduct near the Eliot railroad station. The dog was sent to Angell Memorial Hospital.

A new city office, that of "Soldiers' Relief Physician," will be created if the Mayor of Newton approves the action of the Board of Aldermen in passing a motion at the meeting of the Board on Monday night. The resolution, which was unanimously adopted by the Aldermen, provides that the Claims & Rules Committee of the Board, in co-operation with the City Solicitor, prepare an ordinance which will authorize the establishment of such an office. The motion was introduced by Alderman Colby, following a closed door meeting of the Board as a "committee of the whole." It is as follows:

"That medical attendance and care and all matters related thereto, including the dispensing of suitable medicines therefore, furnished to those sick veterans and their dependents who receive aid from the city through the Soldiers' Relief Department, be placed, under the direction of the Soldiers' Relief Commissioner, in the hands of a physician, to be known as the Soldiers' Relief Physician."

"That the Claims & Rules Committee by and with the advice of the City Solicitor, be requested to prepare and submit for the consideration of this Board, amendments to the existing ordinances of the city, necessary to accomplish the above purpose."

Early this year, following charges made by Alderman McCabe regarding alleged abuses in the Newton Soldiers' Relief Department, a special committee of the Aldermen was appointed to investigate this department. Among other things, Alderman McCabe had told his fellow members of the Aldermen, that one recipient of Soldiers' Relief in Newton had received from the city in one year, a total of nearly $5000, plus several hundred dollars he had received from the Federal government. Recipients of Soldiers' Relief are entitled to receive aid not only for themselves, but also for their wives and other dependents, including medical care. The special committee found that in some cases big bills for medical care of recipients of Soldiers' Relief had been received from physicians and hospitals. In a report. (Continued on page 8)

THE HIGHLAND GLEE CLUB

The annual fall concert of the Highland Glee Club of Newton on Tuesday evening further emphasized the value of this musical organization to the community. Once again as in the past thirty-two seasons a typical Newton audience was not only entertained but deeply impressed by the quality and excellence of the program offered. And we cannot pass by the opportunity to mention the excellence of the guest artists, a harp ensemble, which played in perfect harmony. No music lover could fail to be deeply appreciative of their efforts. Yet the outstanding feature of the singing of the Highland Glee Club is the remarkable fact that such a group of men are not only willing but enthusiastic in their response to the giving of the necessary time to reach the height of perfection which they have attained through the years, attested by the honors and prizes won in competition with other similar organizations. On leaving the high school auditorium with regret that the concert was ended our thoughts dwelt upon the value such an organization brings to a community, another of the many reasons that make Newton the best city in which to live.

THE PARKING PROBLEM

A letter from one of our readers this week calls attention to the growing problem of store parking. It is one which requires constant attention. Some months ago we had occasion to study the question of parking meters and we were considerably impressed with their advantages. We do not contend that such devices would be the practical solution of Newton's parking problems but in many congested shopping areas they are the only practical remedy. Possibly it would be desirable to go into this question as it might apply to Newton at considerable length. We simply suggest that it might provide some measure of relief from a continually increasing vexatious problem.

Letters To The Editor

PARKING PROBLEM

To the Editor:

The following note about parking in business areas from the News Letter of the American Society of Planning Officials of December may be of interest to those who are trying to solve the store parking problem:

STORES PROVIDE PARKING

A survey conducted by the National Retail Dry Goods Association in 75 cities in 31 States reveals that nearly half of all stores covered offer parking facilities of some kind to the shopper. Such facilities may cost the merchant as little as 3.6c (three and six-tenths cents) per car. The survey showed a minimum cost of .02 per cent of net sales, with a median figure of .11 per cent.

There may be other data that the editor may know of that will probably help those trying to solve this difficult problem in our restricted widths of streets. We are in a new era as compared with the time that our streets were planned and the modern methods of transportation do not fit the old-time planning.

HERBERT J. KELLAWAY.
Dec. 11, 1939.

STREET COASTING

To the Editor:

I should be ungrateful indeed had I forgotten a part of the speech I made during my recent campaign for Alderman-at-Large from Ward One, at a rally in the Frank A. Day Junior High School. That evening I made reference to Section 16 of the standing Ordinances of the Board of Aldermen, which in other words states, that at the discretion of the Street Commissioner, certain streets of each ward shall be set aside for coasting each winter.

As the winter months of snow approach, I believe this time to be most appropriate to seek favorable action on that Ordinance—No. 16.

How many times during the winter season do we read the newspaper, only to find that countless numbers of youngsters of tender years have met with death or serious injury from motor vehicles due to their desire to coast on unprotected City streets.

The problem demands immediate attention by the street commissioner, police department and most important of all, by parents of children. The means of saving the children from accidents due to motor vehicles on unprotected streets are within our means, if we'll only insist upon it.

From you, Mr. Editor, I seek your co-operation in giving this appeal added publicity in NEWTON GRAPHIC.

When the last of the snow has melted, I am positive, beyond a doubt, that the City of Newton can boast of less accidents due to coasting.

Respectfully yours,
THOMAS F. WATERS,
41 Summit St., Newton.
December 9, 1939.

Christmas Seal Sale

"Life and Health Are Yours to Give" and the opportunity is presented to all through the purchase of Christmas Health Seals.

The money received from the sale of these seals determines to a great extent the work which may be accomplished in the protection of the community from tuberculosis. The sale is conducted by mail in this city as it is almost everywhere in the United States. Some communities augment their mail canvass by sales from booths, but experience in Newton has proved the present system to be the wisest one to pursue. The seals may be purchased from members of the Sale Committee or from the Family Service Bureau at 12 Austin st., Newtonville. No seals are supplied by the committee to be sold in the public or parochial schools. Anyone wishing to purchase seals may telephone West Newton 1255 and seals will be supplied through local chairmen.

The receipts as of December 11th are as follows:

Powers' Paragraphs

Various city governments of Newton in years past have shown not only poor judgment by their failures to eliminate existent traffic hazards when favorable opportunities were presented, but also lack of foresight in not removing traffic hazards when such work could be done at comparatively small cost. Forty-five years ago when Washington st. was widened in conjunction with the lowering of the Boston & Albany tracks, there was strong agitation for the removal of the old bank building on the island at Newton Corner, and for the removal of the few small buildings then owned by the late James French at the southeast corner of Washington and Centre sts. These buildings could have been made at that time without large cost. Had these properties been purchased then by the city, the serious traffic conditions which have since prevailed at Newton Corner, would have been avoided. Ten years ago when the old Eliot Block was torn down, the writer endeavored to have the Board of Aldermen take a small area of land to widen the very dangerous corner at Centre and Elmwood sts., but his efforts were in vain. A small taking at the Northwest corner of Centre and Pearl sts., during the several years this lot has been vacant, would have prevented the blind corner now created at this heavily traveled point, caused by the erection of the new market there. On Centre st. near the old cemetery is a very dangerous curve. Many accidents have occurred there, and traffic policemen are frequently stationed at this spot to apprehend automobile drivers who pass other cars on this blind curve. It would not cost the city much to take sufficient of the vacant land abutting this curve on the former Colby estate. Before many years, it is probable this land will have been built on, and the dangerous curve will remain to menace future generations.

Why do all your Christmas shopping in Boston? Stores in Newton are displaying unusually large stocks of attractive merchandise at prices as low or lower than in Boston. In addition, most of the Newton stores offer credit to responsible persons, and customers avoid the crowds and parking difficulties prevalent in Boston. Trade in Newton.

Wasn't it very magnanimous of the captain of the British submarine who refrained from sinking the "Bremen" because he respected the international law regarding the torpedoing of ships without warning. Isn't there another law regarding the rights of neutral ships which Britain is not obeying? Seizing U. S. mail from U. S. ships, for instance.

Admiral Yarnell, back from China, adds to the testimony that it is Japan's intention to oust American business from China and the East. The conquest of China by Japan has been made possible by the U. S. A. providing the materials with which to conduct the war, and this country is preparing to spend billions for defence against Japan in the future. What a brainy nation is the U. S. A.; and what avaricious persons are in it.

Several years ago the Newton Board of Aldermen passed an ordinance forbidding all-night parking of automobiles on public streets. There were several reasons for this ordinance. To start with—the parking of automobiles on public highways without parking lights is a violation of a State law; it creates a serious traffic hazard. Using public streets for garages is an imposition on neighbors, handicaps the fire department, and prevents the proper plowing of streets after snowstorms. Now that winter has started, why does not the Newton police department enforce the ordinance?

In the GRAPHIC this week are three photographs. One shows a small house at 34 Farwell st., Newtonville, near the North st. dump. It was formerly the home of Patrick McKenna and his family. A second photograph shows a part of the North st. dump across Farwell st. from the McKenna house. The third photograph shows the Newton Street Department incinerator off Eliot st., Newton Highlands. The incinerator was built in 1934 at a cost of over $184,000. For many years there had been agitation in Newton for an incinerator to end various nuisances caused by dumps. The new incinerator is a frequent fire at dumps, which cause acid smoke and smell to spread over wide areas. A second nuisance was the blowing of paper from dumps over surrounding neighborhoods. A third nuisance was the breeding of vermin in dumps. It was argued that by only depositing solid fill or non-combustibles in dumps, and by burning combustibles and food containers (including tin cans) in an incinerator, the dump nuisances would be eliminated. Also the need of having fire apparatus frequently sent to dump fires, and the resultant use of large quantities of water, would be ended.

After much discussion it was decided by the Mayor and Board of Aldermen in 1934 to build an incinerator at Newton Highlands. And it was to be a super-incinerator; one that would not only burn combustibles, but also the garbage of this city. It was argued that it might be more practical and sanitary to burn garbage than to dispose of it as pig-salad. One medical man, then a member of the Board of Aldermen, was strongly in favor of a garbage-burning incinerator, and prophesied that nearby towns might refuse to permit garbage loaded trucks from Newton to travel through their territories. The incinerator was built and in 1935 was placed in operation. For a comparatively short period all the combustibles, tin-cans, et cetera, were carried to the incinerator. But not for long. It became evident that much time was lost by rubbish trucks in traveling from certain sections of the city to the incinerator at Eliot st. So combustibles and food containers were again deposited in the dumps, fires have been occurring and vermin have been breeding.

A couple of years ago an army of cockroaches from the North st. dump invaded the McKenna home on Farwell st. The McKennas made a valiant fight against the bugs, but finally had to leave their home. The city engaged insect exterminators to fumigate the McKenna house, and the cockroaches were supposed to have been exterminated. They were, for a short time, but after the McKennas had returned to their home, other armies of cockroaches again overran the house, forcing the unhappy family to abandon their home. The McKennas have been endeavoring to obtain redress from the city, and to have their former home made habitable. The North st. dump is nearly filled now, and nothing but solid fill is being placed at the present time by the city. Although many tree stumps were dumped there, combustibles and food containers are being dumped in the Pine st. dump at West Newton and at the dump off Beacon st. near Cold Spring swamp. The Street Department can't take all the combustibles and food containers to the incinerator because it hasn't sufficient money at its disposal for this added cost. To have erected a far less costly incinerator at Eliot st., and to have erected a second, not too costly incinerator at the North side of the city. The Eliot st. incinerator is the second costly mistake at that locus. Alongside it is the $100,000 stable, built a few years before the Newton Street Department largely replaced horse-drawn wagons by motor trucks.

Another photographic reproduction in this week's GRAPHIC is that of the Davenport lot in the old cemetery on Winchester st., Newton Highlands. A member of this family left a small fund, the income of which is to provide perpetual care for the family lot. Recently the sum of $79 which had accrued from the income of the fund, was used to improve the appearance of the lot. But the Davenport lot, and the other lots in the little old cemetery on Winchester st., will soon be quite close to a lumber yard on city-owned land adjoining. A lumber company which occupied a lot to the other side of the cemetery, has leased the lot (from the city) on the North side of the old burial place, and one large, unsightly shed had already been moved to the new locus. The Mayor and Aldermen apparently did not believe in using the land the city owns next to the old burial place for the purpose of enhancing the appearance of the little cemetery. In former years the lot was used as a pipe-yard. Several years ago this adjunct to the South Cemetery was discontinued. Now, it is to be succeeded by a lumber yard. Thus is the memory of the old-timers of the South Side honored.

Many residents of Newton have house pets. In Newton there are thousands of dogs and cats, rabbits, tame mice, tropical fish and birds of various species, including canaries, lovebirds and parrots. The latter are ideal for those who would counterfeited the colored feathers worn in hats, and vertebrae the fact. The city has contributed to a campaign for a charitable purpose.

The action of President Roosevelt in changing the date of Thanksgiving Day at the behest of an executive (not a descendant of the Pilgrims) of an association of dry goods merchants, for the purpose of extending the Christmas shopping season, causes the Old Farmers' Almanac to doubt. That accurate forecast of the future, which has been so popular for 148 years, in its 1940 issue lists November 21st as Thanksgiving Day, but follows it with a question mark.

If you are one of those fortunate persons who has some surplus money with which to purchase Christmas gifts, don't forget that there are in Newton many little children who look wistfully at the displays in store windows, and to whom a gift of warm clothing would be a real act of charity.

Candidates for the Democratic and Republican nominations for President have started campaigning, and some of them are busy reading speeches—written by other men.

According to the verdict of naval experts speed overcame power in the battle between the "Graf Spee" and three British cruisers near Montevideo, speed overcame power. We believe that the three to one ratio was the deciding factor but unquestionably speed is of paramount importance in modern naval warfare. The United States naval experts, however, through the years, have been designing warships more on the basis of power than speed, and the battleships and cruisers of this country can't match the speed of those of other countries.

This peculiar European war becomes more and more peculiar. Otherwise, how could the "Bremen" travel from Murnansk, through the Arctic and down along the Norwegian coast to Germany, with scores of British warships supposedly guarding the intervening seas, and with the waters mined?

55 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, December 6, 1884

The opening week of December has brought glorious weather with clear skies, bracing air, but not too cold, and magnificent moonlight evenings.

The city clerk has closed his accounts of dog licenses for this year and finds that 913 canines have the right legally to live in this city.

The correct thing for a holiday gift this Christmas is one of those elegant cabinet frames for photographs. Glines' Studio has a choice assortment in gold, bronze, plush, oak and velvet.

The grammar and primary schools this week began the experiment of opening the afternoon session at 1:30 and closing at 3:30, thus bringing all the school work within the daylight period. The change is liked by both teachers and scholars.

Herbert F. Bent conducted the Gospel meeting at the Newton Y. M. C. A. last Sunday; Charles F. Bacon played the organ and W. H. Partridge led the praise service. Mr. Bent spoke forcibly upon the habit of looking with indifference upon spiritual and religious things, while in the common affairs of everyday life everything is attended to with promptness and decision.

The recent change in the telephone service has taken 59 subscribers at Newton out of the Newtonville exchange. The Newtonville office now has 73 lines in use, with 120 subscribers. The amount of work done by the Newtonville operator is about the same as before the change, as she now has no assistant. The Newton office has direct wires to the Waltham and Cambridge offices, but connections to Boston and all other places have to be made through Newtonville. The connections between Newtonville and Boston average 33 a day.

Patrick Mulvaney of Derby st., West Newton, lost two little children with scarlet fever within a week. The older, a girl of 7, died on Thanksgiving Day; and the younger, a year old, on Wednesday.

The funniest feature of the city election on Tuesday was the race for School Committee member from Ward 3 between Mr. and Mrs. George A. Walton; the former on the Republican, the latter on the Citizens ticket. This was probably the first time on record where woman's rights have led to husband and wife running for the same office. Walton, having the Republican endorsement, won by a large majority. It is presumed that the many of an esteemed family has not been disturbed by this political contest, as the rival candidates came to the polls together.

Richard James of Williams st. has gone to Washington Territory on business.

Anyone competent to give instruction on scientific whist will find an opportunity, as an advertisement in the business notices is from a lady who desires lessons.

The committee in charge of soliciting funds for the Y. M. C. A. building is meeting with gratifying success. One of the locations talked of, which would be quite central, is the lot next beyond Brackett's new block on Centre st. This project ought to appeal to everyone interested in the young people of Newton.

As Mr. W. W. Montgomery of Carlton st., Newton, was driving into the yard at Daniel's Stables on Sunday afternoon, he did not make sufficient allowance for the sharp turn. The carriage tipped over. He was not injured, but his wife and his mother received painful cuts and bruises.

It is suggested that in consideration of the large number of pupils absent from school because of the whooping cough, that the afternoon session in the schools be held for the benefit of the "whoopers." It is too bad that they should lose so many weeks of schooling when there are enough of them to fill a good-size school building.

C. H. Taintor, the Newtonville news-dealer, had the contract for placing a copy of the GRAPHIC in every house in the city last Saturday, in the interest of one of the candidates for Mayor. By means of using several horses and wagons, and his force of newshoys, the work was finished by noon. As there are some 3500 houses in the city, scattered over 100 or more miles of road, the undertaking was one of magnitude. Mr. Taintor did the work in fine shape.

A preliminary meeting for the formation of a veteran firemen's association was held in Knights of Honor Hall, West Newton, last Friday night. It was attended by about 40 veterans, including many of the old firemen who had been members of the hand-tub companies. A few presences had been members of the Town of Newton fire department in 1845.

College News

By GEORGE W. HUTCHINGS, N.H.S. '39

Along with the belated arrival of winter come the collegians returning for the Christmas holidays. Even those whose distance from Newton made a Thanksgiving homecoming impractical will be on hand for the Yuletide festivities. Be on the watch for them during the next four or five days.

Pembroke College, the women's auxiliary of Brown University, announces that Clara N. Schwab, daughter of Mrs. Newton W. Schwab of 230 Cabot st., Newtonville, has been appointed as an ex-officio member to the Christian Association Drive Committee whose purpose it is to collect money to be sent to refugees all over the world. Miss Frances Tompkins of Seekonk, Massachusetts, committee chairman, announced in an undergraduate assembly recently that this Student Service Fund Drive, the first of its kind, would begin immediately, with the committee members acting as collectors. Money gathered will be sent to the International Student Service, the Far Eastern Fund, or the American Friends Service Committee, as designated by the donor. Impressive in the start of the drive was Joseph Wang, a Chinese graduate student at Brown who addressed the Pembroke student body on the need for help of the Far Eastern and European peoples. Clara has been extremely occupied in all Christian Association activities since she matriculated to Pembroke in the fall of 1936. At Newton High she was voted the "girl who did most for the senior class," and was judged one of the "most typical" girls in the class of '36. Elected to the office of Class Secretary in her sophomore year, Clara performed her duties with such capability and finesse that she was accorded the same honor at each succeeding class election. Other positions in which she served were member of the Executive Committee for three years and Girl's Vice-President of the Associates. She was also President of the Alpha Beta Club, Chairman of the Social Board, on the Senior Prom Committee, and a consistent winner of scholarship grades. Her high marks and qualities of service and leadership were recognized and rewarded with her election into the Newton Chapter of the National Honor Society. Newton can be justly proud of the record which Clara has established at Pembroke; it is pleasantly typical of the reports which we get on nearly all of the local lads and lasses who have cast their lot with the institutions of higher learning.

Shirley Hanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Hanson of 80 Atwood ave., Newtonville, also enrolled at Pembroke, sang second alto in the Pembroke College Glee Club which presented a joint recital with the Glee Club of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Providence recently. A joint concert by the same two groups met with such success last year that a similar recital was arranged to open this year's Pembroke Glee Club schedule. The two organizations combined effectively on two numbers, "The Round about the Starry Throne" from Handel's "Samson," and "Enlita Spiritum" by Schuetky. Each club then presented two groups to round out an extremely impressive program. Following the concert there was a formal dance for the participants in the Crystal Room of Alumnus Hall. Shirley graduated from South Side High School, Rockville Centre, New York. This fact does not in any way cause us to hesitate in referring to her as one of Newton's brighter satellites.

The Fraternity Pledge Board of Colby College in Waterville, Maine, announced that two Newton students had registered their intentions of joining a Colby fraternity. Gubert S. Beckwith, son of Mrs. Florence S. Beckwith of 12 Billings park, Newton, and James W. Moriarty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester A. Moriarty of 60 Athol st., Newton Centre, both chose Delta Upsilon Fraternity to the others on campus.

Ernest Colantonio of 215 Adams st., Newton, and Gerard R. DiNapoli of 195 Commonwealth ave., Chestnut Hill, have been awarded their varsity letters for participation in football at Northeastern University. It was announced by Professor Edward S. Parsons, Director of Athletics. Ernie played football at the University of New Hampshire, was a member of the National Honor Society, Legislature, Executive Council, Orange Shield, Vice-President of his class two years, and treasurer the third. He was also

Yuletide Line of March

Thoughts of one another are more frequent as Christmas approaches, which is indeed admirable. The vision is, however, somewhat chaotic inasmuch as it involves a procession of possible, and not infrequently, impossible presents. The mind turns to the head of the house and about him one sees cigars, neckties, slippers, shirts and things he is certain to find useful. Thoughts of her who administers the details of the home are even more extended, including pretty things to wear, perfume, the kind of books she is fond of reading and, of course, something she often expressed a wish to possess. The young woman of the family is given particular attention in the mental picture for she is discriminating, indeed, and wants to be known as fully up to date. The gifts she would like to receive run up to the higher brackets of the family budget. The young man of the home does not appear so eager but he would be deeply disappointed if he did not receive a sweater, perhaps, hockey or skiing equipment and this and that. A young man should have a watch. Then come the friends who must be remembered, too, and whose tastes must first be considered if the gift is to be genuinely appropriate. And so the parade keeps moving in one's mind until the last bundle is tied with gay ribbons, suitably decorated and properly addressed. A grand display of giving that marches on right up to Christmas.

Timely Warning

A little more than two weeks and 1940 will be here. Practical people will have prepared for it with calendars, almanacs, appointment pads, engagement books, diaries, etc., ready for immediate use. To be caught without might leave us wondering what the day and date may be. That would never do. You know how small things upset. Look at what happened from the moment two Thanksgivings were announced. The moral is plain. Do your calendar chiseling early.

Greeting Census Enumerators

If Federal census enumerators are to be given some training for their tasks of next year, why not a little instruction for those of us who will be called upon to answer their questions. We are a busy people but not too engrossed in our struggle for a living to sit own for a few words of helpful teaching. How are we expected to treat these enumerators?

of the department is looking for a suitable lot of land, but no one seems desirous of having the fire station next to his home.

One man refused to vote for Mayor Burr at the recent election because the street lamps have not been kept lighted all night, and his administration has been too economical. This man is a very heavy taxpayer, and says he wants modern conveniences, and doesn't care what they cost. The economy issue used by the opposition was completely used up before the campaign was over.

Little Time to Spare

I must say it was something of a surprise to me that the National political situation should be submitted for public consideration prior to the holidays, but as long as it has we might as well give it whatever attention our leisure permits. Thus far we are hearing from candidates for nomination, which, of course, means that these men want to head the ticket of their party. There is one man who may want to do that very thing but who prefers to keep us guessing. On the other hand, he may have no plan to continue in public life and yet have us worrying over it until the last minute. Well, I am not going to concern myself about any man who doesn't come out and say flatfootedly that he is a candidate. Those who make no bones about it are the kind I like. As I said a minute ago, the subject at this time is worthy of whatever spare time we have. Thus, I shall end this paragraph here and now because I am busy with other matters.

All Hands Satisfied

"Let the snow fall, who cares?" phones Gladys. "The prophecy in your column of an extra amount this winter is nothing for me to worry over, thank you just the same. When the city authorities used to require that we clean our sidewalks, my husband always complained of the shoveling he had to do. The city now says you needn't clean them if you don't want to. That suits my husband perfectly. It makes him wonderfully good natured, which sure is a break for me. So, I say, 'let the snow fall!'"

"Holiday Clearing House" for Xmas

A "Holiday Clearing House" for Christmas Baskets has been set up by the Newton Community Council at the office at 93 Union st., Newton Centre. First established five years ago, the Clearing House has proved of great value in organizing the distribution of holiday baskets and dinners among the needy of the city.

At Thanksgiving time 22 organizations checked 275 names through the clearing house and by so doing avoided duplication in 25 cases. The Social Service Index Committee, which conducts the Clearing House, suggests that Newton people who plan to give baskets to the less fortunate this year check the names through the Clearing House. By so doing they will avoid duplication and make it possible to see to it that all needy families are helped at the Christmas time.

ment to West Point where he remained until 1919. After the Armistice he resigned his commission.

His first work with the Y. M. C. A. was at Lynn where he served as Associate and later as Boys' Work Secretary from 1920 to 1923 during which time he was director of Camp Rotary. In June 1923 he joined the staff of the Providence Y. M. C. A. and specialized in group work with older boys. In January 1930 he became Boys' Work Director at the Pawtucket Y and director of Camp Westwood. Upon the retirement of George H. Peabody as general secretary in October 1931 Mr. Dale succeeded to that position which he has since held.

Mr. Dale is a Deacon in the Park Place Congregational Church of Pawtucket and teacher of the Park Place Men's Bible Class. He is a Past President of the Pawtucket Rotary Club, a member of Union Lodge A. F. & A. M., charter member of Capt. Lester S. Wass Post No. 3 of the American Legion, past president of the Blackstone Valley Council of Social Agencies, vice-president, R. I. International Commission on Social Action, and secretary-treasurer of the Blackstone Valley Ministers' Union. He was the founder and organizer of the Universal Club, composed of younger ministers and laymen meeting monthly at Brown University. In April of this year he was elected for a one-year term as moderator of the State Conference of R. I. Congregational and Christian churches.

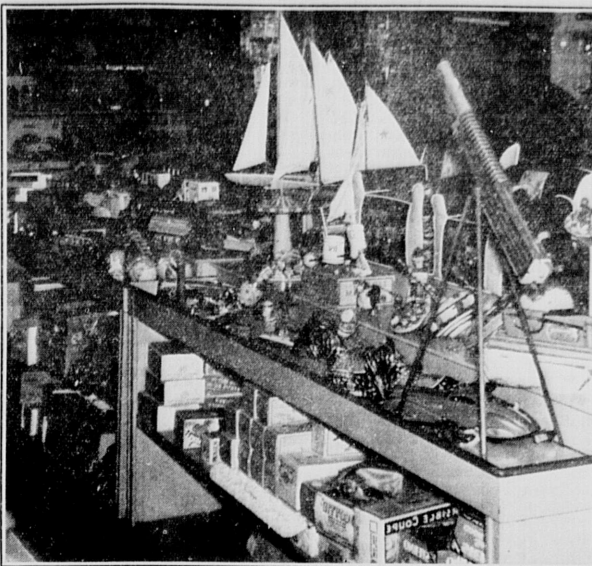

Mr. Dale's work in Pawtucket has largely been in terms of building rehabilitation and extension of the Association's group work program.

The personnel committee which considered the selection of a general secretary was comprised of Frederick S. Bacon, chairman, President F. A. Day, ex-officio, Basil G. Dandison, Paul E. Ellicker, Samuel T. Emery and James B. Melcher.

Bequeaths $10,000 To Housekeeper

The will of the late Florence A. Cummings of 127 Eastbourne rd., Newton Centre, was filed for probate at East Cambridge last week. It disposed of an estate of $168,000, including specific bequests of $30,000. To her housekeeper, Mrs. Ellen Heane, she left $10,000 and the use of her former home for one year. A trust fund was created, the income to go to relatives. Upon their deaths $5000 will go to the Fogg Academy at South Berwick, Maine, and $5000 to a fund for the benefit of graduates of Shapleigh, Maine, High School. The balance of the estate will then be divided equally between the Peabody Home for Crippled Children, Perkins Institute for the Blind, and the Children's Hospital.

Taxpayers' Assn. States Position on Community Centers

An announcement in the local newspapers made by the Newton Recreation Commission refers to a five year building plan for the construction of buildings for community centre activities throughout the city. The Newton Taxpayers' Association heartily approves of community centers provided they are not built and equipped by the city nor maintained by the city. Already, several sections of Newton have community centers, such as the Waban Neighborhood Club, the Squash and Tennis Club of Newton Centre, the West Newton Neighborhood Club and others. The Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, the Y. M. C. A. and various churches offer many advantages for citizens and their children for recreation of all sorts. These establishments are financed in various ways but not from city funds. The churches undoubtedly would be willing to open their doors to added community activities if requested to do so.

The Taxpayers' Association points out that the per capita debt in Newton is now the highest of any city in Massachusetts except Boston. To build community centers out of taxpayers' money will increase our debt. If various communities in Newton feel they should have a club house of some sort, let them build what they want and raise the money themselves from the people who will use the community center, and by annual dues take care of maintenance.

The Taxpayers' Association believes that the time has come to call a stop to additional expense on the part of the city and that the tax burden should be lessened, not increased. Citizens of Newton cannot complain about the cost of city government and the tax rate if they, at the same time, are advocating city financed Community Centers and bigger and better playgrounds, for these are among the items that keep our tax rate high.

—Alfred Hansen of 5 Chiswick rd. reported to the police on Tuesday that a burglary had been committed at his home. Entrance was made by breaking glass in the front door while the house was unoccupied.

—At the Church of the Messiah on Sunday morning, the Rev. Chester A. Porteus, rector of Saint Paul's church, Natick, will be the guest preacher. The Rev. Richard P. McClintock will preach at Natick but will return to address the Young People's Fellowship in the evening.

Salvation Army Campaign Now On

Five official collectors are working among the men and women of Newton, as The Salvation Army sponsoring group hope for a rapid response so that the $5,000 quota may soon be reached. State Representative Douglas B. Francis, chairman of the committee, urges all to send their donation or hand it to the committee's treasurer, if they have not been contacted by the bonafide collectors—Bernard Stone, Lealand Cady, Sergeant-Major Thomas Downie, John H. Roberts and A. R. Veniot. The treasurer of the sponsoring organization is William M. Cahill, treasurer of the Newton Trust Company, Newton Centre.

The last report from Mr. Cahill on Wednesday indicates that more than half of the quota has been received. The sponsoring chairman in talking about The Salvation Army appeal here said:

"Who among us will turn a deaf ear to the annual appeal for funds from The Salvation Army?"

"No charitable organization is more worthy of your support than this Army That Never Sleeps, but is on duty 365 days a year, hurling its help squadrons over a far-flung front, embracing almost every sector of human need.

Exhibits Royal Tour Covers at Stamp Club

The visit of the British rulers to Canada and the United States was reviewed at the Saint Paul's Episcopal Church, Newton Highlands, on Monday evening in the exhibition of stamped covers from all points of the Royal Tour.

Each cover was autographed by the local mayor or magistrate from the town where the King and Queen visited. There are 280 covers in all and dozens of large photographs of the various receptions tendered to the Royal Party en route from Halifax to British Columbia and down to New York and Hyde Park.

Mr. Tucker said that Grover Whalen's signature at the World's Fair was the most difficult to procure. Other letters bore the signatures of Mayor Fiorella LaGuardia, Prime Minister MacKenzie King, the Captain of the "Empress of Britannia," and the bishops of the New York and Canadian episcopal churches.

On Monday over 60 members and guests enjoyed this regular meeting of the only stamp club in Newton. Many guests from this city and nearby cities and towns availed themselves of the opportunity to see and hear about this remarkable exhibit.

A large party came from the Winthrop Stamp Club headed by President Whittier, and Mr. Erik Gould. Newton guests included Mrs. Donald McKay, Mr. Page Sanderson, and Rev. Charles O. Farrar. There were guests from Needham, Dedham and Brookline.

The regular meetings of the Norumbega Stamp Club are held on the second and fourth Mondays of each month in the crypt of the Saint Paul's Episcopal Church in Newton Highlands.

President Abner H. Bailey of the club announced that Mr. Sidvin F. Tucker had been named an honorary member of the club because of his outstanding contributions to philately.

Refreshments were served by the ladies of the club under the direction of Mrs. Harold Green of Newton Highlands. The next meeting of the club will be on January 8th at 8 o'clock in the same place, and anyone interested in stamp collecting is invited to attend.

Want Gas Station At Auburndale

A third attempt to obtain a permit for a gasoline filling station at the corner of Commonwealth ave. and Lexington st., Auburndale, is being made by the Franklin Savings Bank of Boston. A hearing on the petition was held before the Aldermen on Monday night. John Finelli, attorney for the petitioners, told the Aldermen that the savings bank took a $30,000 mortgage on the property in 1932, and with the exception of a couple of stores which were rented for a short period, the building has been vacant since that time, with no revenue coming in. He remarked that two previous petitions for a filling station permit there have been denied, but since two nearby gasoline stations have been discontinued, and persons who formerly objected to the granting of a permit for a station at the locus, now favor such a permit. They believe that a well conducted station there will be an improvement over the vacant stores. Mr. Finelli said the 3 car lubricator which would be erected at the station, will be 75 feet from the street corner, and the station would be owned by the Gulf Refining Company.

Ex-Alderman John Brocklesby spoke in favor of the petition. He said he resides opposite the locus, and the owner of the property where he lives, and who formerly opposed the granting of the permit for a filling station, now favors it. No persons appeared to oppose the petition.

Organize Conference On Suburban Social Service

A major stride toward streamlined, more highly efficient social service for Greater Boston was taken last week in the organization of the Metropolitan Conference for Social Planning, formally launched by more than 200 representatives from all parts of the metropolitan area at a dinner meeting in the Hotel Continental, Cambridge. Harold Bates, head of the Winchester Community Chest's social planning committee, was elected chairman of the Conference Board of Governors. Sponsored by the councils of social agencies in Boston, Cambridge and Quincy and by the Newton Community Council, the Metropolitan Conference for Social Planning will develop social service co-operation both within and between the Greater Boston communities. ## Bandits Rob Truck Driver at Center

Dominic Simone of Everett and his helper Alton Hinton also of Everett were robbed of $53 by two bandits on Florence st. in the Thompsonville section of Newton Centre on Wednesday night. Simone, driver of a truck for the Belmont Grain Company of Everett, had made a delivery at 97 Florence st., was driving away when a Chevrolet sedan blocked the path of the truck. One of the bandits alighted from the sedan and at revolver point forced Simone and Hinton hand over whatever cash they had. The bandits then drove toward the Worcester pike and escaped.

Patrolman Greene Injured In Fall

Patrolman John E. Greene of the Newton police received a fracture of his left arm and a head injury early Thursday morning while attempting to enter his apartment on the third floor of the block at 1401 Washington st., West Newton. Greene had forgotten to take the key to his apartment and tried to gain entrance by using a dumb elevator in a small shaft at the rear of the building. The rope on the elevator broke, causing Greene to fall. He was taken to the Newton Hospital for treatment.

Used 1940 Plates Too Early, Fined $5

David Irwin, 23, of 161 Lowell ave., Newtonville, was fined $5 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Wednesday, for driving a car with 1940 registration plates. Motorcycle Officer Goddard testified that on Dec. 3, he stopped the car driven by young Irwin on Commonwealth ave. Irwin stated that he thought it was proper to use the 1940 plates because he had received them from the Registry of Automobiles.

Privately Built Streets In Newton Soon Go to Pieces

Details Given Of City-Built and "General Law" Streets

In last week's GRAPHIC was an article relative to the increasing problem to the Newton Street Department caused by the rapid disintegration of many streets which have been constructed in this city in recent years on real estate developments by private contractors. These streets were built under the "General Law." In 1937 City Engineer Harvey and the late Street Commissioner Mahoney, gave the following information to the Public Works Committee of the Board of Aldermen regarding the construction of streets by the Newton Street Department, and the construction of streets built by contractors under the general law.

Gravel Roads

In streets to be accepted under the General Law and under the Betterment Law the maximum requirement for roadways at present is a road-way pavement consisting of an eight-inch layer of binding gravel, surface-treated with an application of cold bituminous material covered with sand. The bituminous material is applied at the rate of 3/4 gallons per square yard of road in accordance with specification No. 14 of the Massachusetts Department of Public Works.

Bituminous material will not penetrate gravel to a depth of more than 1/4 inch so that the final result of this kind of surfacing is to produce a mat of bituminous sand to serve as a dust palliative and wearing surface, having a thickness of 1/4 inch or, at most, 1/2 inch. Of course this type of roadway surfacing is not permanent but is easily broken up by the skidding of auto tires, by frost, and other agencies, and will probably require an additional application of tar and sand every spring. It has however, an advantage in that trenches and excavations that occur from time to time, as houses are built, can be readily and cheaply repaired, in such a manner that the repaired places become invisible.

There is some maintenance cost on gravel roadways until such time as they are covered with a permanent surfacing. This maintenance cost may be as high as thirty-five (35) cents per foot of road per year.

"Type D" Roads

Since 1931 it has been the policy of the City to construct Betterment Streets with a permanent roadway surface of bituminous concrete Type D, two inches in thickness, laid on a gravel base.

The first application of Type D in this City was in 1925 on Turner st., Newtonville. It was a patented material at that time known as "Amiesite."

The next time it was used was on Agawam, Varick and Neshobe rds., in Waban, in 1931.

"Type D" material has been used since 1931 in the construction of all betterment streets and in no case has there been any indication of raveling or disintegration. It is an excellent type of roadway surfacing. The probable life of such a pavement is a matter of conjecture but it may be good after 20 or 25 years on a residential street.

Type D roadway surfaces have, however, a disadvantage in that trenches and excavations are made from time to time, as houses are built, each house requiring that several cross trenches be cut through the pavement for service pipes. Heavy trucking and steam shovel work also tends to break up this pavement during house building operations. These trenches and other excavations cannot be repaired in such a manner that the repaired places become invisible but, on the contrary, nearly always remain an eyesore. Evelyn rd., in Waban, is an example of this where the permanent pavement was laid under the Betterment Law before many houses were built.

It is fair to say that the ideal time to surface streets with the final permanent pavement is after a substantial number of the lots on the street have been built upon and after sewers and public utilities are in the street. St. Mary's st. and Blithedale st. are not able examples of this as the lots are nearly all built upon and the pavement will remain intact for quite a few years.

There is practically no maintenance cost on Type D roadway pavement. Abutters on betterment streets are assessed a betterment to cover the cost of construction. The maximum amount assessed has for the past six years been $4.50 per front foot. Costs in excess of this amount are borne by the city.

"Type D" vs. Gravel

At present all streets accepted under the General Law have the gravel roadway and are built by contractors who may, or may not, be experienced road builders while all streets accepted under the Betterment Law have Type D roadway surfaces and are built by City forces highly skilled in the art of road building.

Consequently the City is now accepting streets of two different types; one having a roadway far superior to the other in appearance and durability. It has been questioned whether or not the City should abandon the practice of the last six years of building betterment streets of Type D and build them of gravel as before. This would, in a sense, be taking a step backward. If the policy were adopted the cost of laying the final permanent roadway surface would be borne entirely by the City from funds appropriated for street resurfacing and it might be several years after acceptance before this expenditure would be made. On the other hand, to require developers to pave their General Law streets with "Type D" might tend to retard development as the higher construction cost of Type D roadways over gravel roadways would require a larger investment by the developer and would be reflected in the selling price of homes.

Here again, many streets would be built by contract, and accepted under the General Law, having permanent pavements before the houses are built, the single advantage of which seems to be that a beautiful, smooth, black roadway might attract prospective home builders more than a gravel road would.

There is also the natural tendency of developers to let the construction work to the lowest bidder with the possible result that attempts at this kind of construction by contractors without proper equipment and experience would tend toward the acquisition by the City of streets not built in accordance with the high standards of construction used by the Street Department in building betterment streets.

If there is a middle course it would be to require General Law streets as well as Betterment Streets to have a permanent pavement only when 75 per cent or more of the lots are built upon and sewers and utilities are in the street, and to require that all streets not having arrived at that stage of development, should have gravel roadways, to be paved later at the expense of the City. This however, seems unbalanced as Mr. A. living on the first above mentioned street would have to pay for his permanent pavement and Mr. B. living on the second above mentioned street would not have to pay for his permanent pavement.

Average Costs and Assessments on "Type D" Betterment Streets for the past three years are as follows:

	Cost per foot of street for construction	Average assessment per front foot
1934	$8.51	$4.50
1935	10.46	4.47
1936	9.25	4.42
	$9.74	$4.46

Average Costs and Assessments on Gravel Roads previous to 1931 are as follows:

	Cost per foot of street for construction	Average assessment per front foot
1925	$6.68	$4.01
1926	7.64	2.84
1927	5.88	3.34
1928	6.16	2.96
1929	6.83	4.08
1930	5.52	3.32
	$6.45	$3.42

The difference in construction cost between Type D streets and gravel streets is about $3.34 per foot of street.

Popularity of Venetian Blinds Ever Increasing

The Venetian Blind, which only in the past few years gained widespread popularity, today ranks uppermost on the roster of appliances for new homes, according to John M. Walker, president of the Homes Specialties Company at 335 Worcester Turnpike, Newton Center.

Mr. Walker, a nationally-known expert in his particular field, predicts a big season the coming year for the manufacturers of Venetian Blinds. He says orders indicate that many new homes will be adorned with this very useful yet decorative shading device for windows.

The well-known Turnpike dealer recalls the time when only the affluent could afford the blinds for their homes because it was more or less regarded a luxury in home appliances. Today, he brings out, the blinds of all kinds and sizes are within reach of Mr. Average Man's purse.

Pointing out their fine points, Mr. Walker says, "Fitting themselves in to every type of room or building—casually—naturally—correctly—they give comfort, modern smartness and a flexibility of light control and toning that combines utility value with great possibilities for added beauty."

"For artistic use, they bring delicate hints that lend charm to the simplest interiors—period and modern. Their striking color combinations of slats and tapes lend great decorative possibilities. They regulate ventilation. They are durable and inexpensive and they are today accepted as correct by the most discriminating people."

The following telegram has been received by Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross with the request that it be called to the attention of all interested in the present crisis in Finland.

Newton Chapter American Red Cross:

In addition to war relief needs already being met by American Red Cross, invasion of Finland has created additional widespread suffering among thousands of helpless men, women and children which will become increasingly tragic as winter advances. There are emergent needs for medical, hospital and other supplies and assistance. Red Cross has already made initial shipments but needs funds for future increasing needs. Will you please at once give effective publicity that American Red Cross will receive and administer contributions designated for Finnish relief and all funds so designated will be applied wholly to that purpose. Urge you take steps secure generous response for Finnish relief. Also inform public American Red Cross continues to welcome contributions designated for relief of war sufferers of all other nations already involved in conflict.

NORMAN H. DAVIS, Chairman.

The Roll Call conducted by all chapters is directed toward furnishing funds for the routine work carried on by the Red Cross. While Newton Chapter is ahead of its enrollments of last year, it is felt that there are many who have not yet joined the current "Roll Call," and it is hoped that they will do so before the end of the year.

Make it the DAY of a Lifetime!

ALong about now, if you're like us, you're struggling with that annual masculine puzzle of what your wife would really like for Christmas.

Well—why not do it up brown for once?

Instead of racking your brains over this item and that, why not bundle them all up—and make it the Day of a Lifetime with a brand-new Buick?

Yes, the outlay may total more than your usual holiday budget. But look!

The whole family will get a wallop out of that hundred-plus horsepower Dynaflex straight-eight that's smoother in action than a wrist watch.

You'll all ride in royal comfort on Buick's stout coil springs, look out with eye-easy safety through Safety Plate Glass in all windows.

You'll go for the room in the Super's close-to-five-foot front seats and Foamtex cushions; you'll be tickled as kids over the two-way Flash-Way Direction Signal; in Buick's 73 new features you'll find six dozen good reasons for being happy about the whole thing.

But what counts is that you'll put your Christmas spending money into a really sound investment; the very strength of Buick's metals and precision of its every part make this great car a smart buy as well as a never-to-be-forgotten gift.

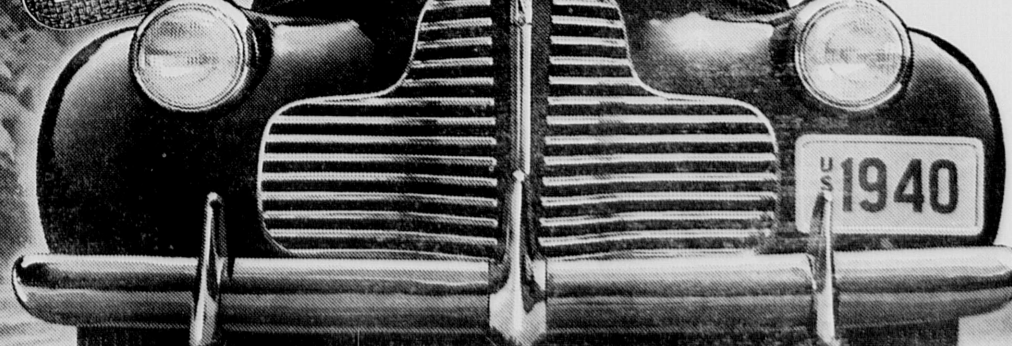

So get the figures. With Buick's lower-than-some-sixes prices and what you can get for your present car, a Buick in the family for Christmas is easy!

"Best buy's Buick!"

James H. Budd, 57, of 14 Prentice rd., Newton Centre, was arrested on Wednesday night by Patrolman Dwyer and Turner on a charge of driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He was arraigned in the Newton court yesterday and his case continued until December 20.

In the Newton court yesterday John Neagle of Gardner st., Newton, was fined $75 by Judge Mayberry for driving while under the influence of liquor. Patrolman Dalton was the complainant.

Fourth of Rohmer Stock $50,000

A finding of James Henchley, sitting as master in a bill in equity brought by Mrs. Marguerite Kapplian against the Rohmer Wool Scouring Company of Nonantum, was confirmed on Tuesday by Judge Greenhalge in Middlesex Superior Court. She claimed damages against the company because of its refusal to issue her new shares as a result of her purchase of 113 shares of stock from Evelyn Apeler, widow of Henry Apeler; said stock comprising a quarter interest in the corporation. Mr. Henchley set the value of the stock at $50,000, but said no loss had been sustained by the plaintiff because of the non-issuance of new shares.

Fined $7500 For Evading Taxes

Harold A. Levanthal, 42, of Gralyn rd., Newton Center, was fined $7500 by Judge Sweeney in the Federal Court at Boston on Tuesday, and given a suspended sentence of one year in prison for attempting to evade payment of income tax. Levanthal, a lawyer by profession, was formerly an assistant district attorney of Middlesex County under Warren Bishop. He pleaded guilty on the charge of attempting to evade his personal income tax, and was allowed to plead "nolo" on an indictment against the Tremont Loan Company, which he owned and controlled since 1929. U. S. A. District Attorney Brandon stated that Levanthal had paid $82,500 in taxes and penalties to the Federal authorities, and had deposited $90,000 in collateral to meet any further assessments which may be determined by civil procedure. The indictment against the defendant charged that Levanthal attempted to evade payment of $69,178 on a total income of $242,943.

Pontiac Special Sixes Are Now Available

Pontiac's new Special Six for 1940 is now available for the first time since its announcement at all of the company's dealerships throughout the United States, according to D. U. Batrick, general sales manager. "Although this low-priced line was announced along with the Deluxe Six, Deluxe Eight and Torpedo Eight, it was several weeks," he said, "before the factory started to build them, and so a wide distribution of them has not been possible until the present time."

"The Special Six is Pontiac's entry into the low price market," he explained. "It is lower in price than any other Pontiac model but it embodies most of the same high quality features."

There are six body styles, two and four-door touring sedans, four-door straight back sedan, business and sport coupe and station wagon. A new chassis frame of the straight X-type increases the wheelbase 2 inches to 117 inches. Overall length has been increased 8 3/4 inches.

Bodies are completely new with more room in every direction. Floors are 4 inches lower than Pontiac's 1939 lowest price model thus making the cars easier to step into. Windshields are 1 1/2 inches wider and 1 inch deeper giving 11 per cent increase in glass area which adds to visibility and safety in driving. Front seats are 4 inches wider providing ample room for three passengers with much extra elbow room for the driver. Rear seats are 3 inches further forward from the rear axle, thus improving the ride.

Sealed-Beam headlights and Hi-Test safety plate glass are among the most important improvements. In appreciation of the fact that drivers and passengers frequently sit hour after hour with only the road ahead, the dash, instrument panel and controls of the front compartment to look at, Pontiac's designers have given special thought to the driver's compartment.

These new Special Sixes may be seen and demonstrated at Frank Battles, Inc., 208 Washington st., Newton, and Harry Tighe, Inc., 780 Beacon st., Newton Centre.

Aldermen Meet

Appropriations made by the Board of Aldermen at the meeting on Monday night included—Law Department, miscellaneous expenses, $1628; Police Department, fees for revolver shooting match at Cranston, Rhode Island, $20; Public Welfare Department, aid to dependent children, $1700; City Clerk's Department, for stenographer at meetings of Board of Aldermen, $100; R. H. Taylor estate, Newton, deficit bill for parking space, $308; Health Department, mileage expense for nurses' cars for balance of year, $210; WPA administrative expenses, additional, $1300; Street Department, construction of Abbot st., $2270; drain from Abbot st. to river, $120; covering Myrtle Brook, West Newton, $4500; drain in Berkeley st., $950; drain and sewer in Russell rd., Ward 3, $440. No action was taken on a recommendation of an appropriation of $2000 for a counter in the cafeteria at the F. A. Day School. A 15 year water bond issue of $20,000 was authorized.

The $1600 appropriation for the Law Department was to pay expenses of court stenography in connection with the hearing on the Cullen case before a master at East Cambridge recently. Alderman Hoffman refused to vote in favor of the $1300 appropriation for WPA administrative expenses, and the $1700 for aid to dependent children because he asserted that inadequate information had been given to members of the Board on these two matters. He commented that Alderman McKay, chairman of the Finance Committee, had failed to provide sufficient details on these matters. Alderman Hoffman, at the preceding meeting of the Board, caused a recommendation for a $1500 appropriation for WPA administrative expenses in Newton to be held up, and commented that this activity would cost the city $32,000 this year. At that time Hoffman argued that the Aldermen had received no details as to how this money for WPA administrative expenses had been expended.

Last Monday night, Harold Young WPA sponsors agent for Newton came to the meeting of the Aldermen and brought reports to show how the cost of the WPA administrative expenses in Newton were incurred. The expenses include the salaries of an administrative force of 11 persons, maintenance of the old Adams School building at Newtonville, where the Newton WPA headquarters are located; materials and expenses of "white collar" projects; rentals of quarters for projects; trucking of surplus commodities; transportation to projects; office supplies, and first aid supplies. In 1938 $32,500 were appropriated for WPA administrative expenses; and $32,333.64 expended. At the beginning of this year Mr. Young asked for $32,500 in his budget, but only $30,000 were appropriated.

The Mayor submitted the name of Warren W. Oliver as a trustee of the John C. Chaffin Fund to succeed the late Irving O. Palmer.

Ask For Gasoline Station at L. Falls

A petition from Joseph S. Cordingley seeking a permit to establish a gasoline filling station at 2300 Washington st., Newton Lower Falls, was given a public hearing before the Board of Aldermen on Monday night. James P. Gallagher appeared for the petitioner. He explained that the locus is in a manufacturing zone and is now occupied by obsolete buildings. On one side is an old mill building, partly torn down. The proposed filling station would have storage facilities for 4000 gallons of gasoline, 500 gallons of fuel oil; would have 2 pumps and a two-car lubrication of enameled blocks. The pumps would be 39 feet from the street-line and there would be two 25 foot driveways. The street, Mr. Gallagher explained, is about 80 feet wide at this place. He invited members of the Aldermen to inspect the site.

Harold Buse of Crehore st. objected to the granting of the petition. He said he appeared as a resident of Lower Falls, as the representative of the Lower Falls Improvement Association, and also representing Fred L. Moore, executive secretary of the Newton Retail Gasoline Dealers Association. Mr. Buse explained that the Improvement Association was holding a meeting that night to consider the matter of the petition for the gasoline station permit. Later, Mr. Buse informed the Aldermen that the improvement association had voted to object to the petition.

Rev. E. J. Fairweather, pastor of the Perrin Memorial Methodist Church at Lower Falls, also objected. He said he did not object to the permit for the Jenney gasoline station, which was established near his church several years ago, because it was the lesser of two evils, but he believed that another station nearby might add to confusion while church services are being held. City Clerk Grant read a protest against the granting of the permit, signed by twenty Lower Falls residents.

The petition was referred to the Licenses Committee.

made by the special committee last October, the following statements were made:

"Under the system heretofore in vogue a veteran has been allowed to call any physician of his choice. The cases have been sent by the physicians to the hospitals they favor, if hospitalization was necessary. In their opinion, and medicine has been purchased from any source at varying costs. There has been no medicine adviser to the department and subject to a cursory check by the commissioner as to dates the bills have been substantially paid as rendered. The hospitals have usually communicated with the department when patients have been brought there, but no authorization for the calling of a physician or the purchase of medicine has heretofore been required.

"This system permits of abuse and your committee is satisfied that the city has been taken advantage of repeatedly."

sity of the flames, prevented firemen from entering the building until the structure had been completely gutted. The absence of wind probably prevented the blaze from spreading to storehouses of the Basley Lumber Company, and the Pope & Cottle Lumber Company, adjoining the burning building.

On June 28, 1920, another serious fire occurred at the Strangman plant, which destroyed the building then on that site. The brick structure burned last night, was then erected. The Strangman Company specialized in high quality builders' finish, and had a considerable stock on hand. It is believed the blaze started near the sawdust blowers.

Among the important questions which educators, as well as citizens and parents, are striving to answer satisfactorily are what is going to happen to the two million American youths, age twenty-five and under, who have never had a job since they finished school? What happens to them actually and in morale? What is going to happen to the son and daughter now in school or college and what is the school's responsibility toward these youths?

Deviating slightly from the usual factual reporting, we are going to bring in a timely social item which is of real interest to the local girls who are fortunate enough to have been invited to the Bowdoin House parties which commence Monday morning and run through Wednesday. Bowdoin will have a House party Queen! Charles H. Mergendahl, Jr., of Newtonville, and Augustus H. Fenn of Somerville, editors of the "Growler" unofficial college humor publication, announced that the "Growler" would award a cup to the girl so honored by the six judges. The aforementioned judges include Robert Bass of Wilton, Maine; Peter Donovan of West Newton, Mass.; Linwood Rowe of Rumford, Maine; and George Stevens of Bronxville, New York. In addition to Mergendahl and Fenn, Charlie Barnett, his vocalist, and his famous orchestra will assist the judges in selecting the fairest girl at the dance. This latest innovation may lead to another imperishable Bowdoin tradition if the response is favorable.

That concludes the news on the learned ones until another week when we will present a vacation number.

At a boys' assembly in the high school auditorium on Wednesday football letter awards were made to over one hundred participants in the fall gridiron sport. Thirty one varsity letters were awarded to players, twenty-seven intermediate varsity letters and thirty-six junior varsity letters. Fourteen managerial letter awards were made in the three divisions.

Coach Al McCoy of Colby College, former Northeastern University coach was the guest speaker. A graduate of Newton High in 1917 and later of Lafayette College he has since been prominent in collegiate sports as a coach. He related many interesting experiences of his career. Principal Paul E. Ellicker presented the letters to the coaches of the teams with the latter making the individual presentations following the exercises.

HIGH SCHOOL GRID TEAM TO PLAY NINE GAMES NEXT SEASON

Woburn and Lynn Classical Replace Cantabs and Rindge Tech

The High School athletic committee has announced the 1940 Newton High School football schedule which includes several important and interesting changes. The outstanding feature of the new schedule is that the orange and black will have a full week longer than usual in which to prepare for its opening game. For some years the first game has been scheduled for the second Saturday after the opening of school, giving the squad little more than two full weeks of practice. Next September the season will not open until the 28th in contrast to the 23rd this year. Consequently in place of the 10-game schedule as in 1939 there will be but nine the coming season. Due to the lateness of Thanksgiving Day this year and next, unless the 1940 observance is advanced, it was possible to book ten games with four being played in November instead of the usual three. However, in 1940 Newton will meet Brookline as usual on Thanksgiving Day, probably on the 21st of the month. This situation results in the elimination of the usual twelve day interval between the Waltham and Brookline conflicts, moving the Brookline affair ahead to the Thursday after the Saturday battle with their Watch City rivals.

But there are other important features on the 1940 list the next outstanding being the replacement of the Cambridge Latin and Rindge Tech elevens with Woburn and Lynn Classical and the dropping of Arlington. The decision to postpone the opening game of the season for a week would normally have brought Arlington as the orange and black's opponent. As Arlington usually opens considerably earlier than Newton it meant that the Spy Ponders would be pretty well-advanced for a first-game opponent. This past season Arlington opened on Sept. 16th and when meeting Newton on Sept. 30th was playing its third game. Although Newton does not appear on the 1940 Newton schedule and will probably not be scheduled in 1941 it is possible that this rivalry which has existed for ten consecutive years, may be resumed with Arlington taking a later date on the local schedule.

For the opening game Newton school authorities stated that they desired to schedule a team which was willing to come to Newtonville each year rather than under the usual home and home arrangement as it was further desired to play five games at home and four away. Cambridge Latin, Newton's opening opponent for a considerable number of years, was offered the Sept. 28th date next season under these conditions but the arrangement could not be completed. Woburn High was then offered a two-year agreement to play at Newton in the opening game and has indicated its willingness to do so.

Lynn Classical will replace the Rindge Tech affair under a two-year home and home agreement. For some years Lynn has been desirous of meeting Newton and as conditions surrounding the Newton-Rindge agreements were not altogether satisfactory on either Newton or Rindge's part the change was made.

For the first time in the Newton-Quincy rivalry the orange and black will play in the Granite City. Until the past two years the Quincy eleven has had no satisfactory playing field but the development of a new field and improved conditions now make it possible for the two schools to enter into a home and home agreement. Quincy thus becomes one of Newton's four games away from home. The Everett contract has been renewed for two years with Newton going to Everett in 1940. Under existing agreements with Medford and Fitchburg which expire after next year's games, the blue and white will come to Newton for the first November game and Newton will go to Fitchburg the following week, the red-clad horde having invaded Newton this past Armistice Day. Newton's fourth away from home game will be the Waltham fray.

During the past season Coach Owen MacDowell's charges played ten games, seven with Class A elevens and three with Class B teams. These three Class B teams were Cambridge Latin, Quincy and Brookline. In 1940 Newton will have three Class B opponents and six Class A schools as opponents. The three B teams will be Woburn, Quincy and Brookline. Thus, except for the shortening of the schedule with the possibility of better preparation for getting under way, next season's schedule cannot be said to be lightened excessively. Woburn and Cambridge Latin are rated comparatively even while the midseason clash from Rindge to Lynn Classical is another immaterial change as far as schoolboy football is concerned.

With the announcement of the 1940 schedule further revelation is made of the 1941 arrangements thus far. The renewal of previous agreements, and the making of the three new contracts completes six games of the schedule nine to be scheduled for 1941. Woburn will again open at Newton with Quincy, Everett and Waltham coming here also and the home team journeying to Lynn and Brookline. The three remaining games not yet definitely filled are those with Brockton, Medford and Fitchburg. Agreements with these three schools expire next fall and no definite announcement can be expected for months to come on this score, other than that two of the three questionable games will be played away from home, in order that the five-four balance may be maintained.

In announcing the 1940 schedule school authorities also indicated an intention to continue the policy of refraining from conducting organized spring football. For several years Newton has conducted a brief session of spring football along the lines of instruction of systems of play and fundamentals for boys who are not participating in other sports. However, no equipment is issued nor contact work held as has been the case in many high schools in Eastern Massachusetts.

Reverses Decision Of Newton Court

The proclivity of juries to return "not guilty" decisions in cases involving violations of traffic laws was again evidenced at the session of the Middlesex Superior Court at East Cambridge last Friday when a jury found Edward Keefe of Lowell and James McDowell of Charlestown not guilty on charges of driving motor vehicles so as to endanger the safety of the public. The two men are truck drivers; at 3 a. m. on October 24, the big vehicles they were operating collided at the junction of Washington and Walnut sts., Newtonville. The truck driven by Keefe was tipped over and large bales of cotton from McDowell's truck were hurled onto the street. Both drivers were found guilty in the Newton court and took appeals. One of them admitted that he did not stop, although a flashing red-light shows on the Walnut st. faces of the traffic signal.

License Revoked Drove, Fined $50

Maurice Sheehan, 31, of 81 Auburn st., West Newton, was fined $50 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Monday for driving a car after his license had been revoked. He was found not guilty of driving while under the influence of liquor. On the morning of November 24 a car driven by Sheehan hit a dog owned by Patrolman John E. Green of West Newton as the dog and its owner were walking on Washington st. at Elm st., West Newton. Green yelled at Sheehan to stop his car and then placed Sheehan under arrest on a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor. Patrolman Marden, who booked Sheehan at police headquarters, testified that there was only a faint odor of liquor from Sheehan's breath when he booked him.

Art and Button Exhibit At Newtonville Library

Following the recent occupancy of its new building, the Newtonville Branch Library is already serving the local community in a broadened field. Miss Dorothy C. Peters, the librarian, immediately secured the loan of two art and a button exhibit, two of which are still on display.

The art exhibits were loaned by Mr. E. Donald Robb of Newtonville and Mrs. Emma Bailey Fraser of Newtonville. Mr. Robb, the architect of the building, loaned a part of his watercolor landscapes. The other art exhibit by Mrs. Fraser consists of a series of pastel pictures of flowers.

The button exhibit is by Mrs. Polly de Steiguer Crummett of Newtonville, who has made a hobby of button collecting for many years and has written a book on the subject. The collection contains among its hundreds of items many of outstanding interest. Numerous visitors are coming from Boston and surrounding communities.

Under the new schedule the library is open every week-day except holidays from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m., and on Saturdays from 2:30 till 5:30 p. m. The children's room is open daily from 1 till 6 p. m., except Sundays, and on Saturday mornings from 10 to 12.

Law, Oakwood rd., Auburndale; Traverse jurors, criminal business sessions at Cambridge, starting January 2: Irving Law, Oakwood rd., Auburndale; Richard Pratt, 103 Walnut Hill rd., Newton Highlands; Robert Harvey, 86 Bourne st., Auburndale; civil business, Cambridge, starting January 2: William Colton, 22 Howe rd., Newton Centre; Frederick Kite, 64 Greylock rd., Newtonville; Chauncey Stimes, 29 Eden ave., West Newton; Frank Swenson, 6 Wameest rd., Waban; George Preston, 11 Riverside st., Auburndale; Thomas O'Brien, 40 Wiltshire rd., Newton.

Arduino Fined $200 on Gambling Charge

Joseph Arduino of 393 Langley rd., Newton Centre was fined $200 by Judge Quinn in the Newton court on Saturday for selling number pool lottery tickets. On a similar charge Renardo Santucci of 419 Langley rd. was found not guilty, but he was fined $50 for operating an automobile after his license had been revoked. Patrolman McCormick, the complainant, was looking for Santucci to arrest him on the charge of driving after his license had been revoked, when he apprehended Arduino with the lottery slips. McCormick offered as evidence slips he testified that he had found in Santucci's possession, but the defendant denied that he had seen the slips before. His attorney argued that it was not probable that his client would approach the policeman to surrender himself, if he had lottery slips in his possession.

Gets Prison Term Tried Burglary At Newtonville

Martin Farrell, 27, of 367 Centre st., Newton, was sentenced by Judge Donnelly in the Superior Court at Cambridge to serve 3 to 4 years at State Prison for attempting to break into the store of Morgan Brothers, Walnut st., Newtonville, with intent to commit larceny. Farrell pleaded guilty. The sentence will be served concurrently with a similar sentence he received in Suffolk Superior Court on December 7. Leon Bertrand, 31, of 158 Pearl st., Newton, who, with Farrell, was arrested by Patrolman Bradley shortly after a citizen saw the attempted burglary, pleaded not guilty and is awaiting trial.

Charged With Use Of Car Illegally

Arthur Deverix, 37, of 199 Dalby st., Nonantum, was arrested by Brighton police on Sunday at 2:30 a. m. on a charge of taking without authority a car owned by Jack Shellman of 94 Dalby st. The car was parked in front of Shellman's home and when he noticed it gone about 1:30 Sunday morning, he notified Newton police. They sent out a radio broadcast and Brighton policemen observed the car parked outside a building in that district a half hour later. The Brighton police watched the car until Deverix and a companion came out and entered the car, and they placed the pair under arrest. Newton police released the other occupant of the car, because they were convinced that he did not know that Deverix had taken the automobile without authority. In the Newton court on Wednesday Deverix was given a suspended sentence of 6 months, and placed on probation.

Fines of $150 for Drunken Driving

Leon Mireault of 77 Central st., Springfield, was fined $100 by Judge Nagle in the Newton court last Friday for driving while under the influence of liquor, and $50 for driving after his license had been revoked. On the night of November 25 a car allegedly driven by Mireault hit a car driven by Edward Romaskiewicz on the Worcester turnpike at Newton Highlands. Mrs. Romaskiewicz, who lives at High st., Upper Falls, was reported as receiving injuries. A witness testified that Mireault walked away from the scene of the collision, saying he would return. Mireault was arrested a short distance from the place.

Woman Fined $50, Drove to Endanger

Any Day of 20 Shaw st., Wellesley was fined $50 in the Newton court last Friday for driving a car so as to endanger the safety of the public. On November 29 a car driven by her collided with a car driven by John Fallon of Brookline at the intersection of Parker and Dedham sts., Oak Hill. Four persons, including Mrs. Day, were injured in the collision.

LYDIA PARTRIDGE WHITING CHAPTER, D. A. R.

The Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held a Christmas Party for the benefit of disabled veterans on Dec. 12th at the home of the Regent, Mrs. James F. Cooper, 2 Kings-ton rd., Newton Highlands.

The house was beautifully decorated with flowers and Christmas greens and the members of the Chapter placed their packages under the decorated tree in the hall. The patients at the hospitals in Bedford, Chelsea and Rutland will receive many useful gifts and money for Christmas.

A musical program prepared by Mrs. R. John Henderson consisted of piano solos by Mr. Randall Young, vocal solos by Mrs. Young, duets by Mrs. Young and Mrs. Henderson and a quartette of Mrs. Young, Mrs. Henderson, Mrs. Faherty and Mrs. H. J. Chandonoff.

Mr. R. John Henderson, a past commander of the Newton Legion Post, was the speaker of the afternoon and told many interesting facts about the activities of the veteran organizations in the interest of veterans.

The social hour, with refreshments and a gift for each one from "Santa Claus" concluded a very enjoyable afternoon.

Testimonial For Mayor E. O. Childs

A committee organized to formulate plans for a testimonial to Mayor Edwin O. Childs on Wednesday evening, Jan. 24, 1940, at the State Armory, West Newton, is endeavoring to make this affair one of the most memorable in the history of this city. Men and women prominent in State and city affairs have signified their intentions of being present. Herman F. Wells is chairman of the general committee; Miss Phyllis Lindley, secretary, and Wilfred Chagnon, treasurer. Because of the limited seating capacity of the armory, Chairman Wells requests those who desire to participate in the testimonial to make reservations at the earliest possible date.

"Save It For Newton", Give Clothing To "Thrift Center"

Establish Headquarters At 392
Centre St., Newton

"Save It for Newton" is the slogan of the Thrift Center recently established at 392 Centre st., Newton. It is managed by the Newton Community Council with the aid of committees of the Newton Hospital Aid Association and the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs. The creation of the Thrift Center follows a careful study by a committee of the Community Council chairmanned by Harold P. Carver, which revealed a great need by the Catholic Welfare Committee and the Family Service Bureau and other agencies for clothing for their clients. The study also indicated that a great deal of used clothing and household articles which were needed for Newton people were going to agencies outside the city.

Through the Thrift Center, the work formerly done by the Clothing Chest of the Mayor's Relief Committee will be carried on and enlarged. Co-operating with the work of the Center are the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs and the Newton Hospital Aid Association. To aid the Center in its work of collecting, the Newton Circle, Inc., has presented it with a truck.

Used clothing and household articles will be collected by the Center's truck, sorted and repaired at the Center and made available to the Family Service Bureau and the Catholic Welfare Committee for families under their care. As the work of the Center expands, it is believed that material may be also supplied to families under the care of the City Welfare Department.

Community Council officials point out that through the Thrift Center, Newton people make sure that used clothing and household articles are given to Newton families whose need is great. Thrift Center Bags are now (Continued on Page 10)

Replies to Newton Taxpayers' Assn.

Mrs. Terese G. Marshall, chairman of the Newton Recreation Commission has written a letter to Charles B. Jones of Locke rd., Waban, replying to an article sent to newspapers by the Newton Taxpayers Association of which Mr. Jones is president. Mrs. Marshall in her letter stated that "she read with amazement the article, and it indicated that whoever wrote it is ignorant of the plans of the Recreation Commission, and wholly misunderstands the meaning of Community Centers as advocated by the National Recreation Association. The Recreation Department conducts already community centers at the Emerson School, Newton Upper Falls; the Bowen School in Thompsonville, and the Stearns School in Nonantum; and in January will conduct one at the new Eliot School in Newton. Through co-operation with the School Department we have had excellent privileges in these schools for handcraft, dancing, dramatics, basketball, public speaking and similar activities. There is no intention on the part of the Recreation Commission to propose the building of separate community centers. What we do hope to accomplish is safe and sanitary conditions of our shelters and toilet accommodations. (Continued on Page 10)

1940 School Budget Total $1,522,371

The budget of the Newton School Department for 1940, as approved by the School Committee at its meeting on Monday night, totals $1,522,371, or $656,670 more than the amount granted for 1939. It is, however, $27,815 less than the amount asked for in 1939. No salary increases, other than the regular, annual step-rate increases are recommended. In referring to the budget, Supt. of Schools Warren stated:—

"In presenting the budget for 1940 I would call your attention to the fact that the budget shows an increase of $656,670 over the amount granted for 1939, but a decrease in asking of about $27,000 from the original amount requested by the School Committee for the current year, and a decrease of nearly $37,000 from the amount actually granted for the operation of schools in 1939. The increase of $6,566.70 is due largely to the following factors:

- (1) Provision must be made for increased costs of school supplies, janitors' supplies and fuel.
- (2) Two new elementary schools replacing three small elementary school units call for increased charges in fuel, power, light and water.
- (3) Very much reduced spending last year for repair of furniture and equipment means that this year in order to protect the present investment in equipment the present investment in equipment must be made in order to protect the present investment in equipment.
- (4) Decreased amounts of Smith-Hughes and George-Deen money increase the amount that must be appropriated by the city for Trade School salaries.
- (5) A transfer of $3,000 from the Trade School salary account to the Trade School "Other Expense" account last year made possible a reduced asking for Trade School supplies last year. Such a transfer is not possible for the year 1940.

Paul E. Wonderley, 44, of Hopkinton, was found guilty by a jury in Middlesex Superior Court on Monday of larceny of $1459 in soldiers' relief from the City of Newton, and on Tuesday Judge Donnelly sentenced him to serve 6 months in Billerica prison. Sentence was deferred until January 3rd to enable Wonderley to spend the Christmas season with his three daughters.

During Wonderley's trial his sister-in-law, Miss Adelaide Blouin of Roxbury, testified that most of the money (nearly $15,000) deposited in a few banks as trust funds for the defendant's three daughters, was her own money, which she had deposited in the girls' names because they were her nearest relatives. Mrs. Anna Troy and Mrs. Mary Morris, half-sisters of the Wonderley girls' deceased mother also testified that they are trustees of an estate of which the late Mrs. Wonderley was a beneficiary and that they had paid $40 monthly to the girls' father as their guardian, and at other times to their uncle, when he was guardian.

Wonderley testified that he had lived in Newton between 1920 and 1934, and moved to Hopkinton in 1938. He admitted working on the Newton Street Department for several weeks after the hurricane in 1938 and having been paid at the rate of 62 cents an hour. He testified that during that time he also received the checks from the Soldiers' Relief Department, but he stated he did not use the money, but turned it over to Harold Haffey, then acting as investigator for the department. Wonderley testified that Haffey told him the money would be turned back to the department and credited to his account. Wonderley said that in May, 1938, Haffey told him that he was entitled to have a woman as housekeeper at his Hopkinton home, and insisted that Wonderley would have to go to a hospital where he remained for four months.

When the case came before Judge Donnelly for disposition on Tuesday morning, Alderman Clarence Colby, chairman of the special committee of (Continued on Page 10)

Christmas Thoughts

Softly o'er the world comes stealing,
In our hearts His love revealing.
O—the spirit of Christmas comes.
Firstwhile sorrows slowly healing
Neath the calm and peaceful feeling.
Thus the spirit of Christmas comes.

Now the time is not far away,
Incense, myrrh and gifts for the day.
Gleeful children rejoice in play.
Hopes fulfilled in brilliant array.
Hence the spirit of Christmas comes.

Holy night so silent and still,
O'er the earth spread peace and good will.
Light the beacons atop the hill.
Hear—the spirit of Christmas comes.

Now the joyful bells peal and ring,
In their glory the angels sing.
Give and give, the more gifts we bring.
Have Faith and Love for Him—Our King
Then—the Spirit of Christmas comes.

W. K. B. 1939.

MAKE CENTRE AVENUE ONE-WAY

During the past ten days employees of the telephone company contractors have been laying conduits and constructing concrete manholes at Centre avenue and Centre streets, Newton Corner. The construction work has made it necessary to impose one-way traffic regulations and restricted parking privileges. In previous years two-way traffic on Centre avenue has been considerable of a problem at Christmas time, due to persons parking haphazardly while making use of the postal facilities at the Newton Postoffice located on this street. While there has been some inconvenience this year because of the construction work we are more than ever convinced that a permanent one-way traffic regulation on Centre avenue is not only advisable and feasible but it would be of immense benefit. We trust that the proper authorities will take the opportunity to make the temporary regulations of a more permanent nature.

PARENTS—IT IS YOUR RESPONSIBILITY

Parents have a great responsibility every day in the year but no more so than at present. The allure of ice coated ponds and lakes is almost irresistible to many children who are not aware of the ever present dangers of thin ice. In Newton on the larger skating areas there is some degree of control where several ponds and coves are under the supervision of the playground department. But annually the newspapers carry stories of drownings due to the failure of children to recognize the dangers and the neglect of parents to warn their offspring that the ice is not as strong as it might appear to be. It is always safest not to go skating alone, and to be absolutely sure of ice conditions. Play safe, youngsters—good skating will soon be here.

Recreation Dept. Class In Speaking

The Newton Recreation Department will conduct a course in effective business expression, personal development and human relations. The course will start on Friday, January 5, at the playground building, Tyler, Newton Centre, and will be held each Friday evening from 7:15 until 9 o'clock for 12 weeks. Wallace G. Strathern, sales training director for the New England Coke Company, will conduct the course. He has trained over 1000 men and women in salesmanship. Those taking the course will be instructed to speak forcefully, with poise, confidence and assurance. The cost of the course is $3 and registrations should be made at the office of the Recreation Department, City Hall, Newton Centre. The quota is rapidly filling.

Arrested For Breaking Window

David Evans, 30, of 1 Robinhood st., Auburndale, was arrested last Friday by Patrolman Walsh on charges of wilful damage to property and drunkenness. Patrolman Walsh heard the breaking of the glass in the door at the Newtonville Pharmacy, 1429 Washington st., West Newton, and found Evans standing nearby. Evans was arraigned in the Newton court last Saturday. He was sentenced to serve 30 days in jail on the drunkenness charge, and on the other charge he was placed on probation until February 3 on condition that he make restitution for the window he broke. Evans appealed, but withdrew his appeal when the jail sentence was suspended.

Newton Graphic, Dec. 13, 1884
Two classes in industrial drawing, formed in connection with the free evening school at the Lincoln School, are now being held, and doing good work.

Ward 7 is thoroughly mad about the assessments levied in connection with the improvement of Farlow Park. Many agree that the city government's action is outrageous.

The Newton Bicycle Club whose venture in theatricals last year was so successful, will give a dramatic performance in Elliot Hall about February 1. The female parts will again be assumed by members of the club.

A recent advertisement in the GRAPHIC of a sleigh for sale, brought answers from Boston, Cambridge, Weston, Watertown and nearly all the Newtons.

The public property committee of the Common Council has asked for bids on the remodeling of the old Unitarian Church on Washington st. into an armory for the Claffen Guards.

The Pomroy Home corporation have succeeded in making a bargain for the purchase of the building now occupied by the home on Hovey st. Subscriptions have been called in and papers will be passed at once. The building which is inseparably associated with Mrs. Pomroy's labors, will thus be a permanent memorial to her useful life.

Last Saturday Edward P. Burnham of Newton finished 3000 miles of cycling within this year; having made 550 miles during the past two months. Of the 3000 miles 1149 were ridden on his tricycle. October was the highest month with 565 miles. Only a small proportion of this riding was done for the purpose of making a record.

A collision between two wagons on Galen st., near the Newton-Watertown line about 7:30 Wednesday evening, resulted in the death of J. F. Brogie of Tremont st., Brighton. He was driving a heavy wagon and ran into a light wagon driven by F. F. Clark. Brogie was thrown out and landed on his head, fracturing his skull. He was attended by Dr. Webber and died within an hour.

Matilda Hindman spoke on woman suffrage at Nickerson's Hall, West Newton on Thursday night.

A fine horse owned by Lyman Ross of Newton Highlands died last week because of kindness on the part of his owner. The horse had been overfed.

For more than year Auburndale has submitted to the great annoyance and injustice of the illegal closing of the railroad crossing near the depot. And the fence still stands there.

The order making betterment assessments to the amount of $21,000 for the improvement at Farlow Park was passed by both branches of the city government on Monday. The order had been in the park committee's hands since June. Its appearance was the signal for the liveliest debate of the year. Alderman Henry and Cobb spoke in opposition, and all the other members in favor. Alderman Henry said the amount was excessive, and should have been only $10,000 or $11,000. He favored reducing the assessment one-half and spreading it over more territory.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, December 13, 1889
The incandescent electric lights at Newton Upper Falls were turned on for the first time on Monday evening and everyone is quite pleased with them. The contrast between them and the former smoky, oil lamps is quite apparent.

A number of new families have moved into Upper Falls and are at work in the silk mills, due to increased orders.

A notable society event occurred at noon yesterday. The occasion was the marriage of Miss Mary D. Emerson, daughter of Mr. D. R. Emerson of this city to Dr. Julian Mead of Watertown. It was a choral wedding, the first ever solemnized in Newton. Grace Church was filled with friends of the bride and groom. Precisely at noon the boys choir of the Church of the Advent, Boston, entered and proceeded to seats reserved in the front of the church. During the processional march beautiful selections were rendered under the direction of the choir leader, Mr. S. B. Whitney of Boston.

The long expected report of the Water Board in regard to high service was made to the City Council at the Wednesday evening meeting. The size of the cost will prove an unpleasant surprise to the public. The high service problem is not the only one to be solved. There is the need of increasing the supply, the Legislature already having given permission to do this, and it is thought that 1,000,000 more gallons per day will fill the need for years to come. This will cost $98,000; high service will cost $95,369, not counting the cost for land and the covered reservoir. There is another item of $88,465 for improving the fire protection service on the higher elevations.

EDWARD H.

Powers' Paragraphs

We have a personal regret in the sinking of the "Columbus" of the North German Lloyd Line. We had been on the ship and met many of her crew. It was a magnificent boat and it is pathetic that such a masterpiece of man's industry should be deliberately destroyed. It seemed suicidal for the Nazi government to order the ship out of its refuge at Vera Cruz. The boat's top speed was 20 knots an hour, and with scores of 30 knot British naval warships patrolling the Atlantic, it was practically impossible that the big, slower COLUMBUS could run the gauntlet. The fact that the Nazis took such a forlorn chance seems to indicate that Germany is in desperate straits, at least for oil, of which the COLUMBUS reportedly had 50,000 barrels on board. In our opinion, the COLUMBUS incident presages a comparative early ending of the war between Germany, France and Britain. Germany lacks the resources with which to carry on the fight.

This is the CHRISTMAS season. Next Monday the anniversary of the birth of CHRIST will be observed. Over nineteen centuries have passed since the Messiah was born, since he passed from this earth, and since his doctrine began to be preached and practiced. But over much of what was formerly Christendom there will be this Christmas many millions of people who will not be praising GOD, who will not be saying "Glory to GOD in the highest; and on earth peace to men of good will." Instead, millions scoff at the mention of GOD, and other millions who profess to believe in Christ, are engaged in war, and in much of Europe there is no peace. Instead there is destruction and suffering. This country is singularly blessed. It has been spared, so far, the horrors of war. Even though a large percentage of its inhabitants do not believe in CHRIST, or if they do, fail to profess such belief, such persons will also participate in the Christmas festivities in this land. They should be thankful that they have been spared the ordeal through which the peoples of European countries have been and are going. And many of the people of this U. S. A., should in their dealings with their fellow men practice those doctrines of Christ which they pretend to believe in.

At East Cambridge this week a man was found guilty of fraudulently obtaining soldiers' relief from the City of Newton and for this offense was sentenced to serve 6 months in prison. This man deserved punishment.

But, as was stated at his trial, there have been others who also obtained relief from this city either fraudulently or undeservedly. In this period of economic distress, when so many millions of our people have been and are of necessity, depending upon public aid, and when so many more millions of the people of this country are bravely carrying on in an endeavor not only to support themselves, but also the multitudes on relief, the problem of relief has become increasingly serious to the nation, the States and municipalities. And so, now and then someone is convicted of having obtained public aid fraudulently, and is punished for this "crime."

We believe it was Balzac who said—"A criminal is not one who commits a crime, but one whose crime is detected." A criminal is not necessarily one whose crime is detected. A criminal is one who is convicted and sentenced after his crime has been detected. It is quite probable that the man who was sentenced this week to serve a term in jail in this soldiers' relief case, would not have been prosecuted except for the fact that he became involved in a controversy over abuses in the Newton Soldiers' Relief Department, and as a result of this case was investigated. Another result from the investigation of his case has been the transfer of the control of this department from the Mayor of Newton to the Board of Aldermen, where the control belonged in the first place, and the purging of this department from conditions which permitted abuses and incompetency in the past several years. So, good comes out of evil.

While the man who obtained $1459 by alleged fraudulent means, has been convicted and is being criticised, there are others pointing the finger of scorn at him who have legally obtained over a period of years much more money from public funds than he did illegally. These men (and women) have been employed regularly in private or public positions, with higher wages or incomes than many of us receive, and to outward appearance have been possessed of competent physical and intellectual vigor. Certainly they have been able to perform duties calling for such ability. And yet, they have been regularly drawing from public treasuries compensation for allegedly being disabled.

In Boston the past week was a large demonstration participated in by hundreds of men engaged in the milk business. They are men either en-

ONE THING and ANOTHER

Between You and Me

I wish a Merry Christmas
To friends who may not know.
Unless they read these very lines
The blessings I'd bestow:
On all who gladly find for me
Eye-glasses I mislay.
Who borrow stamps and pay them back
On that or the next day;
Whose watches, keeping perfect time,
By which my own are set.
Who do not clinch an argument
With "How much will you bet?"
Who have an extra umbrella
To lend you in a storm.
Who never asks the reasons for Opinions you may form.
Who always listen patiently
And never shut you off.
Who may have colds but carefully
Refrain from sneeze or cough:
Who never offer what they call
"A private inside tip."
Who give to every worthy cause
Without a single yip:
Who never tell you how you look
Or how you ought to act.
Who do not magnify, then add,
"I know that for a fact."
Who know me well and still forgive
My faults and failings, too.
In short, my friends, I've you to thank For always "Going Through."

It Happened in Newton

A gracious Southern lady was visiting with friends in Newton and found herself the recipient of true North-east hospitality. Her thoughtful hostess would have provided several Southern dishes but found the cook uncertain about them. It was decided not to take any chances when the cook reminded her mistress that she could make corn bread. This delighted the hostess who was certain the day had been saved, at least in part. A splendid batch was served at the visitor's first breakfast, but she did not touch it. "What," exclaimed her hostess, "no corn bread and you from the South?" "O, I like corn bread," came the reply, "but for breakfast. That must be a Yankee custom."

Sky's the Limit

Among my friends is a young man who uses his airplane as casually as a boy does his bicycle. It is astonishing the number of places that have airports for this amateur aviator is continually hopping here and there, either for overnight or for a Sunday afternoon. Anybody who has a home in the country, with considerable land, is likely to receive a visit from him if he likes them. The fact they may have no landing field, properly constructed, doesn't upset him. He can make the pasture do very well. "I've never knocked a chimney off yet in making calls," said he. "Too many trees prevent the right kind of a landing but otherwise I'm willing to take a chance."

He isn't a dare-devil. For that matter he insists there are no more of them and that aviation is better than driving an automobile. "And I'm not taking the risk of bumping into anybody," he explained. "Suppose there is a big fire somewhere. Automobiles show up from every point and soon the roads are badly congested. The chances are you don't get anywhere near the fire. Now in my plane I can get there, see everything without mixing up with the crowd and never get in the firemen's way." I asked him what he would do if there should be an aerial fire department organized and he replied there would still be plenty of room for spectators.

Tied and Untied

One of the minor tragedies of this season of the year is a parcel post package that has been smashed in transit. At any other time there isn't anywhere the pathos in a broken bundle. Of course I can get myself in hot water if I try to point out that the fault lies with the handling of such mail matter. But I'm not going to do that for I don't really think it does. Considering the tons and tons of bundles they handle the officials do pretty good as far as I have observed. On the other hand people contend that they have tied the bundle perfectly and through no fault of theirs it has met with trouble. Nevertheless, some people are much more careful and more skillful at tying bundles than others. Only an expert can tie a bundle thoroughly and speedily. Give me the man who takes all the time in the world and as much time as he can get hold of. That fellow may not make a very attractive job of it but he makes it secure. His bundle will get there intact. I know some folks who can get a laugh out of a bundle that has been damaged but to my mind there isn't anything funny in it. The chances are that it was purchased and prepared at no little sacrifice and to have it go astray may cause grief to someone. Therefore, I hope all senders have taken every precaution in making secure the bundles they tie.

Work and Play

One of those fortunate human beings whose prosperity permits him to define his office hours revealed to me that material success has not dimmed his wit. I observed that he was not at business for several days and remarked on that fact when next I saw him. "O, yes," said he. "I stayed out to do a number of things and go places my family insisted upon. Now I've come back to work for a rest."

NEWTON FINDS FAST MELROSE SIX TOO HOT

Last Saturday afternoon the 1939-40 Greater Boston Interscholastic Hockey season opened with all eight teams showing the usual early season inexperience. Newton High's sextet played a much more powerful Melrose sextet than was expected. The orange and black was defeated by a score of 3-2. The local unit's second line was credited with the two tallies. The score does not indicate Newton's latest possibilities. Newton at times looked good but the fast moving veteran Melrose line could not be stopped by the inconsistent defense that Newton offered. Capt. Walter "Bud" Hurley and Tom "Bunny" Dugan were the leading players for Newton. They both played an inspired game but could get nowhere as the Melrose defensemen risked penalties by tripping.

H. Phillip Patey Honored,

On December 15 a birthday party was given to Mr. H. Phillip Patey of Grove Hill ave. by his associates in Ginn & Co., school book publishers, of 15 Ashburton place, Boston. This was in honor of his 65th birthday and in recognition of his completing 40 years of service with that company on October 1st. The gathering was held in Kingsley Hall with 125 present, including Messrs Kenerson, Jounet, Stevens, Buckingham and Robinson, members of the firm. After a turkey dinner, short talks were given by Mr. Kenerson, toastmaster, and by Mr. Arthur Lord, Mr. E. J. Mulry and Mr. E. W. Newton with a response by Mr. Patey. Miss Helen Leavitt led singing of familiar songs with original and amusing words written for the occasion. A handsome leather bound book containing letters and poems of appreciation from his associates was presented to Mr. Patey and some of these were read. In years of service he is the oldest publishing house representative in New England. Mr. Patey has resided in Newtonville since 1907.

Annual Christmas Party Of Woman's Bible Class

Following a custom of several years standing, the members of the Woman's Bible Class of the Newtonville Methodist Church School, entertained as special guests a group of students from the Boston University School of Theology and their wives. At the annual Christmas party Sunday evening three couples were present as representatives of a larger group of about forty to whom the class is always host for Christmas dinner. These young people live in the dormitories of Morgan Memorial and served a cooperative dinner.

About 120 guests enjoyed the hospitality of the class which presented a program of carol singing, led by Rev. Alvin T. Mayberry, Director of Religious Education, special music by Mrs. Elsie Foss, pianist, and Mrs. Albert D. Kreider and Miss Pearl Foss, violinists. Dr. William J. Lowstuter, of the school of theology, the class instructor, read "The Lonely Tree," by Margaret Sangster. The candle-lighting service is always an impressive part of the program of these parties of the class which is in its 16th year. Coffee and ice cream and cake were served by Mrs. F. E. Drew and her committee.

School Janitor Is Discharged

Hugh Harold, janitor at the Davis School, Waltham st., West Newton, was refused reinstatement to that position by the School Committee on Monday night. Miss Mary Bradley, assistant principal at the Davis School testified that late in October she had to go to the boiler room at the school to complain about lack of heat and that she found the janitor with a dazed look in his eyes. Elmer Ellsworth, principal of the school stated that on the day in question he received a complaint from Miss Bradley, went to the boiler-room, found Harold lying on a bench and a stranger doing his work. Ellsworth said he phoned Albert Swanson, supervisor of janitors, and the latter testified that he went to the school, took Harold's keys away from him and sent him home. Both Miss Bradley and Mr. Ellsworth testified that Harold appeared to have been drinking. Dr. Hyman Shrier of Nonantum told of having treated Harold for grippe on October 29, and the latter had gone to work against his orders.

Refuse Permit For Gasoline Station At Auburndale

The Board of Aldermen at its meeting last Monday (or more properly early Tuesday morning) took action on petitions for two gasoline stations on which hearings were held at the previous meeting of the Board on December 11.

The petition, on which there had been no opposition at the time of the public hearing, was given leave to withdraw. The other petition, which had been opposed by the Lower Falls Improvement Association, was referred to the 1940 Board of Aldermen, by being held. The first petition was that of the Franklin Savings Bank for a station permit at the southeast corner of Commonwealth ave. and Lexington st., Auburndale. The bank owns a business block at this locus and the seven stores in the block have been vacant most of the time since the building was erected years ago. Two former petitions for a gasoline filling station on this site were turned down after there was considerable opposition from Auburndale residents.

No Auburndale residents (openly at least) objected to the latest petition, and some of the former objectors even favored the granting of the permit. The Licenses Committee reported unanimously against the petition, with Alderman Tiffin absent.

The other petition was that from Joseph S. Cordingley for a filling station at 2300 Washington st., Lower Falls. Several of the Licenses Committee were reported as being in favor of this petition.

THE LIVER

Doctors are being constantly requested to give patients something to "move the liver," when, as a matter of fact, no drug you take, for its purging effect, gets any closer to the liver than the food you eat.

One of the chief functions of the liver is to manufacture bile, a most important fluid. The cells of the liver produce this bile, store some temporarily in the gall-bladder, while the balance is emptied into the digestive tract. After aiding digestion, most of this bile is reabsorbed by the blood, carried back to the liver to act as a stimulant for further production of bile.

Strong purgatives act as a violent irritant, and forces waste material through the intestines so fast the bile does not have time to be normally absorbed. The only reason the patient feels better, is because he has freed his system of accumulated waste matter, not because he has stirred up his liver.

Strong purgatives will do no permanent good, and will, when constantly resorted to, weaken the entire digestive system. Your liver is probably perfectly normal, let it alone.

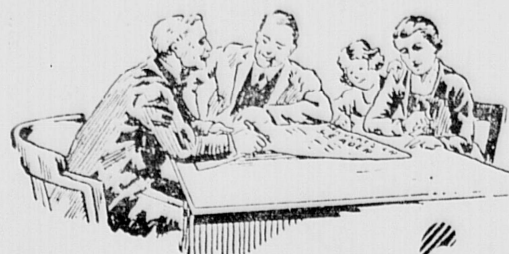

If you suffer from symptoms popularly believed to be "sluggish," "torpid" or "inactive" liver, form regular bodily habits. If the symptoms do not clear up, the trouble is probably elsewhere. Consult your doctor.

Woman Fined $60, Drunken Driving

Mrs. Mildred O'Mara, 40, of Sea St., Manchester, was fined $50 by Judge Weston in the Newton court last Friday afternoon for driving a car while under the influence of liquor, and $10 for drunkenness. Her husband, Harry O'Mara, was fined $10 for drunkenness. Both appealed. They were arrested on the night of November 27 at Newton Highlands by Patrolmen Brayton and J. P. Murphy after motorists had complained to the police that the station wagon driven by Mrs. O'Mara was being driven along the pike on a flat tire, and had crossed over the reservation on the Worcester turnpike from one side to the other. Both arresting officers, and Sergeant Moran, the booking officer, testified that the O'Maras were drunk.

Mrs. O'Mara testified that she and her husband had been to a party at a friend's home in Newton Centre, that she had only three drinks of punch that evening, and that she was sober. Her husband also claimed that he was sober.

Lewis F. Curtis of 333 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre, was fined $10 by Judge Weston in the Newton court on Monday for speeding. Scipione, also charged with speeding by Traffic Officer Goddard, pleaded "nolo," and his case was filed. Last week Curtis had been adjudged in contempt of court by Judge Weston and sentenced to serve 7 days in jail. He was released before serving the sentence, when he paid the claims which had caused him to have been adjudged in contempt.

Women's Club Activities

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

Governor And Other Guests At Conference

The guests of the day for the Radio Conference of the State Federation, to be held Monday, January 8, at the Copley-Plaza Hotel, will be Governor and Mrs. Leverett Saltonstall; Mayor and Mrs. Maurice Tobin; Mrs. Harold V. Milligan, chairman of the Radio department of the General Federation of Women's Clubs; and Miss Margaret Cuthbert, in charge of Women's Activities, of the National Broadcasting Company. Managers of the Boston Radio Stations and members of the Press also will be guests.

Mrs. Benjamin F. Kraus, chairman, will preside at the Conference and introduce the guests and speakers. Following the opening formalities at 10 o'clock, and the introduction of directors and advisers of the committee, Mr. Edward M. Kirby, director of Public Relations, of the National Association of Broadcasters, will make the first address of the day.

Carl Moore and Ray Girardin, talented entertainers of WEEL, will give a sample of their humor.

A personal appearance will be made by the Toll House Lady, Ruth Wakefield.

Edward Gamage (Lord Milford), of London, Staff soloist with the National Broadcasting Company, will give a musical interlude. He was leading tenor of the D'Oyly Carte Opera Company for five years, and is known from coast to coast.

"Your Life Is In Your Hand" will be explained by Earl Harding, Palmist, who has been honored by Her Majesty, Queen Mary, and by many members of European royalty and nobility.

Mr. Lloyd G. Del Castillo, production manager of WEEL, will be followed by Pauline Warren, Miss Warren, who was society editor and fashion commentator for five years with the Boston Herald, now conducts a radio program over Station WNAC, Boston Town.

Bertha Damon, author of "Grandma Called It Carnal", will be the luncheon speaker. Her personal reminiscences of Grandma Griswold and her life in a remote Connecticut village are said to be even more funny than her written account in the book which was hailed as a literary find of the year.

The Muscanto Trio, known as "The Silver Strings" of radio, will provide the luncheon music.

Daniel O'Donnell will open the afternoon session with an address on "Citizenship." He is well qualified to discuss this subject as he is a practicing attorney, and has been Town Moderator in Weymouth the past four years.

A woman who is already known throughout the country is Katherine Fisher, director of Good Housekeeping Institute. She is an authority on home management and consumer problems. She was at one time head of the school of Household Sciences at Macdonald College, McGill University, and later joined the faculty of Columbia University.

Domestic and International News will be presented by Neil Wallace, Associate News Announcer; followed by Helene Wiedeman, noted Soprano. Mr. James Duane Squires, chairman of the department of Social Studies at Colby Junior College, will discuss "Propaganda."

A demonstration of Frequency Modulation Transmitter at Paxton, Mass., will be given by Paul A. DeMars, technical director of the Yankee Network.

To close the Conference Betty Cushing Griffin of WIBX, Utica, New York, will read a Bedtime Story.

Altogether, this promises to be an unusual and attractive event.

As luncheon tickets are limited, they must be reserved and paid for before January 5th. All luncheon tickets and Registration reservations must be made through Mrs. William T. Hanson, State Farm, Bridgewater, and orders will be filled in the order of their receipt. Payment ($2.00) must accompany the reservation. No luncheon tickets will be sold without a Registration tag.

Holiday Mood Prevails In Club Events

Newton Community Club

A real Christmas spirit prevailed at the meeting of the Newton Community Club, held at the Underwood School Hall on Thursday, December 14th. Mrs. Henry Williams Inman's program of "Famous Paintings of Famous Women" was well suited to the holiday season. Club members, and many daughters, were posed in a large gold frame, with a soft background against which the exquisite colors of their costumes showed to excellent advantage. Each tableau was not only artistically but masterfully portrayed, for many of these poses were very difficult to maintain.

The following Club members appeared in the pictures: Mrs. Andrew G. McKnight, Mrs. Samuel E. Cutler, Mrs. Francis L. Buswell, Mrs. John R. MacNeil, Mrs. F. Sayford Bacon, Mrs. G. Leroy Conel, Mrs. Raymond B. Ladoo, Mrs. Ralph M. Patterson, Mrs. Sterling N. Loveland, Mrs. Warren W. Marston, Mrs. A. H. Handley, Mrs. Fred Hawkins, Mrs. Norman L. Shibley, and the Misses Marcia MacNeil, Marjorie MacNeil, Barbara MacNeil, Barbara Ladoo, Audrey Fitzgerald, and Ellen Gorton. The two Madonnas, who drew the curtains from the pictures, were Jane Merrill, Gertrude Dennison, Clara Sampson, and Anna Avantaggio. Mrs. George Pratt Maxim gave a brief resume of each painting before the curtains were drawn.

Mrs. Ronald Jones, music chairman, arranged a splendid musical program in keeping with the tableaux presented. The Club Chorus sang several times, and there were solos and duets by different members, as well as violin numbers by Miss Ruthabeth Kruger, a talented young artist. At the close of the program Mrs. Jones introduced Mrs. Erdine Oedel, who is doing such splendid work in getting the Chorus organized.

During the business meeting which preceded the program the president, Mrs. Wallace Wales, presented Mrs. Walter W. Jamison, who told of the Drama Club which the mothers of the Stearns School Center have formed, which Club will furnish the entertainment for the Newton Community Club at their meeting on January 14th.

Mrs. Edwin W. Smith, chairman of the Conservation and Garden committee, had arranged in the Committee Room an interesting Christmas display, consisting of an exquisite creche, by Mrs. Howard M. LeSourd, as well as several lovely terrariums, and many Christmas packages to inspire one to use originality in wrapping and tying gifts. A social hour followed the program.

At the tea table, which was attractively decorated by Mrs. Kenneth Chase and Mrs. L. L. Cleveland, the pointers were Mrs. Everett L. Pierce, Mrs. William J. Goode, Mrs. Leon Avak, and Miss Rose Coyle.

Newton Highlands Creche Exhibit

The younger set of this village was well represented at the Annual Creche Exhibit held by the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands, last Sunday, the 17th, in the Workshop. Among those exhibiting and preparing their own creches were Dean Waite, Anne Austin, Nancy Hale, Carol Root, Herbert and Richard Dunphy, Frances MacKay, Austin Budget; and a Chinese Group arranged by the Senior Girl Scouts.

Mrs. Elwood Clapp, Mrs. Fred Thompson, and Mrs. Dana Sylvester showed unusual and beautiful creches. Mrs. Harry Forte and Mr. R. D. Flansburgh each exhibited wall creches. A portrait of a Madonna and a statue "Madonna of the Roses" owned by Mrs. W. A. Eagan were on display. A wooden angel lent by Miss Grace Hunter, of Filene's Gift Shop, was an unusual feature. Two Madonnas, which were lent by Mrs. Richard Farrell, were very effective.

One of the rarest features of the exhibit was a seventeenth century creche figure in peasant costume lent by Mr. and Mrs. Bassett. The mantel was beautifully decorated in blue silver by Mrs. Walter Decker. Mrs. Decker and her daughter Jane were also responsible for exquisite cellophane angels and crystal tree decorations.

The Garden Club furnished many beautiful wreaths, which added much to the holiday aspect of the affair. After the Christmas Music by the Club Chorus, Miss Edith Fisher, of the original Thread and Needle Shop, told her story and showed creches brought from Austria, Italy, Germany, England, and France.

The evening program closed with community singing, and much appreciation was given to Mrs. Fred Thompson and her art committee for an excellent exhibit.

Newtonville Woman's Club

A beautiful Christmas program was presented Tuesday afternoon, December 19, at the Newtonville Woman's Club House. A series of tableaux representing famous paintings, under the arresting title of "The Path to Glory" were posed by members of the Club, directed by Mrs. Henry Williams Inman. As each tableau was announced, curtains were drawn away from a large gold frame, by Miss Nancy McGill, Miss Marguerite Merendahl, Miss Marjorie Ogilvie, and Miss Caroline Peterson, dressed as Fra Angelico Angels. Mrs. Hortense Creede Rallsback, Narrator, gave a brief story of each picture. Approximate music, under the direction of Mrs. A. D. Quimby, furnished an effective background.

The following paintings and those posing in them were: The Annunciation, by Fra Angelico, posed by Miss Edith Alexander and Miss Patricia Spaulding; The Visitation, by Domenico Ghillandaio, posed by Mrs. Robert Lindquist and Mrs. Hugh McCrae; The Nativity, by Antonio Correggio, posed by Mrs. John E. Cox, Mrs. John Kohrbeck, Miss Ruth Filene, and Mrs. George Hinman; The Presentation, by Fra Bartolomeo, posed by Mrs. Seth Kalberg, Mrs. Ivan Pettys, and Mrs. Howard Thomas; The Repose in the Flight into Egypt, by Antonio Correggio, posed by Mrs. Robert Rockwell; The Boy Jesus in the Temple, by Hofmann, posed by Master Donald Cox, Mrs. Carl Hanson, and Mrs. Lucius Jones; The First Miracle, by Titorello, posed by Mrs. G. Edgar Thyrng and Mrs. Charles Hooper; The Women of Jerusalem, by Bouguereau, posed by Mrs. Edwin McGill, Mrs. Raymond Church, Mrs. John Duff, and Mrs. Raymond Green; John Taking Mary Home, by William Dyce, posed by Mrs. Harold Tilton and Mrs. Raymond Green; Master Dolorosa, by Guido Reni, posed by Mrs. Thomas Walters; and The Resurrection, by Fra Angelico, posed by Mrs. Ernest Kuebler, Mrs. Edwin McGill, Mrs. Raymond Church, and Mrs. John Duff.

The quartette composed of Mrs. Clinton Kyle, Mrs. William Fish, Mrs. William Jones, and Mrs. William Ferrin, sang several selections during the program. Mrs. William Fish sang an alto solo, "O, Rest in the Lord." Miss Dorothy Kovitz and Miss Edie Pucharelli furnished a duet for violin and piano, and Mrs. Ernest Nichols played a piano solo, Adagio Cantabile, by Beethoven.

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

LAND COURT

Middlesex, ss.
To the Honorable the Judges of the Land Court for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Respectfully represents Barbara T. Days also known as Abbie T. Days of Newton, in the County of Middlesex, and said Commonwealth; that she is owner of a certain lot of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth, bounded and described as follows: the premises on the east side of Emerald Street, formerly Hawthorne Street in said Newton, comprising 15,000 square feet of land, more or less, more particularly described as follows: Beginning at the Southwest corner at the corner of land now or formerly of Patrick Molloy; thence running North by land of said Molloy 139.16 feet to land of Cook Heirs; thence running Easterly by said land of Cook Heirs 198.85 feet to land formerly of Turner; thence running Southerly by said land of Turner 140.03 feet to said Emerald Street; thence running Westerly by said street 198.85 feet to point of beginning.

That the record title to said lot of land is clouded by a mortgage given by Peter Foley, to Elbridge Bradshaw, dated August 15, 1910, and duly recorded Book 3546, Page 73, purporting to secure a note for $300, payable in three years from date, with interest semi-annually, which mortgage appears to be undischarged, unassigned and unenforced on and by the record—or not properly or legally discharged of record;

That for more than twenty years after the expiration of the time limited for the full performance of said condition no payment has been made and no other act done in recognition of said mortgage; and

That the mortgage named in said mortgage and those claiming under him have been in uninterrupted possession of said land for more than twenty years after the expiration of time limited in said mortgage for the full performance of the condition thereof.

WHEREFORE your petitioner prays that after appropriate notices a decree may be entered on the foregoing allegations as authorized by Section 15, Chapter 240 of the General Laws as amended by Chapter 20, of the Acts of 1924.

BARBARA T. DAYS.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

Middlesex, ss. LAND COURT (Seal)

Case No. 3402, Misc.

Upon the foregoing petition, it is ordered that the petitioner give notice to all persons interested in said petition to appear before the Land Court, at Cambridge, within and for our said County of Middlesex (where appearances and answers may be filed with Thomas Leighton, Register of Deeds for the South Registry District of said Middlesex County, as Assistant Recorder of said Court) on the first Monday of February next, by causing a true and attested copy of said petition and this order to be published forthwith once a week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in Newton, in said County of Middlesex, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before said first Monday of February next; by serving each known respondent by registered mail with a like attested copy of said petition and order as soon as may be and in any event fourteen days at least before said first Monday of February next; that all respondents may then and there show cause why the prayer of said petition should not be granted.

By the Court.

Attest:

CHARLES A. SOUTHWORTH, Recorder.

"It should be noted that the 1940 budget does not provide for the return of some services which were eliminated in curtailing the budget last year such as:

"Certainly if Newton is to provide adequately for the education of the children of this city, the restoration of these services is highly desirable, particularly that service rendered to large elementary school districts by the building assistant."

Have To Replace Engine 3 Motor

On recommendation of the Mayor the Aldermen at their meeting on Monday night appropriated $1752 to purchase a new motor for Engine 3 of the Newton Fire Department. While it was being operated at the three-alarm fire at the Strangman mill on the night of December 14, something undetermined happened to the cooling system of the big motor in the fire engine; it became overheated, and one piston broke. Although the motor could be repaired, the Maxim Company of Middleboro, makers of the fire engine, would not guarantee the future condition of the engine. So, Chief Randlett recommended that a new motor be purchased. Engine 3 has been in commission three years.

Urge Safe Driving During Holidays

"Motor vehicle deaths in the approaching holiday season will be more numerous than in any other period of similar length in the year," Chief of Police Michael T. Hughes stated today in announcing a special safety drive during the holiday season.

"Judging from past years, fatal automobile accidents in the three weeks from Dec. 11 to Jan. 1 will be 29 per cent above the average of other three-week periods," Chief Hughes continued. "This Christmas holiday period record will be 50 per cent worse than the three weeks around Decoration Day, 40 per cent worse than the three weeks around Labor Day if Newton follows the nationwide statistics."

"In general pedestrians will account for three out of every five fatalities which may be suffered by our community during this period which should be the happiest of the year," Chief Hughes declared. "There are more pedestrian injuries and deaths from motor vehicles in December than in any other month," he added.

The special holiday safety drive accordingly will be directed principally at pedestrians and will be built around a holiday safety poster developed by the Automobile Safety Committee of the Lumbermen's Mutual Casualty Company, Chicago, which is being donated to the city in large quantities by Alfred E. Fuller, local representative of the company.

gaged in the business of producing or distributing milk, and their employees. They marched to the State House to protest against Federal regulations which they claim are driving the small milk dealers out of business by according special advantages to the big milk companies. They contend that the control of the milk business by the bureaucrats at Washington, instead of benefiting the producing farmers, as alleged, really is for the benefit of the big distributing companies. Milk is one of the leading food items. In fact, insofar as children and invalids are concerned, it is the most important food item. For the past several years there has been much strife over control of the production and distribution of milk, and the Federal government has been assuming more and more authority in this very important matter. We have received information relative to this question, and in the next few weeks shall publish some details from it.

We wish our readers a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, provided that circumstances will permit them being merry and happy, and to those who are burdened with sickness or other troubles, we wish some measure of relief from their tribulations.

Aldermen Hold Special Meeting To Discuss New Motor For Engine No. 3

Alderman Hoffman Asks Information About Maxim Apparatus Largely Used by Newton

A special meeting of the Newton Board of Aldermen was held on Friday night, December 22, to reconsider a motion appropriating $1752 for the purchase of a new motor for Engine No. 3 of the Newton Fire Department. The meeting was called by Mayor Childs after Alderman Carroll Hoffman had filed notice with the city clerk that he would move for reconsideration of the appropriation, which was made at the regular meeting of the Board on Monday night, December 18. Eleven members of the Aldermen were present at the meeting. They included President Floyd, Baer, Fahy, Hoffman, Hughes, Rawson, Colby, McKay, Jamieson, McCabe and Gaddis.

Alderman Hoffman said the question before the Board had been brought up by him upon request of some of his constituents who doubted if he had voted properly when he approved of the $1752 appropriation, and because he believed that a lot of questions which had been asked should be answered. Hoffman said that whatever he stated should not be taken as a reflection on the excellent Chief of the Newton Fire Department. The first question asked by Hoffman was—"What caused the motor of Engine No. 3 to break down at the Stranman mill fire on the night of December 14, after the engine had been running only about one hour?" He commented that only one Alderman (Hughes) had asked this question on the night the appropriation was made, and he himself felt guilty for voting without knowing the cause of the motor breakdown. He asked—"Was the breakdown due to negligence, or was the motor of the wrong type, and should it be replaced with another motor of the same make and type?"

Hoffman said that the fire department has been run well, but when a motor which should last 15 years, breaks down in 5 years, it should be looked into. He said that the Newton Fire Department has the unique distinction of having almost entirely equipment bought from one company (the Maxim of Middleboro) and the claims of competing companies should be considered. Newton has more Maxim apparatus than any other city and competitors claim it is unstandardized. Hoffman said he had spent the greater part of that day inspecting the Maxim shop at Middleboro and found it was more than a glorified garage as had been claimed. He said that although the company has been in business 50 years and has been making fire apparatus 26 years, it is still a small company. He raised the argument that it is not wise for the city to buy all its fire apparatus from one company, which may go out of business in the future, and that the equipment should be more diversified. Although the Maxim company has the reputation of not paying gratuities to politicians, and this may account for it not receiving orders from some cities, he questioned if it is economy to buy fire trucks at lower costs, when the maintenance cost may be greater. According to Hoffman, the list price of the 180 horsepower motor in the Maxim fire engine is $1114, and the difference between this and the $1752 must be for added parts and labor. He questioned if it is economy to purchase another such motor, and he moved for reconsideration, and Alderman Hughes seconded the motion.

Alderman Temperley raised the point that one of the city's fire engines is out of commission and should be replaced quickly. He feared that to be without proper protection might jeopardize Newton's status as a Class A risk in fire insurance. He favored getting the motor replacement without delay and examining the cause of the breakdown later. Alderman Rawson and McCabe agreed with Temperley and objected to reconsideration.

President Floyd read a letter from Charles Bailey, secretary of the Newton Taxpayers Association in which criticism was made of the action of Chief Rammett in sending the disabled engine to Middleboro before any appropriation for the work of repairing or replacing the motor had been made. The latter also requested that the Board of Aldermen discuss the matter in open meeting.

Alderman Colby expressed his admiration for the efforts of Alderman Hoffman in trying to effect economy, but he questioned if the Alderman had the power, under the city charter, to go into this matter, or to consider what type of fire apparatus the city should buy. He said this is an executive matter. He asked for a ruling on this point. Alderman McKay hoped the motion to reconsider would not prevail, as the executive department can be depended on to give careful consideration to this matter. President Floyd ruled that Colby's point was well taken. Chief Randlett of the Fire Department told of telephoning the Maxim company the night Engine No. 3 broke down, how they sent a man

Letter Carrier Caught Stealing

Beverly T. Booth, 48, of 234 Jackson st., Newton Centre, a letter carrier at the Newton Centre postoffice for 16 years, was arraigned before Commissioner Henry Robbins in the Federal court in Boston on December 21 and held for the Federal grand jury in $1000 bonds. Booth was arrested by Postoffice Inspectors Callahan and Looney charged specifically with the theft of $1 from a decoy letter addressed to Mrs. Grace L. Rogers, 1203 Centre st., Newton Centre. Complaints had been received at the Newton Centre postoffice that letters containing money for Christmas seals in conjunction with the campaign against tuberculosis were being stolen. The inspectors had been at the postoffice for a few days trying to catch whoever was stealing the money, and addressed the decoy letter to Mrs. Rogers who is a member of the campaign committee. Suspicion was not directed against Booth until he was allegedly detected abstracting a letter.

Use Caution At Bullough's Pond

Many inquiries were received at City Hall the first three days of this week because of the lack of skating at Bullough's Pond, Newtonville, the skating centre of this city, particularly since on many other ponds in this vicinity there had been skating. The Recreation Department did not permit skating at Bullough's Pond or Crystal Lake until yesterday because the ice at these two popular skating places was not considered safe. It was frozen to a sufficient thickness in some parts of the two bodies of water, but was not of the proper thickness in other parts to safely support the large numbers who would have been on the pond and the lake had skating been permitted. There was skating, however at Ware Cove in Auburndale on the river.

John R. Prescott, Outstanding Newton Citizen, Died Dec. 24

Had Been Member of Board Of Assessors Over 31 Years

John R. Prescott, one of Newton's best known and most respected citizens, died at his home, 271 Crafts st., Newtonville, on Dec. 24. For 31 years he had been a member of the Newton Board of Assessors and had been active in his duties until the Monday preceding his death. Although 87 years of age, he was remarkably active both mentally and physically for a man of his years. He was a native of Vassalboro, Maine, and had lived in this city for over 60 years. His parents were both natives of Nantucket and he was a direct descendant of Thomas Macy, the first settler of that island. Before becoming a member of the Board of Assessors, Mr. Prescott had been treasurer of the furniture firm of Anthony & Cowell, Providence; and of Smith & Anthony, Boston stove and plumbing concern. He was a charter member and past president of the Newtonville Improvement Association and years ago was responsible for two park areas being

Judge Reprimands Young Autoist for Being "Fresh"

John Iarrobino, 19, of Suffolk rd., Chestnut Hill, a Boston College student, was found guilty in the Newton court on Wednesday of not stopping his car before entering a through street, and he was fined $5. The youth received a box of coins from a young woman who was seated among the spectators in the courtroom and took it to Captain Vedeccio who was serving as court officer. The captain objected to counting the nickels and pennies in the collection and Judge Mayberry entered into the argument. He told Iarrobino that he would not accept the payment of the fine in that way and told the youth—"If you think you can come here and act fresh, you are likely to land over there in a cell." The judge gave Iarrobino until the next day to pay the fine with money of larger denomination. Patrolman Smith testified he had warned the defendant on a previous occasion not to commit the offense for which he was summoned to court.

WPA Adds 90 Men To Newton Quota

Newton's WPA quota has been increased 90, bringing the present number to 475, which still makes it a few hundred less than the peak which this city has had during the past several years. Fifty of the men have been put to work on the project of widening and improving Brookline st., Oak Hill, between the Brookline boundary and Dudley rd. This stretch of road, about a half mile in length, will soon have about 100 WPA men assigned to it. The work is expected to take several months. The WPA will allot about $44,000 in funds for this project. The city will spend about $41,000 for materials and trucking.

Local Store Proves It Pays To Advertise

A steady increase in business reported by Moore & Moore's Hardware Store is a favorable sign for business conditions at Newton Corner. Moore & Moore maintains its full complement of employees throughout the year and has repeatedly reported a bigger percentage of business gains as compared with similar periods of a year ago.

Mr. Walter Moore states that the largest day's business in 1938 was the day before Christmas, exceeding by far any other day during the year. That peak was exceeded several times before Christmas this year. On Wednesday the 13th, and Saturday the 16th with Christmas still more than a week away the day's totals were higher than the 1938 high mark. Again this year on the Saturday before Christmas previous highs were exceeded.

The newest things in household utilities are constantly appearing on the counters of this Newton Corner store. Other major lines, including electrical appliances, radios, and general hardware, help make a center of interesting activity together with a courteous and efficient store personnel.

The large and varied stock, according to Mr. Moore, allows for more extensive advertising under a supervised and carefully considered program. Much of the increased business, Mr. Moore concludes, is the result of this advertising program, proving its value through a local medium in the community.

THE NEW YEAR

As we watch the Old Year fade away
We surround ourselves with reveries,
For that which has once lived in the past
Can only live again in our memories.

As we watch the New Year enter in Praying happiness for all on earth,
Toward the future we set our goal
For faith and courage have had rebirth.

The Old—the New—memory and hope,
Gradually the change now is made,
For life must go on by some design
With heavenly handiwork inlaid.

W. K. B., Jan. 1, 1940

THE INAUGURATION

On Monday inauguration ceremonies will take place at the city hall. City officials will take the oath of office. It is a solemn occasion, one in which every citizen should take a keen interest. As the mayor-elect, members of the Board of Aldermen and School Committee take up their duties they have the sincere hopes of every citizen for the New Year that Newton will continue to progress toward better things.

JOHN R. PRESCOTT

A sadness spread over the various communities of Newton over the Christmas week-end with the passing of John R. Prescott. John R. Prescott gave a great deal to the community life of Newton. Author of "The Story of Newton" with a sub-title "Suburban Living at Its Best" he exemplified this spirit through his active participation as a Newton citizen. He was never content to stop. His eyes were always on the future—a better future. It was only a few weeks ago that he produced a second and improved volume of his story of Newton. That story will remain as a memorial to his life among us. Newton is most surely a better place to live for his having lived a long and useful life of service.

Christmas At The Newton Hospital

Again this year the individual members of the Board of Trustees of the Newton Hospital made very generous contributions to the Hospital Christmas Fund in order to carry on the tradition of providing the happiest possible Christmas for its patients.

For many days the nurses gave their spare time to wrapping gifts provided by this fund, which Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus in appropriate costumes presented to each patient on Christmas morning. The hospital was very festive and Santa's pack was very full. In addition to the gifts which were carefully wrapped for all patients, a few selected children who had been patient sufferers through very serious illness were given an opportunity to choose the gift they wanted most. These gifts were provided by generous friends and included a suit of clothes for a fifteen-year-old boy, a watch and tool kit for another boy.

On every floor a gaily lighted tree laden with gifts, winter scenes, wreaths and other greenery added to the festive atmosphere. Although decorations and gifts play a large part in the Christmas happiness, a program is carried on for several days which is designed to prevent the patients from being disappointed at being away from their homes during this season. Earlier in December, Santa Claus, Santanon and a jolly clown were sent by the Jordan Marsh Company to herald in the happy season and each child received a gift-wrapped package marked with his own name. Through the Hospital Aid Association, warm red flannel jackets were provided for each child and worn on Christmas Day.

"Caroling" began on Thursday before Christmas Day when a group of Girl Scouts and the Newton High School Glee Club sang throughout the hospital; on Saturday evening the Legion Band directed by Dr. Down played carols in front of the hospital and on the day before Christmas during the afternoon and evening, a group from the St. Mary's Church sang carols. Very early on Christmas morning, the School of Nursing Glee Club, which is under the direction of Mr. D. Ralph MacLean, graduate nurses and internes formed a chorus and sang carols on each ward. Mr. White also later directed the Highlands Glee Club and the Nurses' Glee Club in a repertoire of favorite songs, many requested by the patients.

At noon a delicious turkey dinner was served. The trays were decorated by favors and placecards made by the nurses which included a jolly old Santa Claus, a real live Christmas Tree hung with miniature gifts and other artistic creations—a different one for each meal.

Connick Stained Glass Exhibit in Newtonville

Mr. Charles J. Connick of Newtonville, one of the most distinguished stained glass artists in this country, has loaned the exhibit on stained glass work which is now being shown at the Newton Library. The exhibit contains his designs for windows in the cathedrals of St. John, the Divine, and St. Vincent de Ferrer in New York, and for the University of Pittsburgh. Two display cases show the different stages in the development of stained glass pictures from the raw blocks of glass used to the leading process. Several small medallions by Mr. Connick have been hung in windows. The library has cooperated by the display of a good bibliography on the art of stained glass making, including Mr. Connick's own, "Adventures in Light and Color."

Mr. Connick's outstanding pieces of this exhibit, however, are the two medallion windows which he donated to the library and which have been set in the large end windows. Their subjects are: Emily Dickinson's "There is no frigate like a book to bear us landwards," and Robert Frost's, "The Mending Wall."

Powers' Paragraphs

One of Newton's best known and most respected citizens passed from this world the day before Christmas. John R. Prescott had a long, happy and useful life. A descendant of the first settler of Nantucket, his parents migrated from that island to Kennebec Valley in Maine, where he was born at Vassalboro 87 years ago. A fine, old American type, Mr. Prescott was a gentleman at all times, radiating courtesy and consideration. He took a keen interest in civic affairs, both in his home city of Newton, and in his native State of Maine, where his summer home was located. He was blessed by the retention of his health and faculties until a few days preceding his death. His legion of friends in this city and elsewhere will miss his genial smile and kindly greeting.

So far this year ten persons have died in Newton as a result of automobile accidents, although one of the ten was an aged man who slipped as he was alighting from a car and died later of complications caused by his injury. Several of the victims were pedestrians, some of them aged persons. In many cities in this country, including a number in Massachusetts, speed limits of 30 and even 25 miles an hour have been established. Springfield, Worcester and Waltham have adopted the latter limit. In cities where such speed limits have been set, the number of persons killed and injured in automobile accidents has been greatly reduced. In past years various persons, including the writer, have suggested that a speed limit be established in Newton. Such a limit was designated a few years ago by the Chief of Police, but it was not put into effect.

Recently Alderman Gaddis, chairman of the committee on Street Traffic, advocated a speed limit of 30 miles an hour in Newton, but had the impression that Chief of Police Hughes was of the opinion that such a limit might be an intrusion on the functions of the court. Chief Hughes, however, informed the writer that he favors the 30-mile limit, and that signs specifying such a limit were being painted by the Street Department. Chief Hughes states, that to be effective, the speed limit signs should be of the type with reflector buttons, which could be seen at night.

Recently the Oak Hill Improvement Association held an open meeting at which General Daniel Needham, president of the Newton Safety Council, spoke on the topic—"The Problem of Safety." According to the report of Mr. Needham's speech which we received, he stated that three "E's" are necessary for highway safety; namely, Engineering, Enforcement of traffic regulations, and Education of the public. The writer was interested in the Newton Safety Council. We served as chairman at its organization meeting at the request of Mayor Childs, and it was at our suggestion that Mr. Needham be elected the first president of the Council and has since held that office. We regret that interest in the council has dwindled and that for the past couple of years its meetings have been poorly attended. The council started out quite seriously, appointing committees on engineering, law enforcement, adult education, child education, publicity, etc. When the council was proposed, it was our idea that its purpose was to arouse in the many thousands of automobile owners and operators in this city a respect for State traffic regulations and city parking ordinances. We believed that the Council should campaign to inculcate in automobile drivers consideration for the lives and safety of the public by cautious and considerate driving, and that it would work to stop the "fixing" of cases by officers or their friends. We don't believe adults need to be "educated" regarding traffic safety. Any rational person by observation and experience learns through the years of the dangers caused by reckless driving or reckless walking. Reckless driving isn't caused by ignorance. It is caused by "cussedness," meanness and selfishness on the part of automobile operators. And the same qualities, or lack of qualities explains why so many autoists ignore parking regulations, and this causes annoyance and hazards to the majority who obey such regulations. And pedestrians who endanger their lives by not using caution and common sense on public highways do so either because they are stupid, because they are too young to have acquired good judgment, or their faculties and judgment have been dimmed by old age. And to protect safe driving automobile owners, and to safeguard little children and old folks crossing our streets, the only practical method is to establish reasonable speed limits. Ninety per cent of motorists don't need such restrictions; they are decent enough to drive carefully. But there are many thousands of drivers in the other 10 per cent constantly endangering human lives, and then squealing when they get caught, and attempting to "fix" cases.

In his address at the Oak Hill Improvement Association meeting, General Needham was quoted as opposing "speed zoning" such as other States have adopted. He argued that weather conditions, invitation to speed-up to stated limits, and inequality of expositions in driving promote more danger than safety. We can't see the logic of Mr. Needham's contention. We have repeatedly referred to the excellent safety records of Rhode Island where "speed zoning" has been in effect for several years. In that State the speed limit in congested city districts is 20 and 25 miles per hour, 30 miles in the outskirts of towns, and a 45 mile limit in open country with clear views. Mr. Needham mentioned that Providence, where the speed limit is 25 miles per hour, has the best safety record in this country, and that as a result of a 25 mile speed limit in Worcester fatal accidents have dropped 50 per cent.

Although there is a Massachusetts law specifying 30 miles as a safe speed limit, Registrar Goodwin continues to advocate a 50 mile safe driving limit daytimes, and 45 miles at night or in wet weather. And then he blathers about the continuing high number of automobile fatalities in Massachusetts. When Governor Saltonstall and Registrar Goodwin will urge the adoption of the Rhode Island speed zoning method in this State, they will be assisting in a reduction of the disgraceful number of automobile fatalities in this Commonwealth.

It was only a couple of months ago that our learned experts on foreign affairs and our brilliant commentators were telling us that Russia did not intend to fight. The Soviets were to stand by and watch Germans, Frenchmen and British slaughter each other, and then step in and seize control of Europe. That may have been the plan of Comrade Stalin and his board of strategy. Probably they did not expect that they would have to fight the Finns. But, according to news from Finland, Russia has been doing considerable fighting, and losing many men.

One of the photographs in the GRAPHIC this week shows Christmas trees and other greenery stacked on a public street and sidewalk, largely blocking the latter. Our reason for printing this photograph was—that a few weeks ago Alderman Max Gaddis, chairman of the Street Traffic Committee of the Aldermen informed us that he had taken steps to prevent such use of public streets and sidewalks in the future. Mr. Gaddis stated that several years ago a former Street Commissioner first granted permits for such private use of streets and sidewalks before Christmas. Incidentally, Mr. Gaddis stated that it is not legal to grant such permits. Only a small minority of storekeepers asked for such a privilege. Some of those receiving it have encroached more and more on the highways and sidewalks as the years passed, and the practice has become such a nuisance that Alderman Gaddis has received complaints not only from citizens, but from other storekeepers who do not resort to this use of highways and sidewalks as outdoor markets, and object to unfair competition by those who do.

Christmas Seal Sale

Millions of Christmas Health Seals have been used during the past three weeks to decorate letters and packages, serving as messengers of goodwill and sympathy for our fellow men. The sale of these seals is officially from Thanksgiving until Christmas; however, the chairmen in charge of the sale have yet to hear from many of their letters of appeal. Undoubtedly in some cases, payment for the seals has been forgotten or overlooked in the busy rush of the Christmas season. It will be of assistance to the local chairmen of the sale, if those who have not replied will send either their purchase money or return the seals, that the records may be completed for this season. Each contributor actively joins in the unfinished task of the local and national tuberculosis societies—a task which can be finished only with proper support. No contribution is too large or too small.

Newton Graphic, December 20, 1884
No mistake about winter's coming. The thermometer this morning registers just below zero.

As Christmas falls in the middle of the week this year, some of the churches will observe it this Sunday, and others the Sunday after. Announcements for the services next Sunday are given this week.

The inmates of the almshouse will have a Christmas tree on Thursday evening. Those having friends in the institution to whom they would like to send remembrances can send gifts to Supt. Moody or Deacon John Warner.

The Adventist cranks are again sending out announcements of the end of the world, which is this time coming on Sunday, Jan. 1, 1885. Our friends needn't hesitate to subscribe for the GRAPHIC on that account, as we will refund any balance due on unexpired subscriptions if the universe dissolves at that date.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday afternoon a communication was received from the School committee asking that the high school military battalion be allowed to drill in City Hall two days a month during the winter. At Alderman Cobb's suggestion it was voted to give the use of Nonantum Hall, Newton, instead of City Hall, because drilling at the latter place would cause too much disturbance.

A permit was granted to George Crane to sell brown bread and beans on Sunday mornings at his bakery store in the postoffice block, Newton.

The Board of Health has directed their agent to see if anything can be done about draining a swamp on the land of Mrs. Adelaide Hawes at Elkin ave. There have been four cases of malignant scarlet fever in her family, two of her children dying. Now there is a case of typhoid fever and the doctors lay it to the swamp.

Newton Graphic, December 20, 1889
Jackson Hayes, who lost a hand at FitzPatrick's planing mill two weeks ago, is able to be about again.

The night walker at Nonantum who parades as a lady dressed in black, turns out to be a man, and a number of policemen are on the watch for him. Such actions deserve a severe lesson.

Mr. Bass, the janitor at the Free Library, has resigned in order to take his wife to Colorado for the benefit of her health. His place will be filled by Mr. Marshman of Rockville, Connecticut.

Newton is to have high service in its water supply at last, and residents and land owners on the beautiful hills in Newton are enthusiastic over the prompt action taken on Monday night by the Common Council when the recommendations of the Water Board were adopted with only slight opposition. There is some surmise at the cost, but the general feeling is one of confidence in the Water Board, and their report was so explicit that everyone could understand it. It is confident that the high service will do much for the development of this city, and that in a very few years the increase in valuation will more than pay the interest on the investment.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday evening the matter of granting a license to the Salvation Army to put up a building on Washington st., West Newton, opposite S. F. Cate's stable, came up for a hearing. General Leonard was the first remonstrant. He said if anyone could speak in favor of such a nuisance, he would like to hear him. He said he was ill last October and November when the army was holding forth next to his house in Allen's Hall, and he would rather have a circus there five nights a week than the army, because then he could get some rest on the other two nights each week. If anyone could say there was music in their songs, he must have a peculiar ear, for such blathering and screeching he never heard, and mingled with drums and cymbals it was an unbearable nuisance. He could not get out of the way, and committed more sin probably, than ever before in his life.

Nathaniel T. Allen appeared for the army and said he is in favor of religious freedom, and allowing everyone to worship in his own way. He would be in favor of allowing Mormons to have a church in West Newton if they didn't break the law by having more than one wife. Charles Upham, a young man, made a long plea for the army and apparently could have talked all night. He denied that drums were beaten at the meetings. Mr. Rand contradicted Upham and said that some of the members of the army had tremendous lung power and their at temple at singing could be heard at the top of West Newton hill. Upham said that the army members sang the best they could, and if they were poor singers, God made them so. He knew of no law to prevent people from singing. The hearing was then closed and the matter taken under advisement by the Licenses Committee.

College News

By GEORGE W. HUTCHINGS, N.H.S. '39

Synonymous with Christmas and the holiday season is the vacation period of the nation's collegiate population. Newton is at present abundantly inhabited with collegians seeking temporary relaxation from the daily grind experienced at their respective schools. You'll find them working, playing, studying and resting; in most cases this is the thing most sorely missed while away at college.

Record another smashing success to the list compiled by Charles H. Merendahl Jr., of Newtonville, a student at Bowdoin College, for his three-act play, "The Twig," gained the favorable comments of a capacity first-night audience on December 15. It was presented a second time Tuesday afternoon for the enjoyment of the beautiful girls on campus for the Christmas House Parties. The Masque and Gown, college dramatic society, enacted the play which had for its theme the fact that "... we are most of us very lonely in this world; those of you who have any to love you, cling to them and thank God. The rest of you clutch at straws." The play was inspired by one of Charlie's perplexing problems. Did he want to settle down at the end of approximately eighteen years of schooling? Was a shallow rut the easiest way out of the difficulties brought on by radical tendencies, or was it better to live a life free of convention, completely without social restrictions and customs? The seriousness of the play grips you, but a little adroit humor is adeptly placed, and is for that reason effective. One will have to go far to find an amateur production which can touch Mergie's latest masterpiece.

Charles Stepanian, a junior, of Waban, took one of the difficult roles and played it to its utmost. The audience was inclined to follow the character portrayed rather than the actor with whom they were already acquainted. This is the test of good casting and characterization. A summer of acting in stock companies has done much to improve Charlie's stage technique and has put the desired conviction into his performances.

The annual Bowdoin House Parties are now meeting until another year. To contribute or take away from the festivities is an impossibility, so unanimous was enjoyment of the student body and nearly 250 lovely girls who were guests on campus. Charlie Barnett and his nationally prominent orchestra exceeded even the fondest prophesies; they were great. Red Norvo, Tommy Reynolds, Ray Keating, Mal Hamlet, and the Fenton Brothers reaped the plaudits.

of severely dance-conscious audiences. Favoring to eleven more or less "name bands" on campus, the dancers were in a truly receptive mood for Mr. C. Barnett and company at the Gym Dance.

Newton may well be proud of its beautiful daughters—they are known from college to college. We are inclined to grow boastful when mentioning that Janice Donovan of 306 Watertown st., West Newton, has the distinction of being Bowdoin's first House Party Queen. Also worthy of note is the fact that out of the twelve finalists there were five girls from the home town. Jane Charlton, Evelyn Endresen, Ruth Bryant, and Janice are former Newton High School girls who were so honored. This is all the more remarkable considering that girls from Ontario, New Mexico, Florida, Alabama, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Indiana, New York and New Jersey, as well as from the six New England states were entered—a veritable bevy of talent.

"Life," popular picture publication of the day, was on hand to photograph the activities. Don't miss it in a future issue. However, when you go to the party with Life, observe with the proverbial "grain of salt," and don't judge as critically as readers did a Williams College party.

The famed Dartmouth Winter Carnival is not far away. What a sweep it would be to have a Newton girl chosen Carnival Queen—but we shall see.

Helen Dana Leaves $250,000 Estate

The will of Miss Helen Dana, for many years a resident at 488 Centre st., Newton, was filed on Wednesday at Suffolk County probate court. Miss Dana, who was the sister of the late Judge William F. Dana, had in recent years resided at Hotel Bellevue, Boston. Her estate was valued at $250,000. Among the requests are—Harvard University, $25,000; Children's Hospital, Boston; Hanover, N. H., Hospital, and Unitarian Ministers' Pension Fund, $5,000 each; Orford, N. H., Library; M. S. P. C. A., Children's Mission, Chickering House at Dedham, Prevention of Cruelty to Children Society, Orford Congregational Church, Charlestown, N. H., Unitarian Church, Tuskegee Institute, $1,000 each. Personal bequests included $25,000 each to Frederick M. Roberts of Boston and Virginia Roberts Rhineland of Cambridge, and $10,000 to Elizabeth C. Roberts of Newton Centre.

ONE THING and ANOTHER

Ship Ahoy!

As we are about to shove off for another twelve-months' voyage, I take this opportunity to say to my friends that I sincerely trust it may prove plain sailing for them throughout 1940. That, of course, is asking a great deal for active, enterprising men and women, young or old. In all of us the spirit of adventure is still keen, or should be, and most everything enjoyable involves the element of chance. The Ocean of Life has its dangers. As if reefs, rocks and wrecks were not enough there are many "subs" to be avoided—business, social, physical and spiritual. We must always be on the lookout. We must chart our course, keep our eyes open and our heads clear while striving to do our best. As one mariner to another, "Here's luck!"

"Must'a Lost It"

Some men like to have a lot of pockets in their business suits. I think these must be the fellows who seem to find it necessary to transport a quantity of private papers wherever they happen to be. Not infrequently I encounter a man who says, "O, I want to show you a letter I received from a friend of mine." With that he thrusts his hand in his left-hand breast pocket, fishes out a bundle of letters, papers, etc. and goes over them without finding the epistle in question. Then he dives into his right-hand breast pocket, repeats the procedure with the same result. Then he plunges into his side pockets, then the hip pockets and is still unable to produce the much-wanted letter. "I wonder what I did with that?" he asks himself. Again he starts on the left-hand breast pocket, faithfully repeating every move he has made earlier. Meanwhile you have become so interested in his "fishing" that the subject of the letter has slipped your mind. Pretty soon, the man decides there is no use of further hunting. "I don't see where I lost that," he apologizes. "But never mind, I'll find it and send it to you." With that assurance he closes the incident, leaving you wondering why any man should see fit to make himself a walking file-cabinet without an index.

Appreciation

Before I learned of the passing of Mr. John R. Prescott there had been prepared for this column my written appreciation of the second edition of his, "The Story of Newton." As one privileged to possess his friendship, he had sent me an autographed copy and had done me the honor to invite comment. Believing that he would prefer I publish what had already been written, I submit the following:

I hasten to add my congratulations to our esteemed author-historian. His admirable work made the first edition of his book of rare value. It was enthusiastically praised by discerning and discriminating students of history and literature. That so local a subject should command such a wide reading among people miles away does not surprise those of us familiar with the volume.

Newton is filled with matters of general interest but no one had presented them so skillfully. The facts were both authoritative and entertaining. Mr. Prescott has now added thirteen pages, together with new illustrations. He has thereby increased the importance of what was conceded to be an ideal history of our municipality, or, as Mr. Prescott describes Newton "... suburban living at its best." His generosity in accepting nothing for his labors and donating all profits to the Newtonville branch of the Free Library deepens Newton's debt of gratitude to him.

Investigating Leap Year

If commonly accepted traditions of Leap Year, and we start on another next Monday, are fulfilled, Dan Cupid will proceed to make it lively for some people. Just what he'll do with his bow and arrow remains to be seen. I have often wondered where the idea originated that those unmarried men who stick their necks out are likely to find them in a matrimonial noose. Some jokesters would have us think that a misfortune, but they are not to be taken seriously. Still, there must be something that has given Cupid a reputation as a smarty and I would like to know what it is. The holiday rush has permitted me little time to investigate. The best I can offer at present is the dictionary's definition. It reads, "Leap Year—by extension a year (in any calendar) in which there is intercalation—an embolismic year." I shall have to consult other authorities, I can see that. Meanwhile I should like to report progress, but not very much of it.

Not Easy to Forget

Call it personality, glamour, oomph or what you may choose, some girls have plenty of it. It is unusual, however, to be remembered a whole year because of a single impression. If you're not a movie queen or raving beauty. Yet a Newton young woman achieved this distinction, so she must have a lot of "it." As soon as school closed she hurried to the South Station to board a train for New York where she was to visit friends for the current holidays. She had done the very same thing the year before. Lo and behold there was the same chair-car porter. He recalled her even to her choice of dishes, her wish for baked potatoes, a turkey sandwich and "no cream in the coffee." "Shall I order the same lunch you had a year ago?" he asked. When told to proceed, he didn't forget a thing. That's remembering and being remembered.

Women's Club Activities

Renewal of Club Activities Follows Holidays

Receptions and Teas

The yearly festivity of a New Year's Day Reception and Tea for Club members, Monday, January 1, begins a new period of varied interests for the Newton Centre Woman's Club.

Another Tea, in honor of a local artist, will occur later in the week. In the Art Gallery, Portraits, Drawings, and Color Sketches by William Cushing Loring, a prominent artist residing in Newton Centre, who has studied in Boston, New York, London, and Paris, will be on display for two weeks, from January 1st to the 15th. Mr. Loring is a member of the Museum Committee of the Rhode Island School of Design. His paintings have been exhibited in many galleries, and many are hung in permanent collections. ### Among Holiday Gatherings The Past Week

Business and Professional Group of Auburndale Woman's Club

The Business and Professional Group of the Auburndale Woman's Club met with Miss Rosa Allen, on Prairie ave., on Tuesday evening, December 19th, for their Annual Christmas Party.

All business was waived for the evening, and the members of the Group, and also the guests, including the president of the Senior Club, Mrs. Austin Fisher, the two directors, Mrs. Theodore Dearborn and Mrs. Ernest F. Drew, and Miss Anne Bunker, a former director, filled large tarlatan stockings with fruit, nuts, candy, and small toys, which were to be given to the local families to whom the Woman's Club send baskets, and the rest to the Newton Family Service Bureau.

During the year this Group put aside an amount of money for their gifts to the Canton Home for Cripples, and this year the list included dolls, games, jewelry, yarn for knitting, articles to be embroidered, and scrap books to be made by the children in the Infirmary to which the gifts go each year.

At the close of the busy evening, refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Gertrude Selloy.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The Hobby Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club met at the home of Mrs. Brooks, 20 Hunter st., West Newton, on last Tuesday, December 19th, and enjoyed a delightful Christmas Party and a luncheon served by the hostess and officers of the Class. The house was beautifully decorated with a Christmas Tree and Evergreens, a background of festivity when Mrs. Percival Waters played the part of Santa Claus, and with the help of the Class leader, Mrs. Frederick L. Legnard, presented each member with a gift. As Santa gave each present she recited a poem associating the member with a flower in her lovely garden in Weston.

It was regretted very much that Mrs. R. F. Dahlgren, secretary of the Hobby Class, was unable to attend. Mrs. Legnard made and presented each member with a tiny Christmas corsage bouquet.

Newtonville Junior Woman's Club

Fourteen small children, the oldest one nine years of age, thrilled to the antics of a magician-ventriloquist, Eliot Smith, at a Christmas Benefit Party, given them by the Newtonville Junior Woman's Club, at the Newtonville Woman's Club House, at 7 o'clock, on the evening of December 19th. Mr. Smith gave his Show before a gaily-decorated Christmas tree. After this entertainment the small guests played musical chairs, under the direction of Miss Fredede Littlefield, president. First and second awards were presented.

Each child was given a large cardboard Santa Claus on whose back a sack full of toys was slung. The Club members helped the children unpack the presents the sacks contained. Christmas Carols were sung, and last of all the children were seated at a table and served ice cream, cake, candy, and nuts.

The Club members who helped make the Party a success included: Dorothy Marie Burns, who planned the program; Margaret Edwards, who presented the sacks; Barbara Tolman, whose cardboard Santas were a sensation; Janet Elliot, pianist; as well as all members who were present at the party and presented gifts.

Santa's Visit to the Newton Community Club

Santa Claus made an early visit to the Underwood School on Thursday, December 21st, to assist the Newton Community Club Juniors in entertaining fifty children, the guests of the Senior and Junior Clubs at the Annual Christmas party. Each child received a toy, a doll for each girl, and a truck for each boy, as well as a bag of candy and a large apple and orange.

Mrs. Wallace Wales, the Club president, led the group in singing Christmas Carols, with Mrs. Howard Moore at the piano, after which Floyd, the Magician, made objects disappear only to pop up in the most unexpected places, one little boy having quite a few silver quarters, which had disappeared from the container that he held, wrung from his nose.

Following the refreshments, the Junior members, under the leadership of Mrs. John MacNeil, assisted Santa (Gertrude Dennison) in distributing the gifts to the children. Mr. Frank Avantaggio very kindly furnished the beautiful Christmas tree which the Juniors had trimmed expertly. Altogether it was a delightful afternoon, and the pleasure of the children was reward, indeed, for the time and effort put into the affair.

Celebration of Golden Anniversary

The celebration of a Golden Anniversary is something to consider and talk about in any woman's life, so that plans for such a celebration for over two million women is indeed an event to discuss and chronicle! At Atlantic City in 1941 the General Federation of Women's Clubs will celebrate its fiftieth birthday, and today every State in the Union is making plans to assist in that celebration, and to have in their own home cities and towns, as well, features which shall commemorate this event. Growth and progress, education, the arts, good citizenship, will show their march of triumph in the blessings of these fifty years since pioneer women of bravery and spirit dared to combine to demand their freedom to broaden their sphere of influence beyond narrow confines of small hamlets and townships, even of the four walls of home; and to break down the indifference, inconsideration, even injustice of man-made customs and laws which forbade woman her equal place in the world created for mankind, not for man alone.

What those fifty years have accomplished will be told in song and story in each individual State. There will be pageants presenting the years of progress; birthday parties celebrating outstanding events and personalities. There will be the composition of songs and poems. All will tell the tale of what has come from the dreams and courage of those pioneer women, led by Jennie June Croly, who founded the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Pioneer women, indeed, for we of today can hardly believe how any effort of women to go beyond the confines of home was fought and discouraged, ridiculed and attacked, by those who disapproved, and possibly feared, what the force of womanhood would become to change the balance of power!

Fittingly, the General Federation has paid tribute in a Medal which has been selected in commemoration of this event, to the Pioneer Woman, Bryant Baker is the sculptor of this figure, and the original is the statue which stands in a State Park in Ponca City, Oklahoma, unveiled on April 22, 1930, with a dedicatory service which has been described as the most stirring outdoor event in the history of Oklahoma. The principal address was made at that time by Will Rogers. The bronze statue of Mr. Baker's was selected from a group of twelve models by first-rank sculptors, after an exhibition tour of all models shown to the people of the leading cities of the United States.

The figure of a woman is striding forward with a sure step, a Bible clasped in her right hand, a bundle hanging from her right arm; a woman of erect carriage and resolute, clear eyes looking out from under a sun-bonnet; with chin up and firm mouth; a woman whose eager soul treads at her side, his hand in hers as the strange panorama of a new life unfolds.

To Pioneer Women of each State two of these medals will be presented to honor, one, the living pioneer woman; and two, the closest relative of an outstanding pioneer who is not now living, which each State may select as being those who may lay claim to highest place in this chronicle of its attainments.

A word as to Jennie June Croly, the original Pioneer Founder. She was the president of the Sorosis Club, the pioneer woman's club, of New York, which she organized in 1868. Jane Cunningham (Croly), known as Jennie June, an American author and journalist, was editor of Demarest's Magazine from 1860 to 1887, and later editor of "The Cycle," which she founded. She married David Croly in 1856, who was prominent on several

NEWTON HIGH BLANKS STONEHAM FOR UPSET

Goalie Bender Makes Many Saves To Aid Newton

Newton High pinned a 3 to 0 shut-out on a favored Stoneham high school in Wednesday afternoon quarter of Greater Boston Interscholastic Ice Hockey league games at the Boston Garden. The Newton victory was one of three unexpected results. In other games Rindge and Medford deadlocked at 2-all, Belmont wound up on top of a 2-1 decision over Melrose.

considered the team to beat for championship honors, and in the other contest Arlington and Cambridge Latin failed to break a 1-1 tie to retain an equal grip on the top rung of the league standing.

The Newton win gave Newton a tremendous lift. Two weeks ago the locals were smothered under an 8 to 2 count by the speedy veteran Melrose outfit. But Wednesday's Newton aggregation was a different outfit entirely. Against Melrose, goalie Ed Bender, playing his first game before a crowd, his first Newton varsity game, and his first Boston Garden appearance, was "lost."

The Melrose power beat him in less than a half minute after the face-off and it was all over. But against Stoneham the Newton lad was immense. Repeatedly he turned aside the puck with the coolness and savor of a veteran, making save after save in aid of the Newton cause.

A little shuffling of the line-up by Coach Johnson made Newton look a lot better than in its initial appearance and with the passing weeks the orange and black gives promise of being right in the running for honors. All the way. Joe Beatty and Tony Hines teamed up on the Newton defense to thwart many a Stoneham salvo while the Newton forward lines continually pressed the attack.

There was no scoring in either the first or second period although in the second session Gallagher and Goodband, of the Newton second line, beat the Stoneham defense several times. Their failure to score after getting inside the points is indicative of the inexperience of the Newton team. A little more improvement and this pair will start denting the strings.

Pressing the attack in the second session brought results when the first line took the ice in the third period. Each of the Newton starting trio, Captain Bud Hurley, "Bunny" Dugan, and Phil Fessenden, tucked the puck into the strings with the Newton leader opening the scoring, followed by Fessenden's tally five minutes later. Just before the game ended Dugan found the strings on a pass play from Hurley.

—Special Meeting

at once to Newton, and he decided the motor could not be repaired without being taken to the factory. A further examination at the factory the following day disclosed that it would be impractical to repair the motor. He said that when Alderman Hoffman moved for reconsideration of the appropriation, work on the engine was stopped.

Alderman Rawson told of Newton's high rating by insurance underwriters due to its fine building code and excellent fire department and water supply. He said Newton's fire apparatus has received the approval of the underwriters. Alderman McCabe inquired regarding the loss of time in repairing the engine if Hoffman's motion to reconsider prevailed. Alderman Floyd said that no action could be taken by the Mayor until the following Tuesday, because of Monday being a holiday. Alderman Colby asked for a ruling from the City Solicitor regarding whether, or not, the Mayor could take action the following day provided the motion to reconsider was not passed. Information came from the City Solicitor that whether a motion to reconsider was passed or not, the Mayor could not act until the following Tuesday. Alderman Jameson stated that the Board of Aldermen had no right to question the authority of the Chief in ordering the disabled fire engine to be towed to Middleboro.

Alderman Hoffman answered Rawson, Jameson and the other opponents of reconsideration by saying that his object is to prevent delay in replacing broken down equipment, and he again raised the question if the new motor will stand up, or if it will not be of a suitable type. He said the Aldermen as voters of the people's money have the right to inquire if money appropriated for the replacement of a broken-down motor is properly spent. He said the president of the Maxim company was present in the room, that it would take an hour or less to talk the matter over, but only one Alderman had sought any information about the matter at the preceding meeting when the appropriation was made, and it was the right and duty of the Aldermen to get such information. Alderman Hughes agreed with Hoffman.

Alderman Colby said he had been opposed to reconsideration, but since no time would be lost in replacing the motor by such action, he would vote for Hoffman's motion. The motion was then carried, the Board went into executive session, and when the meeting was again resumed in the open, after a conference had been held with Chief Randlett and the official of the Maxim company, the Aldermen voted unanimously to again appropriate the $1752.

Memorial Service For Rev. E. M. Noyes

Memorial services for Rev. Edward McArthur Noyes were held at the First Church, Newton Centre, on Wednesday, December 27. Dr. Noyes, who died at Daytona Beach, Florida on December 17 was minister of that church for 35 years. Rev. Morrison R. Boynton, pastor of the church read from the Scriptures, and Rev. Edward T. Sullivan offered prayer and gave the following tribute to his long-time friend and associate.

The circumstances of this occasion do not admit of any adequate expression of our own sense of bereavement and loss; nor of any appropriate or worthy estimate of the personality and services—of the affection and the esteem of more than a generation of people who knew that they were blessed by a great ministry.

Our peoples, his and mine, are as close to each other as our houses of worship. The most intimate friends of many of our people are members of his congregation. And the same is true of myself. We have been one people in many ways. When I was unable to officiate at a marriage in my own church (for whatever reason) he was always at hand to step in—and this particular service was rendered many times—often than any body else knows.

A peculiarly tender memory of my own is the occasion many years ago when my dear friend, and pastor of the senior church in all this region, organized here a community reception in my behalf. A stranger, visiting in this town, said to Dr. Noyes that it was strange to see a Congregational minister giving (in his own church) a reception to an Episcopal minister. Dr. Noyes asked what there was strange about that. The man said: "The strangest thing about it is that even mind seem to think that it is strange."

He had the intellectual ability of a competent scholar, if he had chosen that field for his life's work. But thorough scholarship was manifest in all his preaching; for he knew that he had a congregation capable of appreciating the type of preaching that he was able to give them.

Competent as he was, and known to be well able to deal with the absorbing world topics of his day, he was ever mindful that he was a man sent from God to minister to this people. And he preached the Gospel!!!

The Gospel of the love of God for all his people of whatever race, country or color. He was a man of God, recognized, honored and appreciated as such by his denomination, his community of all churches, and his own congregation. In his own important pulpit he followed a line of illustrious men and their mantle fell on ample shoulders—and their tradition was fully sustained.

Dr. Noyes was a "son of the Manse." There is nothing that speaks more for the life and work of the ministry than the number of "sons of the Manse" (the sons of ministers), who follow their fathers into the life work of the Christian ministry. And sons in many cases who had every calling and also alluring business opportunities, yet opted to them.

He loved to preach. His own pastor was lighted by his devotion and loyalty to his Master Jesus Christ; and you felt the glow of his consecration to his work as a minister.

Nothing is here for tears! He preached as if a burning thought was on his brow and his bosom ill at ease until it was delivered. So lived and died a Christian minister, a scholar, a gentleman. No words surely more appropriate could be said of him here in his own church in the midst of his own people who knew him and loved him, than those tender words of Horatio when Hamlet's troubled spirit took its flight—and passed to his reward: "Now cracks a noble heart; good night, sweet prince, and flights of angels wing thee to thy rest."

ASTHMA

ASTHMA is one of the allergic diseases, caused from a sensitivity of the bronchial membranes to pollens, animal effluvia or protein. The tendency is INHERENT and the disease is not contagious. While rarely fatal, Asthma is most distressing, inconvenient and exhausting, and the attacks place an undue strain on the heart and nervous system.

Asthmatic patients' major difficulty is EXHALING. The lining of the bronchial system has become irritated, and nature is trying to clear the air-passages of accumulated mucus. When the bronchial tubes and air-cells become congested, the one passage for air to the lower part of the lungs must be cleared, hence the spasmodic action of the tubes designated as ASTHMA. Sometimes an enlarged thymus gland, tumors that press on the windpipe, or a bad heart cause symptoms that are mistaken for Asthma. In children, especially, ASTHMATIC attacks are often mistaken for croup or bronchial pneumonia.

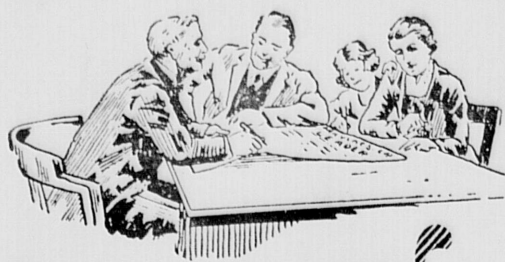

Specialists and authorities on Asthma and the allied allergic diseases (hay fever, eczema, hives, migrant, and mucous colitis) advise locating the CAUSE of sensitivity, and treatment for immunization, and less time and expense on palliative relief.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

New York newspapers, particularly as managing editor of The New York World.

Sixty-one delegates representing seventeen states attended the first meeting of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. From Massachusetts there were eleven, and Newton has the proud distinction of claiming Mrs. Electa N. L. Walton among them, who was the first president of the West Newton Women's Educational Club. Among the fourteen famous women who drafted the Constitution and presented the plan of organization for the General Federation there were two from Massachusetts, Mrs. Julia Ward Howe and Miss Sarah E. Doyle. This Constitution was ratified April 24, 1890, in Scottish Rite Hall, New York.

At Swampscott in May the State Federation will have a Birthday Party, celebrated by a Pageant depicting the cornerstones of Club History in Massachusetts.

There are many Contests open for songs, poems and plays, literature for which may be secured from the Golden Jubilee chairmen in Massachusetts, or direct from General Federation Headquarters in Washington, D. C. These chairmen in Massachusetts are Mrs. Charles L. Fuller, Birthday Parties; Mrs. Miner H. A. Evans, Pageant; Mrs. Ralph G. Swain; Flower Contest; Mrs. J. Arthur Snyder, Song and March Contest; Mrs. Raymond W. Wheeler, State Flag; Mrs. Walter A. Hall, Pioneer Club Woman; Mrs. Benjamin F. Kraus, Radio; Miss Frances A. Letson, Junior Participation; Mrs. John A. Jennings, Speakers' Bureau; and Mrs. David A. Westcott, Club Extension.

Moving pictures of Club Birthday celebrations are desired, (25 to 50 feet, 16 millimeter camera). Jingles of not more than 12 lines are requested, these to be upon Massachusetts' participation in the General Federation Golden Jubilee. A ten dollar prize will be awarded for the best one. A trip to Atlantic City is to be awarded to a "Lucky Somebody." Details of all of which may be secured from Mrs. Fuller, or from the committee.

Community Centre Holds Christmas Dance

About one hundred pupils of the Community Centre of Newton Upper Falls met in the kindergarten rooms of the R. W. Emerson School on Tuesday, Dec. 19, for their annual Christmas party.

Mrs. Margaret Hills, instructor of dancing of the Playground Department, was in charge of the program, which was arranged for the combined classes of the Junior and Senior High School ages.

Mrs. Henry Gaffney of Newton Highlands and 6 year old daughter, Mary Ellen, rendered three piano duets.

Refreshments were served and there were gifts of candy. Dancing was enjoyed until 10 p. m. Mrs. Theresa Marshall, playground commissioner sent greetings.

Mrs. Ragna Hovgaard, general supervisor, was assisted by Mr. Jack Leary, boy's supervisor, with Buddy Reimer, a playground instructor. Other instructors assisting were Mrs. Sheila Parker, the Misses Margaret Cotter, Dorothy Hurley and Edna Morgan.

The Dramatic Club for the younger Group held their Christmas party in the Kindergarten Rooms from 3:30 to 4:30 p. m. on Wednesday, December 20. Games and stunts were followed by refreshments and the singing of carols.

The non-paying guests of Benny Generazio paid another visit to his lunch room and beer parlor over the week-end and stocked up with drinks and smokes for Christmas. Benny's place has been broken into so often during the past couple of years, that he has become rather bored. Doors and windows have been barricaded, but that has not discouraged or deterred the persistent visitors. Mr. Generazio closed his establishment after midnight Saturday and went there again on Monday morning about 8:30. The burglar or burglars had entered by breaking a kitchen window. They had taken two gallons of wine, one gallon of beer, one gallon of vinegar (they must have thought that was wine), 30 cigars, four cartons of cigarettes and 100 pennies. The police are still endeavoring to learn the identity of the regular raiders at Benny's Lunch Room.
